Hearings Held By Aldermen On Zoning Changes, And Gravel Pit

Oak Hill Residents Oppose Renewal of License Because Of Many Trucks and Narrow Streets

The Board of Aldermen met at City Hall for committee meetings at 5 o'clock Monday evening. After discussing several important matters and holding a number of hearings, the regular meeting of the Board was called to order at 8 o'clock by President Collins.

The first matter on the docket was a hearing on the petition of the Edison Company for five pole locations on Warwick road, West Newton. It seemed that most of the residents on this road were present to object to this petition. They stated that the poles are not necessary, that they injure the appearance of the street and that the attractive shade trees on the road will be damaged by the electric wires.

G. Howard Frost, owner of the Brae Burn Nurseries, appeared to petition for permits to erect a two-car garage in a dwelling which he desires to erect at 1341 Beacon street, and for a four-car garage at 1335 Beacon street. These buildings would be erected provided that the aldermen will grant permission to Mr. Frost to transfer his nursery business from its present location on Fuller street, Waban, to the new location on Beacon street. The location where the nurseries have been located for 25 years is being converted into a high-class residential district. Mr. Frost explained that the proposed structures will resemble attractive residences and can at any time be altered for such purposes. The grounds surrounding them would be carefully and attractively laid out.

Considerable opposition appeared against the petition of George H. Wilbur who asked for an extension of 5 years on the temporary permit he has had for the last two years to conduct a large gravel pit at Oak Hill, in a residential district. Charles S. Ensign appeared as attorney for the petitioner. Paul Sherwin of 311 Brookline street, Oak Hill, protested against the petition. He stated that 700 large trucks use this narrow, winding street daily. Several bad accidents have been caused by these fast travelling trucks and which speed at 30 miles an hour because their owners are paid by the quantity of sand and gravel they carry, and so try to make as many trips as possible.

Ralph King of 328 Brookline street said this street is restricted to single residences and the trucks menace the lives of children living in the district. Dr. W. A. Hutto of the staff of the New England Peabody Home for Crippled Children stated that the tremendous amount of truck traffic on Brookline street, plus the great noise caused by the heavy gravel trucks, disturb the comfort of the little patients. He called attention to the narrowness of the street and the many curves on it, asserted that many of the trucks reach speeds of 35 miles an hour and asked that trucking on this street be prohibited.

The petitioner, Mr. Wilbur, admitted that the trucking problem is a serious one. He said that his trucks are equipped with pneumatic tires and go for the most part over Baker street, toward West Roxbury. He contended that many of the trucks using Brookline street belong to contractors bringing trap rock from Roxbury. He told the aldermen he will be agreeable to any restrictions that may be placed on the trucking.

John F. Gallagher of Clarendon street asked for information regarding sidewalks which are to be constructed on that street. Alderman Murray informed him that it is proposed to build cement sidewalks on both sides of the street. Mr. Gallagher said that he opposes such sidewalks and believes that less expensive gravel walks will be satisfactory. Others from Clarendon street who agreed with Mr. Gallagher were Mrs. Rose Costello, Henry McDermott and John Konetzky.

James J. Coggeshall of 196 Windsor road, Waban, favored the petition asking that a sewer be constructed in that road. He said it is necessary from the standpoint of health. The petition was opposed by a representative of Charles Ziegler of 191 Windsor road who stated that the houses on the road were built with the plumbing in the rear because of cesspools having been used. To build a sewer to serve these houses will necessitate all the plumbing being relocated, involving a large expense to the owners. George B. Evans of 153 Windsor road stated that the cesspools are properly caring for the sewage disposition and that the cost of building a sewer and changing the plumbing would be tremendous. Others who opposed the petition were—Sadie P. Allen of 286 Windsor road and Orville Forte of 203 Windsor road.

James C. Irwin of the Newtonville Improvement Association and ex-Alderman Hubert Carter opposed the proposed amendment to the Zoning Ordinance which would change the present method of notifying by letter every owner of property in any area affected. Mr. Irwin said each property owner is entitled to a personal notice. Mr. Carter believes it is mandatory that every property owner is entitled to a personal notice. The aldermen will be severely criticised if zones are changed without due notice having been given to all owners of properties.

Later in the meeting when this matter came up for consideration by the Board, the changing was opposed by Aldermen Woodcock, Gordon and Ball. Alderman Gordon stated that while the proposed change will save considerable work for the City Clerk and some expense to the city, Newton can well afford to notify all individual property owners. City Solicitor Bartlett, answering a question, said that it is optional to notify either by newspaper advertisements, bulletin board notices or circular letters.

Alderman Grebenstein explained that the change will be but temporary, to make unnecessary the sending out again of thousands of notices on the proposed changes from general to private residence zones. All other changes of zones will be advertised as before, each property owner affected receiving a personal notice.

Alderman Powers said that the zoning change which will be effected by the proposed change in the ordinances, has already been given ample publicity. Thousands of personal notices concerning these proposed changes were sent to property owners in 1928 and again in 1929. A number of public hearings were held on this matter at City Hall and the sentiments of those interested are known. To go through this process again would be a needless repetition. ## Boston Cons. Gas Co. Has Annual Outing

Over Twenty-Five Hundred Enjoy Affair At Norumbega Park

The employees of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, with their wives and children numbering over 2500 people took possession of Norumbega Park Saturday, June 28, 1930, for their annual outing. Men, women, and children had a delightful time for the day enjoying the many activities that Norumbega Park offered.

The principal attraction of the sporting events was the baseball game between the two leading teams of the Gas Company League, which were Quincy and Newton. The Newton team winning the game by a score of 8-0. Gas Company talent provided a minstrel show with all that goes with it and played to a capacity crowd in the new Totem Pole Ballroom. A great deal of credit for the success of this show is due to Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Munroe who had charge of this performance.

Headquarters was set up on the athletic field, where a truck was equipped with loud speakers, and from the deep-throated voice of the announcer, Frank Hussey, told the employees of the Company just what was going on, where to go, how to enter field events, where to eat, and what to do. It was an excellently organized outing and the voice of the announcer followed the employees and their guests wherever they went.

At noon the loudspeaker directed the crowd to the platform where a box luncheon was served and in the afternoon the voice organized the athletic events and they were run off in time under the supervision of Fred Dunlap of Newton.

There were thirty athletic events. In the 100-yard dash for men, Dan Bradley was first; Donald Graham, second; Dan Brackett, third. Other winners included: Fifty-yard dash for women, Corrine MacLean of Newton; pig-back race for women, Stanis Jaquello; sack race for women, Annie Whitehouse; sack race for men, William I. Tesvove; novelty bag race for women, Anne V. Meehan; shoe hunt race for women, Anne L. Whitehouse.

All the attractions of the park were open and the children were permitted to utilize them almost as long as they wanted to. The little folks good time was in charge of Miss M. R. Maloney and Mrs. E. R. Catarius.

Four Boy Scouts from the Norumbega Council of Newton acted as messengers and did many other errands during the day. Their training and dependability was greatly appreciated and their prompt and efficient service for which the Boy Scouts are noted.

The Committee in charge of the outing executed their various duties in a very efficient manner and consisted of John J. Quinn, R. W. Menard, F. G. Howe, Jr., Fred Dunlap, F. B. Munroe, W. Hale, S. Bressman, George Ambrose, T. F. Smith, F. F. Capen, Ralph Arveson, Robert Sullivan, C. Howard, F. D. Cadwallader, Miss Pauline Rogers and Mrs. E. C. Catarius.

Fred Dunlap, who was in charge of the field and track events, listed the entries and distributed the prizes. Will Wright, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Munroe, managed the minstrel show, in which Woodbury Hale made a hit as interlocutor. The end men were P. Horgan, N. Gentile, J. Moore, M. Fleming, J. Sheehan, R. Maffeo, T. Nash, H. Moore, Rhoda Atkinson, J. Burne, E. Shaughnessy, and C. Connors. They were really funny. The songs, many of which were written by Mrs. Munroe, were executed by a chorus consisting of the Misses Katherine Maguire, Rutha Isaacson, Irene Sharkey, Goldie Lapin, Tillie Lou, Bunny McKelvey, Marlene Pynn, Muriel Tobey, Gladys Ryder, Priscilla Schroeder, Sally

To Open North Side Of Commonwealth Ave.

Aldermen Vote Restrictions As To Parking

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night several motions were passed affecting traffic on Commonwealth avenue. The north roadway of the avenue, which heretofore has been closed to vehicular traffic will be opened for west bound traffic from Manet road, at Chestnut Hill to the end of this roadway where it converges with the south roadway near Norumbega Park. Two way traffic will be permitted on the south roadway, as at present.

Parking on the south side of the north roadway will be prohibited. Parking on the north side of the north roadway will be prohibited from the Metropolitan Police Station at Auburndale to the western end of the roadway. Parking on the south roadway will be prohibited from the Weston bridge easterly to where the west end of Auburn street converges with Commonwealth avenue. Parking on the south side of Auburn street from Woodland road, westerly will be also forbidden. The parking restrictions at Auburndale are made necessary because of growing traffic hazards caused by increased parking at the sections affected. Free passage of automobiles has been obstructed and accidents have occurred.

Additional traffic signals will be installed to regulate traffic on the north roadway.

Protests have been received from many residents along the north roadway against opening this side of the avenue to traffic. Some of the objections stated they would not oppose the change provided the north roadway were widened and the street properly resurfaced to withstand the heavy traffic it must carry. Others contended that there is no need of opening the north side of the avenue, that the south roadway is not congested and that property values will depreciate on the north side of the avenue after traffic is permitted on it. However, Mayor Weeks believes that the time has come when conditions call for opening the north roadway, and the Board of Aldermen concurred with him.

WOMAN HURT IN CRASH

Elizabeth Byrne of Oak Hill road, Natick, was injured yesterday morning when the car she was driving collided with another car opposite 918 Commonwealth avenue and then crashed into an iron track. She received cuts and bruises on the face and body and was taken to the Newton Hospital. The other car in the collision was driven by George Jones and owned by Hovey Slayton of 1429 Commonwealth avenue.

Patrick, Mary Sullivan, Eleanor Kelley, Dorothy Brown, Edna McLean, Marcella Donovan, Rhoda Atkinson, Mildred Malk, Irene Stone, Marion Maloney, Ruth Hancock, Leona Davis, Ruth Robbins, Anna Maguire, Marion Burns, Aileen Macgahue, Margaret Lorden, Olga Whitworth, Ruth Peterson, Rose Shone, Helen Berglund, Lilian Herrick, Katherine Clark, Mildred Anderson.

The stunts of the olio proved that the Boston Consolidated Gas Company numbers among its members men and women of unusual specialty talent. During the afternoon and evening there was a band concert by the 65-piece Guardian Angel Band.

Newton Realtors Hold Annual Meeting

James W. Gibson Re-Elected Chairman of Newton Board

Newton Realtors comprising the Newton Board of the Boston Real Estate Exchange held their annual meeting last Tuesday afternoon in the Directors' Room of the Newton Trust Co. Chairman James W. Gibson presided.

Mr. Gibson outlined the accomplishments of the organization since its inception less than six months ago, and stated that it had already justified its existence in service to its members and to Newton real estate buyers and sellers. He emphasized the necessity for strict adherence by brokers to the Code of Ethics of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. According to Mr. Gibson, public confidence is deserved and attained in direct proportion to a broker's ability and desire to render high class, honest service. A Realtor, in order to be worthy of the name, should consider the interests of his clients above everything else. The chairman predicted steady increase in size and influence of the Newton Board, as its aims and accomplishments are more generally appreciated.

Officers for the year ending June 30, 1931, were elected. James W. Gibson was re-elected chairman by acclamation. For the ensuing year he is ex-officio a member of the Board of Directors of Boston Real Estate Exchange. Paul R. Tucker and Lincoln Alvord were re-elected Vice Chairman and Secretary-Treasurer, respectively.

HEAT OVERCOMES MAN

Merritt Chamberlain, 33, of 365 Main street, Everett, was overcome by the heat on Monday morning while working at a gasoline station at Border and Elm streets, West Newton. He was found unconscious on the floor of the station and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

MCDONALD GETS HEATING CONTRACT

The contract for making alterations of the heating plant at the Newton High School was awarded Monday by Mayor Weeks to the John McDonald Construction Company of this city. The bid was $17,630. This work will be done during the summer and will be completed when school opens next September.

Majority Of Aldermen Vote For Triangle Site For New City Hall

Sixteen To Four Vote After Considerable Discussion On West Newton Location

The proposed new City Hall of Newton will be built on the "triangle" bounded by Walnut and Homer streets and Commonwealth avenue. At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen last Monday night there was a meeting of the Board as a committee of the whole in executive session. All of the aldermen, except Alderman Floyd, sat in conference with the special committee on City Hall and discussed the matter. When the Board reassembled after a recess, taken to consider the City Hall site question, it was moved that the "triangle" site be the location of the new municipal capitol. The motion was carried by a vote of 16 to 4. The aldermen voting in the affirmative were—Ball, Collins, Gallagher, Gordon, Grebenstein, Harter, Hawkins, Holden, Jamieson, Mansfield, Murray, Powers, Pratt, Smith, Temperley and Woodcock. The aldermen voting in the negative were—Chandler, Chase, Bowen and Prior.

Alderman Bowen of West Newton called attention, before the vote was taken, that the advisory citizens committee on the City Hall site had recently voted, when in conference with the aldermanic committee, 7 to 6 in favor of building the new City Hall at West Newton. Chairman Gordon of the special committee on the new City Hall, while agreeing with Mr. Bowen that the majority of the citizens committee had favored the West Newton site, called attention to the fact that the personnel of this committee is the same as it was three years ago, except that the late Bernard Early of Newton Lower Falls was then a member. At that time the citizens committee had favored the West Newton site by a vote of 8 to 6, but the Special Committee of the Aldermen on the new City Hall had voted 6 to 1 for the triangle site, and the Board had voted 19 to 2 for this site.

Following the decision of the Board of Aldermen, made on July 25th, 1927 to build the new City Hall on the triangle location, the City of Newton seized by right of eminent domain most of the parcels of land contained in territory bordered by Walnut and Homer streets and Commonwealth avenue. These takings have already cost the city about $250,000. While considering the practicability of the triangle site for the proposed City Hall, a prominent engineering firm was engaged to make borings so that it could be determined how deep foundations must be sunk. It was estimated that a foundation on the triangle site would cost about $20,000 more than on the West Newton site.

During 1928 and 1929, apart from acquiring parcels of land at the triangle site, nothing definite was done towards going ahead with the building of the proposed new City Hall. But, several months ago, Mayor Weeks requested the Board of Aldermen to cooperate with him in asking the Legislature to give the City of Newton permission to borrow $750,000 outside the debt limit for the purpose of building a new City Hall. The aldermen acceded to the Mayor's request and the Legislature granted the necessary permission to enable the financing of the proposed new structure.

Then, agitation was started to have the new City Hall erected, not on the triangle site, but at West Newton where the present City Hall is located. This agitation was fermented by persons with real estate holdings in West Newton and by residents of West Newton who do not relish the idea of that village losing its prestige as the site of City Hall. Naturally, some of the officials and employees who work in City Hall, and who will have to travel a greater distance to and from their work, do not enthrone the prospect of the City Hall being moved from West Newton. It has been argued that the removal of City Hall from West Newton will cause an appreciable drop in real estate values in the business district of that village and that business men there will lose considerable trade. This latter contention is not taken seriously by persons conversant with conditions at West Newton as residents of other parts of the city who go on business to City Hall have not been observed doing any noticeable trading with stores in that district.

When the matter of a new City Hall was being discussed a few years ago the inclusion in the proposed structure of quarters for the Newton District Court was considered. Assuming that the court would be in the building, it was also proposed to have police headquarters there. However, the officials of Middlesex County, who control the affairs of the district court stipulated as a maximum rental figure which they would pay the city for quarters in the proposed new City Hall, an amount so low that the then Aldermanic committee decided it would not be for the interests of the city to make provisions for the court house in the municipal structure. The extra cost involved in providing room for the court house would not be nearly compensated for by the rental which the county officials are willing to pay.

A few months ago it was announced that Middlesex County officials had taken an option on a site of land fronting on Elm street, near Webster street and extending back to Cherry street. This site was to be used as the location of a new court house. Assuming that the county officials might close the deal for this property (it being reported that such action had been taken) the Aldermen have considered the feasibility of providing for new police headquarters at West Newton. It is understood, however, that final papers have not yet been passed between the owners of the Elm street property and the county officials. It is probable that wherever the court house will be built, the new police headquarters will be erected close by.

Following the decision on Monday night by the Aldermen of locating the new City Hall on the triangle it was also voted, at the request of the Mayor, to appropriate $5000 to provide for the engaging of an architect to design the proposed new structure.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

UPPER FALLS WINS TWO AND LOSES TWO

Newton Upper Falls maintained its hold on second place in the Hub twi-light league, winning two and losing two since last week. Hyde Park with two victories and one defeat in the only games it has been able to play off to a decision tops the local club but the former has played ten games less than Upper Falls.

Upper Falls shut out Somerville last Friday night at the Upper Falls playground, 5 to 0. Ryan's double with three men on in the sixth inning featured a four run rally to clinch the game after a lone tally to start the scoring had been chalked up in the fifth. Barr, local pitcher, was in good form, limiting the visitors to four hits, fanning four and passing but two.

A real ninth inning finish enabled Upper Falls to nose out Revere, 4 to 3, in a Sunday game at Upper Falls. Upper Falls started the last of the first inning by scoring two runs. Revere countered with a three-run rally in the fourth and from then on it was a pitchers' battle between Whitmore of Upper Falls and Walsh of Revere until the last of the ninth. With men on second and third "Swede" Johnson went to bat for Whitmore and crashed out a long single that brought in the base-runners with the tying and winning tallies. Although Revere outdid the Falls, eight to six, Whitmore had the better of the argument. He fanned eleven and passed four while Walsh struck out but three and issued seven passes. Pickett, Simpson and Bennett staged a double play to save Whitmore on one occasion and Simpson and Bennett made another twin killing later in the game.

Tuesday night the Mt. Hope team, of Roslindale, staged an upset by nosing out Upper Falls at Roslindale, 6 to 5. The winners trailed going into the last of the sixth, 2 to 5, but counted once in the sixth and three times in the seventh to bring home the bacon. Whalme was on the mound for the local club and was touched up for eight hits and four passes. He fanned six.

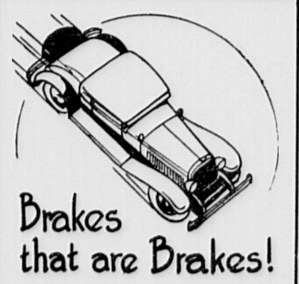

Wednesday night Upper Falls dropped its second straight game when a three-run rally in the seventh and final inning fell one shy of tying the count of Jamaica in their game at Upper Falls. Jamaica topped the local club 9 to 8. Upper Falls took a two run lead in the first innings but the visitors countered with four in the second. The home team swept into the lead again with three runs in the last of the second but Jamaica regained their one run margin with two more counters in the third. Meanwhile Kenney had been driven from the mound and was succeeded by Barr. For four frames Barr kept the visitors away while Upper Falls could not solve Strecker further. Going into the seventh with a 6 to 5 margin Jamaica again clinched the game with a three run spurge. Upper Falls tried in vain to knot the count but their attempt was one run shy.

Sunday the local team will meet Mt. Hope at the Upper Falls playground when they hope to avenge the defeat of Tuesday night.

 Boston's team in the Church Cup intercity tennis series was eliminated by the New York team last week Friday at Haverford, Penn. The Hub team, with two local youths as members, won two of the six singles matches and two of the three doubles matches. Henry L. Johnson, Jr., won his singles match over E. W. Feibleman, 7-5, 7-5, and teamed with his cousin, Malcolm Hill to win at doubles from Hall and Bowman, 6-3, 6-2 for two of the Boston team's four points. Hill lost to Bowman in singles 3-6, 1-6.

Hunnefeld Goes To Toledo
 Bill Hunnefeld, former Newton Athlete, has been traded to the Toledo Club of the American Association by the Chicago White Sox with whom he has been the past several years. Hunnefeld, a shortstop, and a pitcher were traded to the "Mudhens" for Gregory Mulvey, a 22-year old shortstop with a fine record and a promising future.

SPORT NOTES

Chosen On All-Prep Team

Frank Spain, former Newton high athlete and a three-sport athlete at Exeter academy, was chosen for the shortstop position on the All-prep school team for the season by Albert Woodlock of the Boston Globe. Everett Scheinfain, a three sport athlete at Bridgton the past year and another ex-Newton star, was selected for right field on the second team. Other local youths mentioned as having done good work were Spencer and Mille of Wentworth as a pitcher and first baseman; Bill Reilly of St. John's, a pitcher; and Robert Bennett of Exeter, a catcher. In picking Spain the Globe writer says "there were a number of first-class shortstops but none that ranked with Frank Spain, who captained Exeter the past season. His throwing and base-running were features. He will over Dartmouth in the fall. He won the Dana J. Wingate cup for being the best all-around athlete and most versatile member of the nine. Scheinfain, who played third base part of the season for Bridgton was also given honorable mention at that position.

Cronin Hitting .325
 Bill Cronin, local youth with the Boston Braves, has boosted his batting average to .325. He has been getting more chances to get into the game lately and is benefitting by the opportunity. His .325 mark was compiled in 16 games in which he went to bat 40 times, scored 6 runs, made 13 hits, three of which were two base blows and made one sacrifice. In the field he still vaunts a perfect fielding average with 36 putouts and 9 assists. In last Saturday's game at Cincinnati which the Reds won 5 to 4 Cronin was a prominent part in keeping the Braves in the game. The Hub team scored all of its four runs in the fourth inning. With two runs in, one out and a man on second Cronin doubled to keep the rally going. He tallied a minute later on the next batter's triple. In Monday's game at Pittsburgh it was the West Newton youth who started the rally that put the Braves in the lead in the eighth inning and allowed them to win, 6 to 5. The victory also enabled the Braves to jump into fifth place and put the Pirates below them in sixth place. Cronin singled to start the inning, took second on another single after one was out. A third single filled the bases and the fourth brought Cronin home with the tying run and Maguire, who by the way is a Newton Centre resident, with the winning marker. Cronin got into this game in the sixth when Al Spohrer was injured.

Millions Unemployed

What is the cause? Many reasons are given. One is—the consolidation of business into a comparatively few huge corporations with the resultant elimination of many thousands of small, independent business concerns, rapid reduction of the number of persons heretofore enjoying fair incomes and the concentration of wealth into the hands of comparatively few.

For your own prosperity trade at independently owned stores: keep money circulating in your own community.

We have long been convinced that Newton was one of the most beautiful cities in the Commonwealth if not in the whole United States. If additional evidence was needed on this line the past few weeks have given it in abundance. In all our years in this city we have never seen the flowers and shrubs as beautiful as they have been recently. The golden flame of the forsythia was followed by the white foam of the bridal wreath, the blue and yellow of the iris, the massed beauty of the rhododendrons and culminated this week in the gorgeous glow and fragrance of the roses. One cannot go a quarter of a mile in any direction and not see the floral beauty of the Garden City. By the way can any of our readers inform us where the title of "Garden City" was first used in connection with this city? Our claim to this title is disputed by Beverly and should be authenticated.

Let us hope that the celebration of our national holiday will be safe and sane.

Friends of President Hoover do not view with equanimity the advocacy of higher pensions by Senator Walsh. Republicans who voted for the Senator are now reaping what they sowed.

We dislike to impute mercenary motives to members of the United States Senate already under popular disfavor, and yet it is a fact that if President Hoover finds it necessary to call the Senate in special session, it will entail a large sum of money to pay the mileage due to each individual Senator.

ALDERMEN DECIDE ON SITE OF NEW CITY HALL

In conjunction with the building of a new City Hall at the triangle site, the city government three years ago also obtained authority from the Legislature to take the apex of the triangle, bounded by Homer street and Commonwealth avenue as the site for a War Memorial. There has been discussion whether, or not, this memorial should be a utilitarian structure or monumental.

Because of the activity of Mayor Weeks in having something definite done without further delay in constructing the City Hall and War Memorial, and as a result of the action of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, it is expected that in the near future work will be started at the triangle.

Recent Deaths

MARY E. MOORE

Mary E. Moore, widow of William Moore, who had been a New York lawyer and newspaper poet, died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Lake Ayer, 140 Prince street, West Newton, with whom she had made her home for about thirty years.

Mrs. Moore was born in New York city, the daughter of Captain Richard Burr of France, who sailed his own ships on the high seas, and Eleanor Caulfield of Virginia. Left fatherless at an early age she was put under the guardianship of Dexter Hawkins, famous lawyer in New York, and one of the men responsible for the bill for compulsory education in the United States. He sent his ward to a school in Maine, of which he was a preceptor, and later to Miss Lowell's school in Portland, Me. She also studied in New York. From the age of twelve on she spent much of her early life in traveling, crossing the Atlantic Ocean sixty-four times.

Mrs. Moore is survived by Mrs. Ayer and two sons, William Moore of Philadelphia and Leslie Moore of Mexico. Her late husband, besides practicing the law in New York, contributed verse to the religious columns of the Brooklyn Eagle, each week, for some time. During her married life in New York, Mrs. Moore and her husband were active in the interests of the St. John's Episcopal Church there. Mrs. Moore also wrote verse and prose for her own pleasure and that of her friends.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Newton is fortunate in having on the Board of Aldermen a man of the type of Richard Harte of Suffolk road, Chestnut Hill who is the representative from Precinct 3 of Ward 6. He has taken a great interest in his duties and has faithfully attended meetings of the Board and of the committees of which he is a member. He is a Vice President of the Stone & Webster Corporation and is an officer in other large corporations. Mr. Harte's attention to his duties as Alderman makes it necessary for him frequently to make hurried trips back to this city from considerable distances. In his college days he was a star end on the Harvard varsity football team and one of the best tennis players in college ranks.

The unauthorized use of the reservation between the north and south roadways of Commonwealth avenue by persons riding horses caused the Board of Aldermen on last Monday night to pass an ordinance forbidding vehicles to be operated or horses ridden over this reservation. According to the contract agreement between the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway and the City of Newton the abandoned tracks of the transportation corporation must be removed from this reservation whenever the Mayor so orders. Despite the presence of tracks and cross ties on this reservation equestrians have been endangering their lives by riding horses on it. Because of the many intersecting streets which cross Commonwealth avenue it would be impracticable to allow the use of the reservation for a bridal path after the tracks will have been removed.

Incidentally, the numerous large signs along the reservation advertising Norumbega Park are there in non-conformity with the city ordinances and will probably be ordered removed.

It is forbidden by law to discharge firearms or explosives on public streets without special permission. Such permission is generally given on the Fourth of July. But the law regarding the discharge of explosives of types supposed to be used only on July 4th has not been obeyed by young America in recent years. Until the past couple of years permits for the sale of fireworks were granted, to take effect a week or more before July 4th. As soon as the firecrackers, caps, torpedos and other noise-making devices were put on sale they would be set-off by many of the young purchasers.

"Boys will be boys," and liberal minded persons do not wish to curtail any reasonable enjoyment which can be had by youngsters. But, in this hectic age when so many things try the nerves of people, there are enough noises without the added distraction of constant explosions of firecrackers, torpedos and the like. Moreover, the growth of this city and other Boston suburbs has made neighborhoods so thickly settled, it is inevitable that in almost every section are persons suffering from illness, or invalids to whom the incessant noise of fireworks is quite harmful. Do parents of many children in this city consider these sufferers, and restrain their progeny from exploding firecrackers and similar contraptions on several days preceding July 4? They do not. Probably the result will be that in future years in this city instead of the sale of fireworks being permitted for three days preceding the "Fourth" the sale will be further restricted. Possibly legislation will be enacted that will prohibit the sale of fireworks in any city or town in this Commonwealth except on one or two days preceding July 4.

In the 19th century, when boys and youths had much less money to spend than have youngsters today, there was very little noise heard from fireworks before Independence Day actually arrived. And we got much more of a thrill when, after expectant waiting, the first big salvo of horse-pistols ushered in the national holiday as midnight arrived on the "night before."

LEGION AWARDS

The annual American Legion school awards, sponsored by the national organization, through local Posts, have been announced by Post Commander Donald M. Hill, chairman of the Newton Legion committee. These awards are made annually to the boy and girl, chosen by their fellow-students, with the approval of their teachers, as outstanding. The pupils of 8th grades, or the equivalent, are eligible.

The Newton winners are as follows: Deborah Wing and Franklin Rich, Bigelow school; Dorothy Kerrigan and John Cooper, Emerson school; Louise Kerr and Renfield Bamphre, Hyde school and Helen Cookson and Joseph Clement, Mason school.

The awards are based on five factors, namely, honor, courage, scholarship, leadership and service, each counting 20 per cent toward the awards. The winners are chosen by others in the class, with the approval of the teacher.

In behalf of Newton Post 48, American Legion, Chairman Hill, at a recent meeting of the Post, presented the winners with large bronze medals, suitably inscribed. The boys and girls were also presented with buttons or pins, bearing a replica of the medal.

This year but four schools submitted the names of their outstanding pupils. In some instances, school authorities were tardy in making their selections. The school award program will be followed out again next year when it is hoped that every school in the city, having 8th grades, will select their outstanding pupils for this distinction.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE—NEWTON

Beginning Sunday, July 6th the Paramount Theatre will have Bert Wheeler and Robt. Woolsey in "The Cuckoos"—the fastest running comedy since "Rio Rita" with a big cast. Director Paul Sloane had many beautiful sets built. Dorothy Lee executes clever specialty dances and Marguerite Padula sings colorful gypsy songs. Mitchell Lewis, as a gypsy chief, instills drama into the plot with his diabolical plans.

June Clyde, as the niece of the wealthy John Howard, is kidnapped by gypsies. Hugh Trevor plays her sweetheart. Wheeler and Woolsey appear as fortune tellers who use their psychic powers to locate the "gal." Their efforts along this line are the last word in comedy.

On the same program will be Claudette Colbert and Norman Foster with Charles Ruggles in "Young Man from Manhattan." This was one of the most widely read and discussed novels of the year.

For the last half of the week, Fannie Hurst's great story "Lummox" will be the feature attraction, with Ramon Novarro in "Gay Madrid" as the co-feature. The Edw. Allen Organ Club has become a fixture at the Paramount and the kiddies flock into the cool theatre and sing and enjoy the entertainment which this organ novelty affords them.

GARBER COMING TO TOTEM POLE BALLROOM

Popularity of dance orchestras may come and go, but Jan Garber's seems to go on forever. Proof of this is the eager anticipation shown toward the appearance of the peppery little director and his Columbia recording orchestra at the new Totem Pole ballroom, Norumbega Park, where Garber brings his rollicking aggregation Monday for one week only.

This crack band is known all over the United States for its entertainment specialties and musical personality. Local dance lovers can look forward not only to the latest dance rhythms and up-to-the-minute syncopation, but also to a "bag full" of tricks which never fail to delight dance crowds. Garber excels in recapturing the modernistic brand of music.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

The hospital family has been very much interested lately in watching the development of a friendship between a grey cat and a squirrel. The cat and squirrel seem to enjoy each other's company very much indeed, and are frequently seen together around the hospital grounds.
Miss Nell A. Hostetter, R.N., Superintendent of Nurses, left the hospital on July first to spend her vacation in Maine.
Dr. Donald W. Leonard and Dr. Cedric B. Hedolin completed their terms of service as house officers on July first. They are succeeded by Dr. Egon E. Kattwinkel and Dr. Edgar Miller Holmes, both graduates of Harvard Medical School. Dr. Leonard plans to enter private practice in Exeter, New Hampshire, and Dr. Hedolin goes to the Boston City Hospital for experience in Nose and Throat work.
Beginning with the first of July the services will be in charge of the following men: Surgical, Dr. E. D. Leonard and Dr. D. G. Nutter; Medical, Dr. H. F. Keever and Dr. F. A. Keever.
On June 22nd the number of patients in the house had dropped to 169. Of this number 64 paid as much as cost of care, or more, 61 paid less than cost of care, and 44, including babies, were treated free of charge. 13 babies were born, 7 girls and 11 boys. 144 visits were made to the outpatient department. 5 calls were made by the social worker, and 5 patients were transported by the social service car. 24 patients were admitted to the accident ward.
It is interesting to note that of the 24 accidents cases treated during the past week 9 were the results of automobile accidents, and 7 were the results of falls. The 9 patients treated following automobile accidents were as follows: 4 women, one with an abrasion of her leg, one with a laceration of her leg, one with an abrasion of both knees, and one with a bruised forehead and an abrasion of her knee. Three men were treated: 1 for a laceration over his eye and lacerations of both legs, one for a scalp laceration, and one for injuries to his arm and head. Two were boys, one with a fractured leg, and one with no apparent injury. Those treated for injuries caused by falls were as follows: Three women, one with a fractured arm, one with a fractured shoulder, and the third with a sprained shoulder. Two were boys, one with a fractured wrist, and one with a laceration of his leg. Two were men, one with a sprained ankle, and one with a fractured ankle. ### SEVERAL HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

A car driven by Leo Gagnon of 78 Daily street, Newton, collided on Friday last opposite 158 Pearl street, Newton with a car driven by Mrs. John Mulcahy as the latter vehicle was being driven towards the driveway at that address where Mrs. Mulcahy resides. Mrs. Mulcahy's baby, and her mother Mrs. Michael Roche were shaken up in the crash and John Rousseau of 219 Pearl street, Newton, who was riding on Gagnon's car was badly bruised. Rousseau was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.
Alois Keutel of 7 Shawmut park, Newton Upper Falls was injured on Sunday at Middleboro when the car he was driving was hit by a car operated by Mrs. Bertha Curley of 311 Forest Hills street, Jamaica Plain. Kreutel's mother, 77 years old, was killed and his father, Hugo Kreutel, injured. The aged couple resided at Meadows street, Dedham and were on their way to Cape Cod to celebrate their 54th wedding anniversary. The Curley woman was arrested charged with driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. According to the police she cut out of line in the heavy traffic twice and the second time hit the Kreutel car.

BUILDING COMMISSIONER REPORTS ON COLLAPSE OF OLD STABLE

The following is a report issued by Commissioner Chadwick of the Public Buildings Department on the collapse of a two story building at the rear of 49 Elmwood street, Newton, on May 24th:
On the afternoon of May 26th, 1930, an accident occurred at the building rear of No. 49 Elm street, Newton Corner, Mass., owned by the J. R. Estabrook Estate, 49 Tanager street, Arlington Heights, Mass. The building was erected in 1874, two stories in height and was used for both storing of automobiles and painting of autos. A certain portion of the second floor fell to the first floor carrying a portion of the roof with it and pushing out a side wall. On the second floor at the time were five autos which were carried with the collapsed floor to the first floor entirely wrecking them. It was found that apparently no repairs were made to the building on the first floor at the time of the accident. It was reported that two men were on the second floor and made their escape through a door to another building.
Immediately following the accident investigation as to its cause and to the proper disposition of the building was made by the Public Buildings Commissioner. The owner was ordered to make a certain portion of the wall safe and to rope off the building so that spectators and others would not be in danger of falling parts of the building.
The following day, May 27th, the Public Buildings Commissioner, after complete inspection of the building by inspectors from his department and himself, condemned the entire structure and ordered it razed.

On May 28th a permit was granted to a building wrecking concern for razing the building. Work was started immediately. Continual inspection by the Building Inspectors was made during the razing of the building for the purpose of determining the cause of the accident. It was found that the owner had removed certain sections of the first floor which was of wood frame, and was filling in the space up to the floor level with fill intending to put on a concrete floor in place of the wooden floor. It is possible, in the removing of the wooden joists on the first floor, that the columns carrying the second floor were left without lateral support, and as the cause of the collapse of the building was by the failure of one of these columns, it is assumed that the direct cause was on account of the work being carried on in the building towards replacing of a floor by the owner. The work being done on the structure by the owner without obtaining a permit from the Buildings Department.

MORE TELEPHONE WIRES

The telephone company has started the work of placing additional aerial and underground cables in the territory adjacent to Centre and Boylston streets in the Center Newton exchange and extending from the central office to the Newton-Wellesley line.
To cover the cost of the work the executive committee of the company recently authorized the expenditure of $62,000.

The work includes the placing of 38,300 feet of aerial cables containing from 100 to 800 wires, and 15,690 feet of underground cables containing from 100 to 2400 wires.
There will be removed 120,000 feet of open wire, 16,900 feet of underground cables containing from 30 to 360 wires and 7,875 feet of aerial cables containing 30 to 240 wires.

The additional cable will be placed in a residential area where there is a high class building development and the telephone company anticipates that the building activities will continue for a long time. The additional telephone facilities will take care of the telephone development in this area for a considerable period of time.

MEETING OF ALDERMEN

The ordinances were then amended by a vote of 16 to 4. Those voting in the negative were Aldermen Chase, Gordon, Mansfield and Woodcock.
Referring to the proposal to appropriate $10,000 as an addition for this year to the insurance fund of the city, Alderman Hall stated that the Mayor intends to recommend a like amount each year until a fund will have been totalling which should care for any emergencies resulting from probable loss by fire through the burning of city owned buildings.
Appropriations made by the aldermen included—Dorby brook drain at Nonantum, $4225; Jackson street drain, $3175; Desmond brook drain at Newton Highlands, $1895; improving Grant street under Betterment Law, $1673; widening and improving Washington street between Auburn street and Commonwealth avenue, $15,240; widening Washington street between Commonwealth avenue and Woodland street, $1750; widening Greenwood street, $409; water mains in Cloyvelly road and other streets, $2200; Street Department for sewers and drains, to be taken from tax levy, $100,000; pension for ex-Chief of Police Burke, $1031.
The appointment of William J. Doherty as Registrar of Voters for three years was confirmed. The next meeting of the Board was set for August 4.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

"Over the Pole with Byrd" is the subject of the thrilling motion picture describing Byrd's North Pole flight, to be shown at the Children's Museum of Boston on Sunday, July 6, at 3:30. The subject is of timely interest in view of Byrd's spectacular flight over the South Pole and his achievements in the Antarctic, for which he is now being showered with the praise of the world.
About thirty enthusiastic youngsters went on the first field trip of the season last Tuesday, which lasted all day, and had as its object the study of birds in Hammond's Woods, Chestnut Hill. Horace Taylor, well known Cambridge naturalist and lecturer, accompanied the children, and assisted Miss Sawyer and Miss Neu of the Museum Staff in giving the children vivid close-ups of bird life. On Wednesday, a discussion meeting took place at ten o'clock at the Museum, when the findings of the previous day were analyzed.
Next Tuesday, July 8, the field trippers will go to Pine Ridge, Dedham, to study flowers.
Over 100 books from the library of Robert Sayles, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Sayles of Hammond street, Chestnut Hill, have been added to the Museum library. These are books to delight the heart of any boy, and girls too.
Mr. Albert F. Bigelow, president of the Museum Board of Trustees, has presented the Reading Room with several books, including "Pheasants, their Lives and Homes," two volumes, by William Beebe, "Galapagos: World's End," by Beebe, "Ends of the Earth" by Roy Chapman Andrews, and "In the Land of the Lion" by Cherry Kearton. So, all in all, the Museum is rich just now in worth while reading matter.

SUMMER SCHOOL OF MUSIC

The opening of the fortieth annual session of The American Institute of Normal Methods on July 9th at Lasell Seminary, Auburndale, will inaugurate a series of lectures open to Newton students and lovers of music. These will be given at 11:40 every week-day morning except Saturday. The program of the graduating exercises on July 29th will be devoted largely to the commemoration of the Tercentenary of the Massachusetts Bay Colony.
In this program the chorus and orchestra will be conducted by Francis Findlay, head of the Public School Music Department of the New England Conservatory of Music. Another feature of the session will be a course in folk dancing, conducted by the Boston Branch of the English Folk Dance Society.
In the daily lectures, Dr. James Mursell of Lawrence College, Appleton, Wisconsin, will speak on "The Teaching of Rhythm," "The Teaching of Technique," and "The Teaching of Expression." Dr. Edward Howard Griggs will discuss "Beauty and the Culture of the Spirit." Dr. John P. Marshall, Dean of the College of Music, Boston University, will lecture three times on "The Modern Idiom in Music"; Dr. Francis L. ### SAFETY CAMPAIGN

The Newton playgrounds join this week with those of 24 cities and towns of Eastern Massachusetts in a Tercentenary summer safety campaign, under the auspices of the Massachusetts Safety Council.
Two thousand children will receive the first of four issues of the Playground Safety News, with the beginning of a series of Tercentenary safety stories, all historically correct, but said to contain some surprising information on what the early settlers didn't know about safety.

The Massachusetts Safety Council, in a statement issued this week, refers to Newton as a model playground city, and urges tourists who may be interested in the highway problem as it relates to children to visit a playground here while in the city.

Newton Gold Star Mothers On Pilgrimage To Soldier Sons' Graves

Last of Five Newton Ladies Sailed on S. S. President Harding This Week

On board the S.S. President Harding, which sailed from New York at noon on Wednesday with one of the units of American Gold Star mothers are three Newton Gold Star mothers on a pilgrimage to France to visit the graves of their sons who made the supreme sacrifice in the World War. Although there are over seventy gold star mothers in Newton but five of those whose sons are buried in cemeteries abroad desired or were able to accept the invitation of the government to make the trip. Since the early part of May units of American Gold Star mothers have been crossing the Atlantic each week. The last unit this year will cross early in September and during the summer of 1931 the remainder of those who are eligible and wish to make the pilgrimage will be taken.

Mrs. Celine Jasnet of 45 Jasset street, Nonantum, was the first Newton gold star mother to go. She was with the third unit which sailed on the S.S. George Washington on May 21st and returned early in June. Her son, Ernest L. Jasset, a private in Battery B, 7th Field Artillery, 1st Division, was killed on May 31, 1918, in action north of Broys, France. A posthumous citation was awarded for his gallantry in action and for especially meritorious service.

Mrs. Mary A. Fisher of 1198 Chestnut street, Newton Upper Falls, sailed ten days ago and is now in France, where she will visit the cemetery where her son, Wallace Fisher, rests. He was with the Headquarters Company of the 35th Field Artillery, 77th Division, when killed in action on September 5, 1918.

Ald. Harte Entertains Other Aldermen

Take Motor Boat Trip to Nahant Summer Home

Alderman Richard Harte was host yesterday to his fellow members on the Board at his summer home in Nahant. Mayor Weeks was represented by his secretary, James Dempsey, and City Clerk Grant was also a guest. Fifteen members of the Board were included in the party which left Boston at 1:15 on Mr. Harte's motorboat "Pronto." Following lunch games were indulged in. In the quito contest the tournament narrowed down to the semi-finals with Aldermen Harte, Holden, Prior and Woodcock showing their skill. The latter two competed in the finals and Alderman Woodcock was the victor. The training the Newtonville alderman gained as a star baseball pitcher at Brown and in the National League still gives him accuracy in pitching quito.

Alderman Temperley showed his skill as a diver in the swimming pool and Alderman Hawkins proved the most proficient in the broncho-bucking contest, managing to remain longest on the rubber horse in the pool.

CAMP FRANK A. DAY

A very unusual display of fireworks were shown at Camp Frank A. Day on the evening of July 4th. The boys all chipped in money for this display and with the help of parents and friends of Camp, a goodly sum was realized. Mr. Ralph Rhodes, of the firm of the Rhodes Fireworks Company, himself a lover of boys, saw to it that the money was spent to the best possible advantage, and added a number of things that were not on the original list.

The display included forty-five aerial bombs, illuminated wheels, cascade fountains, set pieces showing the American Flag, the good ship Arabella, Felix the cat, Jiggs, Niagara Falls, and last but not least a picture of Mr. Clyde G. Hess, Camp Director. Mr. R. T. Anderson has for many years shot off the display of fireworks at Camp Day, and this service which he has rendered to the Campers and their parents has been much appreciated.

Good Boys Books for the Campers to read are much desired for the Camp Library. These books could either be mailed to Camp Frank A. Day, East Brookfield, or left at the Newton Y. M. C. A.

LIGHTING HITS TWO NEWTON HOUSES

The severe lightning storm last Sunday evening hit two houses in this city. A bolt hit the roof of the dwelling at 111 Gibbs street, Newton Centre, occupied by Herbert I. Ordway and started a blaze which ruined the upper part of the house causing considerable damage.

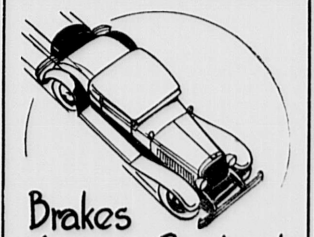

Another bolt hit a window frame in the house at 204 Grove street, Auburndale, occupied by Maurice Walsh. A curtain was ignited but the firemen from Hose 5 extinguished this fire before much damage resulted.

So heavy was the rainfall that a number of streets in the city were flooded, including Craft street, where a small pond formed near the lumber yard.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN THIS DISTRICT

One of the duties of the enumerators recently employed in taking the census was to find out, or endeavor to find out, how many persons able to work and looking for a job were not employed. Figures obtained from some of the cities and towns in this district are interesting. These figures, in the belief of many, do not show correctly the total number of unemployed.

According to the census returns Ashland had 36 unemployed, Bellingham 110, Dover 8, Franklin 256, Medford 15, Mills 16, Needham 145, Natick 161, Newton 874, Plainville 19, Sherborn 12, Waltham 922, Wellesley 84, Weston 7, Holliston 52.

Endeavoring To Get Work For Local Men

Difficulty Encountered In Placing Men On City Projects

Mayor Weeks and Buildings Commissioner Chadwick have been endeavoring to obtain work for Newton men on the building projects being done for the city. On the new junior high school at Newton Centre the contractor, Mr. O'Connor has co-operated freely and seven out of the ten carpenters so far employed on this job are Newton men. Of the three outside men, two are regular members of Mr. O'Connor's personnel. The contractor on this job is not a Newton man.

Difficulty has been encountered on this job in putting local men to work as laborers as the representative of the Laborers Union of Boston has insisted that only union men be employed on the work and the unemployed men in Newton, willing to work as laborers must pay $50 to join the union.

On the job at the high school grandstand on Wednesday only one out of twelve carpenters was a Newton man and six out of eighteen laborers. The contractor on this job, Mr. Macomber, is a resident of this city. Complaints are being made to the Mayor by local men who have been unable to obtain work on this project.

APPOINTED WAR MOTHERS ASSOC. ORGANIZER

Mrs. Corabelle Francis of Pembroke street, Newton, former president of American Legion Auxiliary of Newton Post, has been named State Organizer for Massachusetts of the American War Mothers Association by the National President of that body, Mrs. Virgil McClure of Lexington, Ky. Officers of both the Boston and Massachusetts chapters will be elected and installed. Mrs. William H. Poole, State President of the Rhode Island War Mothers Association will address the meeting and act as installing officer. Officers and members of the Gloucester and Worcester chapters will be present.

Ernest DeKalb of 315 Lowell avenue, Newtonville, of the Reserve Officers corps is on duty there for two weeks. There are 954 boys from northern New England at the camp.

ROTARY CLUB

Plumbers' Strike Is Still Unsettled

Majority Of Master Plumbers Refuse To Concede Demands

The strike of the journeymen plumbers in this city, started on June 1st is still unsettled. The men went on strike when their demands for a five day week and an increase in wages from $11 to $12 a day was refused by the members of the Master Plumbers Association of this city. The local point of the strike was the new bath house at Crystal Lake, Newton Highlands which was being constructed by the city. The plumbing work on this job was being done by B. M. Thomas of Newton and subsequent to the calling of the plumbers strike, all the workmen on the bath house quit when it was alleged that some plumbing work on this building had been performed by non-union men. Mr. Thomas was ordered by the Buildings Commissioner to complete the work on the bath house and he yielded to the demands of the union men.

During the past two weeks several other master plumbers have granted the demands of the union but about three-quarters of the Master Plumbers Association, which has 24 members, have refused to concede the increased wages and are operating open shops. Shortly after the strike was declared a compromise offer of $11.50 per day was presented by the Master Plumbers and refused. Two weeks ago the employers asked the strikers to submit the matter to arbitration by Mayor Weeks or someone to be selected by him. The union turned down this suggestion and took the stand that the strikers would not deal with the Master Plumbers Association as a body, but would negotiate with each employer separately.

PROTESTS AGAINST HEAVY TRUCKS

A complaint has been received by the Board of Aldermen from James H. Goddard of Vine street, Oak Hill. This is a narrow, winding street, at places only 13 feet wide. According to Mr. Goddard, for the past several weeks there has been a continual procession of heavy trucks through this street, most of the trucks going to and from the Highland Sand and Gravel Company pit at Oak Hill. Mr. Goddard contends that his children's lives are endangered by the truck traffic on the narrow street and asks that the heavy vehicles be barred from this road.

NEWTON CENTRE BOYS AT CAMP

Among the boys who will spend a vacation at Camp Kaskela, Long Lake, Harrison, Maine are Henry Stephenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Stephenson of 72 Crofton road; Harvard Hersey Crabtree, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Harvard Hersey Crabtree of 129 Beacon street; George and Douglas Henry, sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Henry of 281 Homer street; Marshall G. Henry, son of Mrs. C. M. Henry of 181 Pleasant street; Peter Fay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry S. Fay of 550 Ward street and Lee, Ray and Teddy Goodman, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Goodman of 199 Ward street.

INJURED IN MAINE COLLISION

James Dyson of 984 Beacon street, Newton Centre, was severely injured on July 3rd, near Biddeford, Maine, when the car he was driving was in collision with a car driven by Raymond Harnish of Madison, Maine. He received two fractured ribs. His wife received cuts and bruises on her head. They were treated at the Webber Hospital in Biddeford.

Annual Outing of Businessmen Will Be Held Next Week

Ex-Mayor Childs to Be Master of Ceremonies At Lake Pearl Field Day

The seventeenth annual outing of the Newton Business Associates scheduled for next week Wednesday afternoon, July 16th, at Lake Pearl, Wrentham, Mass., has every indication of being the best affair of its kind ever held by the present organization or its predecessors. The committee in charge has planned well and carefully and has received the acceptance of Ex-Mayor Edwin O. Childs to their invitation to act as master of ceremonies and toastmaster at the banquet which will close the outing in worthy fashion.

Several members of the committee made a trip to Lake Pearl this week to look over the facilities offered at this resort and returned enthusiastic over the outlook. Their report includes a baseball field far superior to those encountered on recent outings, groves of maple and pine trees to shade those attending from the blistering rays of the sun on a hot day, a beach and diving board in close proximity to the ball field, a banquet hall with every facility, and a dancing pavilion where those who wish may remain and trip the light fantastic.

With all these advantages the 1930 outing needs only good weather and the attendance of every businessman and merchant in Newton to make it an unsurpassed success. If you have not obtained your ticket do so at once. The Newton Business Associates is composed of more than a hundred business and professional men having as their object the advancement of the business and civic interests of the Newton Corner section of the city. Anyone, however, is welcome to attend the annual outing and already a number of businessmen from other parts of the city have signified their intention of being on hand.

The auto parade of the Associates, headed by Newton Motorcycle police, will leave the corner of Centre and Richardson streets, Newton Corner at 12:30 p. m. At the city line it is planned to have State police meet the parade and escort it to the picnic grounds at Lake Pearl.

A box lunch will be served immediately on arrival at the lake and then a long list of sports, athletic and aquatic events will be run off. The athletic events include sack races, shoe races, three-legged races, nail driving contests, etc. The aquatic events will include swimming races, tilting contests from canoes, and the like. Of especial interest will be a ball game between a team composed of employees of the Newton Trust Co. and a nine composed of Newton Corner businessmen. George L. White will captain the Bankers outfit and Hugh S. Boyd the merchants. Both teams are practicing evenings in preparation for the game.

The field day will be concluded with a banquet in the pavilion. Talent has been engaged to furnish entertainment during the meal. Many prizes for the various athletic events of the afternoon have been contributed and will be presented by Mr. Childs during the course of the evening. A few of the prizes are on exhibition in a window of the Moore and Moore hardware store.

MAN KILLED AT CHESTNUT HILL

William T. Brady, 58, of 38 Falmouth street, Boston, employed as a gardener on the Liggett estate was killed Monday evening while crossing Commonwealth avenue near Lake street by a car driven by John Shork of 7 Fairbanks street, Brighton. Shork was learning to drive and was accompanied by John Lapinsky, 16, of Lawrence who had a temporary license. Brady was carried 47 feet by the car which then collided with an automobile driven by Benjamin Weisblatt of Sylvan avenue, West Newton. The victim's body was badly crushed.

A front tire on a car driven by Alfred Cameron, Jr., of 104 Adams avenue, West Newton, blew out as the car was on Randolph avenue, Milton, on Tuesday afternoon. Cameron's car collided with a car driven by Morris Gordon of Roxbury. Cameron, Gordon and two girls named Schoolman who were riding in Gordon's car received slight injuries and were taken to the Milton Hospital.

THE VALUE OF SOUND DESIGN

New Ford engine gives outstanding acceleration, speed and power without sacrificing reliability or economy

THE good performance of the Ford car, so apparent on every highway, is due largely to the sound mechanical design of the engine.

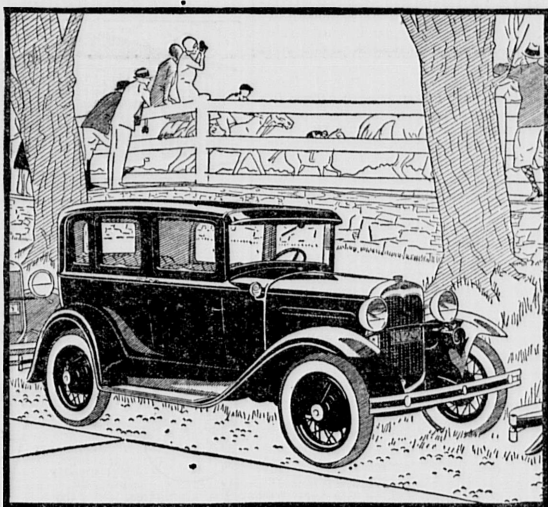

It has outstanding acceleration, speed and power, yet that is only part of its value to you. Greater still is the fact that it brings you all these features without sacrificing either reliability or economy.

That is the reason the Ford car has given such satisfactory service to millions of motorists all over the world and has been chosen by so many large companies that keep accurate cost figures. In every detail of construction it has been carefully planned and made for the work it has to do.

The design of the compression chamber is an important factor in the efficiency of the Ford engine. It is built to allow free passage of gases through the valves and to thoroughly mix the fuel by producing turbulence within the cylinders during compression. The spark thus flashes quickly through the whole fuel charge, resulting in quieter and more effective engine performance. Other factors are the direct gravity gasoline feed, the specially designed carburetor, the new hot-spot manifold, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves of larger diameter, statically and dynamically balanced crankshaft and flywheel, the simplicity of the electrical, cooling, lubrication, and fuel systems and accuracy in manufacturing.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The Middlesex & Boston Street Railway has been removing some of its iron poles along Washington street. These poles were formerly used to support the trolley wires which furnished the current to the electric cars. According to the contract between the city and the Middlesex & Boston, the poles were supposed to be removed when the company ceased to operate the trolley cars.

Coach "Bill" Haines of the Tech rowing crews, who resides on Maple street, Newton, can rest on his laurels this summer. Coach Haines has a comparatively small number of candidates to select from at Tech, and because of the demands which the severe course of study imposes on the young men at M. I. T., the oarsmen there have less time in which to practice than have the crews at other colleges.

It was the common belief that the Tech crew would be very much in the rear at the finish of the big rowing regatta on the Hudson. They surprised the wisecracks. Not only did "Bill" Haines' pupils set a merry pace for the first two miles, but they finished third, beating the much touted Pacific Coast giant crews and the highly praised eights of the Navy and Columbia.

Automobile accidents killed 31,000 persons in this country last year. Progress in medical science, improved sanitation in cities, towns and homes throughout this country have greatly reduced deaths from diseases, but the number of victims of those who drive recklessly and with unnecessary haste, of those who mix booze and gasoline—grows apace. All the Safety Drives which are continually being conducted throughout this broad land avail little or nothing while the automobiles are being manufactured, sold and operated which go faster than automobiles formerly could travel.

All the laws enacted to curb reckless and drunken driving, and protect the public, are of little avail while the practice of "fixing" cases for autoists caught breaking such laws continues to be tolerated. A child or an aged person killed by some "speeder" who happens to have a drag with some influential citizen or politician, is just as dead as the victim of the autoist who has no influence and has to take the legal punishment. The drunken driver who crashes into another car and causes fatalities may be a "good fellow," but those he kills were also "good fellows" and entitled to live their lives without being slaughtered because someone didn't stop with one or two drinks. But guzzled too much booze and then attempted to operate a car. Until the laws are enforced impartially and offenders with influence are punished, even as offenders without influence are punished, the slaughter will increase.

We were told recently of a resident of this city who was driving his car in Cambridge, accompanied by his family, when a taxi was driven rapidly out of a side street and crashed into the Newton man's car. The Newton resident's automobile was totally wrecked. His mother-in-law died from the injuries she received. One of his children received a broken hip and may be permanently affected. His wife was severely injured and spent weeks in the hospital. Although the driver of the taxi was found guilty of reckless operating and sentenced to two months in jail, the license of the Newton man was revoked.

To add to the misfortunes of the local man, it was found that the taxi which was involved in the collision carried no liability insurance. Because of non-payment of premiums the insurance on the taxi had been revoked some weeks before the accident, but the registration plates had not been surrendered and the automobile man responsible for the death of one person, the crippling of another, severe injuries to still another and a heavy property loss, received but two months in jail.

It is alleged that on highways in this State are hundreds of uninsured cars. Cars on which the insurance has been revoked and the plates not returned to the Registry of Motor Vehicles, as ordered. Why would not the practical way to prevent such a condition be to have local police departments act in co-operation with the Registry of Motor Vehicles, and when an order is issued to have automobile number plates surrendered, have a policeman go to the address and seize the plates. Another evil that should be eliminated is the registering of automobiles under false pretenses. It is alleged that persons whose registrations have been revoked have obtained other registrations by giving assumed names. By co-operation with local authorities it would be easy to check up on all applicants for automobile registrations or licenses, and thus prevent persons disqualified from operating automobiles continuing to be on the public highways.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

There are five things in life which we ought to learn. Here they are:

1. Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine. When you smile or laugh, your brain for a moment is freed from the load it ordinarily carries.
2. Learn to tell a helpful story. A well-told story is as welcome as a sunbeam in a sick room.
3. Learn to keep your troubles to yourself. The world is too busy to linger over your ills and sorrows.
4. Learn to stop croaking. If you cannot see any good in the world, keep the bad to yourself.
5. Learn to greet your friends with a smile. They carry too many frowns in their own hearts to be bothered with any of yours.—(California Odd Fellow.)

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM FIELD GROUP IN HAMMOND'S WOODS

A hummingbird's nest on a hemlock tree (of all places for such a nest!), three tree toads, and a rare orchid plant! One might hunt months for these elusive things and never find them, but the Olmstead Naturalists of the Children's Museum of Boston, a group of twenty-five or thirty children interested in nature, found them all in Hammond's Woods, Chestnut Hill, on their first field trip of the summer. Little Joseph Greenberg, of Jamaica Plain, discovered the hummingbird's nest, and nobody would believe him at first. "But it is just like the one in the Museum," Joseph insisted. So Miss Neum and Miss Sawyer of the Museum Staff investigated, and there it was. You see, hummingbirds do not usually build their nests in hemlock trees. Where do they build them? Something for you to find out. Incidentally, there is a beautiful collection of hummingbirds from South America in the Museum. Have you seen them?

Pine Ridge, Dedham, was the scene of this week's field trip for the Olmstead Naturalists. The children visited the animal cemetery first, and then scattered along the banks of the Charles and the neighboring woods and fields.

Next week the children go on Tuesday to Blue Hill to study reptiles. They hope to bring home a nice wriggly snake for the "live Museum."

The Museum is open daily from 9 to 5 all summer, including Sundays, 1.30 to 5. Admission is free. A dinosaur folder telling about the Museum and its work will be sent to anyone interested on application to Miss Mildred E. Manter, Director.

AND THIS IS BOSTON!

"And This Is Boston" is the title of a book recently published of which Miss Eleanor Early of Wellesley Hills, daughter of the late James Early and a niece of the late Rep. Bernard Early of Lower Falls, is the author. It is well-written in a wise, witty readable manner—a guide book of Boston, full of useful information and carefully adapted to the needs of the modern traveler. Bits of history refresh the memory, lively anecdotes of long ago are of interest and like a good companion it tells one where to rest when tired and where to eat when hungry. "And This Is Boston" is the ideal companion not only for the tourist but for the native who doesn't know all that he should about the city and who is wondering how to entertain his guests. Chapters on Marblehead and Salem, Gloucester and Cape Ann, Cambridge, Lexington and Concord, Harvard and Sudbury, Plymouth and the South Shore, Nantucket and the Cape, and a closing chapter of odds and ends make this book worthy of a place on your book shelf. It is published by the Houghton Mifflin Co. and is $1.50 per copy.

One important factor in the present day controversy over prohibition is the attitude towards law enforcement by the thousands of young men and women who have become voters since the prohibition amendment was enacted. These young people have only a dim, if any, idea of conditions which existed before 1920 and consequently are impressed with the arguments of the wets that each state should handle the problem in its own way. With the arrogance of youth, these young people assume that they know it all and fail to understand that the liquor problem is centuries old and has taxed the brains of the wisest men and women for many years.

Local option seems a reasonable way to settle the matter but if these young people could only realize the conditions which existed right here in Newton twenty years ago, it would open their eyes and give them a different angle on the situation. Newton has never had a liquor saloon during the past fifty years but with Boston always voting wet, it was a simple matter to flood this city with liquors of all kinds. Trains and street cars were filled with drunken loafers which reached the highest point of nastiness on Saturday nights. If this was the case twenty years ago between wet and dry municipalities, how much worse would be the situation in these days of automobiles and air craft, if the liquor problem was in the hands of the various states.

Newton is well represented in the officials of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Henry I. Harriman is president, Messrs. Edwin C. Johnson, Victor M. Cutter and Mayor Sinclair Weeks are vice presidents and Mr. M. D. Liming is secretary.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Comedy, Drama and Tragedy will be on the versified program at the Paramount Theatre next week, beginning Sunday when "The Case of Sergeant Grischka" will be the outstanding feature. It is an almost literal translation into film of Arnold Zweig's devastating novel of war. With Chester Morris in the title role, Brenon builds his drama around this central figure of a common man caught in the relentless machinery of war. It is a story which moves swiftly, brings down its points with terrific effect yet never loses the human qualities which must motivate all great drama.

Knitted closely into the story of Grischka's clash with the war machine is his romance with the girl outlaw leader, Babka, played by Betty Compson. Jean Herschell plays the radical officer, Posnanski; Alec B. Francis, the kindly general, Von Lyehow; Gustav Von Seyffertitz, the iron-handed commandant of Eastern forces, Schiefelshahn.

On the same program will be seen Polly Moran and Marie Dressler in a laugh festival "Caught Short" a hilarious story written around the slump in the stock market.

For the last half of the week, Warner Oland will be seen in "The New Adventures of Dr. Fu Manchu"—really a continuation of the story of Dr. Fu Manchu which was seen at this theatre a few months ago. Dorothy MacKail will also be seen in "Strictly Modern," a society drama that the lady patrons will surely enjoy seeing.

As a novelty the Paramount Theatre will run the first four days a feature of short duration "Too Many Pounds" or how to get rid of excess flesh in a scientific way without the use of injurious drugs.

The Children's Organ Club every Wednesday is growing rapidly and many mothers are coming with the children and have endorsed it to the limit.

Expressions in meaning

The wipers "fatally wounded" and "mortally wounded" are commonly used to express the same thing, but mortally is regarded by some as meaning suffering death at the time of, or soon after, the wounding, while fatally wounded conveys the idea that death followed after a considerable lapse of time.

AN APPRECIATION

It is hard to write, while the heart is filled with regret, of a friend removed from us, by the hand of death, at a time when it was least expected. It is harder still when we recall those fine traits of character as exemplified in a life of usefulness as a good citizen, as well as in his devotion to his wife and his family and in his kindness and thoughtfulness towards his neighbors. Such was Mr. Lawrence Callaghan, formerly of Haverhill but lately a resident of Newton, who died on Saturday, the twenty-eighth day of June, last. His modesty and retiring nature hid, from many, a kindly heart and a real charity towards all.

During the years that I have known him, and they are many, I was always impressed by his manliness, his virtues and his love of his fellowman. He was never on parade. What service he did to or towards others, was done quietly and with a sincerity none could question. He was above all a Christian gentleman. Devoted to his Church, he gave, with his own consent and desire, two of his daughters to a religious life. These young women surrendered the things of the world the better to do the work of Almighty God. In addition to his daughters in religion, he is survived by his devoted wife, a son and another daughter whose delight it was to contribute to his happiness as he contributed to their comfort and well-being.

I am sure that the echo of Mr. Callaghan's many good deeds, and blameless life will long continue in the memory of those who had the pleasure of knowing him. He served God faithfully here, may he enjoy Him eternally in the life he has just entered.

PATRICK O'LOUGHLIN.

Curiosity's Uses

Curiosity came into the world when the first man looked at the stars or had the original primordial stomach ache. It is the first sign that the lately born child is something more than an impersonal scrap of appetite. It can survive the adventures of youth and the disillusion of later years and give old age enough to do to keep it out of mischief and misery. It deserves a good word even though it needs none.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

During the past week the daily average patients was 162. Of this number 59 paid as much as cost of care, or more, 60 paid less than cost of care, and 43 patients were treated free. There were 14 babies born; nine boys and five girls. 174 visits were made to the out-patient department. 5 calls were made by the social worker, and 3 patients were transported by the social service car. There were 22 accident cases treated.

Of the 22 emergency cases admitted to the accident ward 11 of them were men. One man was treated for exhaustion. Two men had injuries to the eye; one was struck in the eye by a spike and the other injury was caused by a blow received in a fight. Four men were hurt in automobile accidents, and one received lacerations of fingers of right hand when he was at work on a truck. One man was cut by broken glass when he drove his car into a pole; another was treated for a fractured nose and shoulder, and a laceration over the left eye; one was hurt when the motorcycle on which he was riding was struck by a car. He was treated for abrasions and a fracture of the right leg. While diving off of a diving board one man cut his foot on a nail. One man received lacerations, compound fracture and dislocations of fingers of the right hand when he caught it in a saw. As a result of a fall over a chair at home, one man was treated for a fractured leg. 5 children and 6 women were treated in the accident ward. One boy got dirt in his eye while playing on the beach, and another swallowed a closed safety pin which lodged in his stomach. Another boy was treated for an infected toe on left foot. As a result of a fall from a second story piazza, another was treated for a laceration of finger and forehead, and a fracture of the index finger on left hand; one for fracture of both bones in the left forearm, and one for a laceration of the chin. All six of the women were hurt in automobile accidents. One was treated for bruises of elbows and legs, one for concussion of the brain and bruises, one for laceration of chin, left ear, and right knee, one for two fractured ribs, and another for lacerations of right arm and injury to neck.

The monthly record for June was as follows: There were 491 patients admitted to the hospital, and 177 were treated in the x-ray department and as out-patients in the accident ward. 324 patients were discharged. The daily average of 181.13 was a great deal higher than for the month of May, and on June 3, there were 206 patients in the hospital. This is the largest number of patients for any one day in the history of the hospital. On June 29 there were 150 patients in the house; this being the smallest number for the month. 63 babies were born; 32 boys and 31 girls. 277 operations were performed; 56 of these were major operations, 47 minor, and 174 were nose and throat operations. 268 patients were admitted to the x-ray department. 559 visits were made to the out-patient department, and there were 33 social service calls made at the hospital, and 22 made at homes. Two people very kindly loaned their cars so that patients could be transported, and 11 people were transported by the social service car.

Earthquakes

The occurrence of earthquakes depends on strains set up by changes in elevation and other slow earth movements. There are more such actively moving regions in Europe and Asia than in the United States, hence more quakes. The details as to why certain regions are in this state of change, and others are not, are not fully known.

"Northern Lights"

The aurora borealis is a luminous phenomenon seen usually at night in the northern latitudes. It consists for the most part of long, slender beams of light of various colors, which form an arc in the heavens. Scientists believe that the aurora borealis is the result of electrical discharge through the upper regions of the atmosphere, though under conditions not yet entirely understood.

Criminalistic Term

A confirmed criminal is called a recidivist. In the United States the term is also applied to a person serving a second term in prison.

Living Dredge

The hippopotamus tears up and eats the great plants and weeds that grow in rivers, thus acting as one of nature's great dredges.

World Easily Forgets

Those It Called Great

When Jane Austen was left in charge of her sister's garden, she wrote after some weeks: "I will not say my mulberry trees are dead, but I am afraid that they are not alive." Something of the same sort might be said of the contemporary reputation of George Sand, names Elizabeth Drew in her "Letters of George Sand." It is the fate of pioneers for freedom to be forgotten when liberties have been won; it is the fate of "best sellers" to be ephemeral; and it was as a pioneer in the cause of the emancipation of women and as a writer of some of the most popular novels of her age, that George Sand made her reputation. In her own day her ideas and her work were as well known as her affairs of the heart. Nowadays no one reads her novels or bothers about her ideas, while her sole claim to popular fame is the number of her lovers, and the stories of her much-discussed liaisons with Alfred de Musset and with Chopin.

Exactness Carried to ### Extremes by Japanese

The Japanese people are great imitators. A certain Frenchman, visiting in Japan, had his dress suit ruined by a mishap on the part of a waiter at a dinner. What was to be done? They advised the European to order another dress suit from a Japanese tailor, giving the suit that had been ruined as a model.

"Your suit will be exactly reproduced," they told him. "You will not even have to try it on."

At the end of some days the Japanese tailor brought the finished work. "This grease stain has given me a great deal of trouble to reproduce," said he, "and that is why I must charge you a trifle higher than what I usually ask."

There the stain was on the new suit, exactly like the original stain on the ruined suit.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Warmth of Brickwork

The bureau of standards says that there are so many types of brick, brick and tile and frame construction that no general statement as to which is warmer will apply to all. In addition to differences in type of wall, differences in workmanship may be important. If complete descriptions of two types of wall are given, it is possible in most cases to calculate from tests which have been made which of the two should be warmer. The heat losses through roof, doors and windows, however, reduced the proportionate effect of the walls themselves to such a considerable extent that there are no large differences in the amounts of fuel required to heat well constructed houses of ordinary types which differ only in wall construction.

Spilled Ink

No matter how careful one may be with ink, some of it is bound to find its way at one time or another to clothes. It should be removed as soon as possible.

If the spots are still wet at the time of treatment, first press the affected parts firmly between two sheets of blotting paper, then, with a pad of soft rag, rub a little of the juice from a fresh, raw tomato into them, beginning at the outside of each spot and working with a circular movement toward the center. Allow the juice to remain on the material for a few minutes, then wash the whole article or garment in the usual way. Should any traces of ink remain, repeat the process.

Pipe Organ's Main Parts

The three principal parts of a pipe organ are the wind supply, the pipe work and the action. The action includes all the mechanism controlling the actual playing of the bellows. The wind supply consists of bellows that pump air into wind boxes on which the pipes rest. The admittance of air into these pipes produces the various sounds. The large modern organs contain many thousands of pipes, the largest being as much as 35 feet high and 18 inches in diameter. The display pipes of an organ are usually only a very small part of the whole pipe system; in some cases dummy or sham pipes are used in the display.

Daddy's First Name

Virginia, age six, who had just started to school, responded eagerly to all questions. When she was asked her father's name, she promptly answered, "Mr. Brown."

"No," said the teacher, "I mean your daddy's first name." The little girl wrinkled her forehead in a puzzled frown, "Why, I don't know." "You don't know; but what does your mother call him?" Then the little girl seemed relieved. "Why, my mamma calls him 'Dear.'"

Holland's Canals

The inland canals of Holland are almost as thickly populated as the waterways of China. Thousands of Dutch families live and die upon canal boats. Babies are born upon them, and many people never have any other home. On a typical canal boat the freight cargo is carried in front, and the owner and his family live in the stern. In winter the boats are frozen tightly in the canals, but in summer they constantly move about from place to place.

Recent Deaths

The funeral services for Mary E. Moore, widow of Mr. Moore, who died July 3rd, were held the afternoon of July 3rd at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry L. Ayer, 140 Prince street, West Newton.

Rev. Percival M. Wood, rector of the Church of the Messiah, Auburn-dale, officiated. The services were simple. A poem, "An Epitome of Life," written by Mrs. Moore, Armistice night, her birthday, was read, as was a poem by her husband, Mr. Moore, which had been published in The Brooklyn Eagle many years before he contracted a poem for years, heading the Religious column of that paper.

The services closed by the reading of the lines in her farewell letter to her children.

Chance Discoveries by Favorites of Fortune

Every one has heard of Carrara marble. In 1929 a party of English tourists exploring the mountains of Carrara found a dirty block of marble which had evidently fallen from a cliff overhead. One of the visitors, who had some knowledge of geology, noticed that this stone had a pink tint that was unusual. The sample was taken to England, where it was found to be a new variety. A quarry was opened and proved profitable. Two women, Mrs. Wilson and Miss Spencer, were crossing the Mojave desert, in southern California, looking for gold. They were not successful, and one night, feeling discouraged, camped on the bank of a small creek and lit a fire to cook their supper. The fire began to throw out dark, ill-smelling smoke, so that it was impossible to go near it or cook on it, and the poor, tired women were forced to collect more fuel and light a fresh fire. In the middle of the night Mrs. Wilson sprang up suddenly. "I know what it is!" she cried. "What on earth are you talking about?" demanded the other woman. "Asphalt," was the answer; and she was right. That find proved much more valuable than a gold mine, for a thick deposit of asphalt covered acres and made the fortune of many others besides its discoverers.

Claim Napoleon Sought

Inspiration in Bathtub
Napoleon Bonaparte was fond of taking baths, warm baths from which steam arose to envelop his head. There in the privacy of his bath plans for campaigns came to him, his mind was cleared of other things and whenever he had a mental problem to master he would seek his thought-inspiring baths.

The tubs the French conqueror used in his campaigns were crude affairs compared to those of today. They were quite appropriate for Bonaparte, small and round. He had more than one of these tubs and he used them before Jena, Wagram, Austerlitz, Leipzig. Before Waterloo he had several of these baths, hot baths that would have scalded an ordinary person. It is known that he stopped three times on the way to the battle from Paris to bathe. His baths were highly scented of eau de Cologne, and before he would enter the tub he would sprinkle the liquid liberally over his body.

A Luxury

For several hours the lonely passenger had been waiting at a branch line station for the day's one train. When at last it steamed in, he saw that it consisted of an engine and two coaches, both very dilapidated. Choosing the less soiled one of the two, he got in.

After a further long delay the train started. It had no sooner done so than an aged conductor entered the coach. He glanced at the single passenger's ticket. Then he sniffed.

"Extra fare," he announced.
"Why?"
"This is a first-class car," said the collector, sniffing again. "One of them windows at 'tether end opens.'"
Weekly Scotsman.

The Verdict

One of the theaters advertised for new songs, and invited applicants to present their works and sing them over in the presence of the manager and musical director.

Mr. Bibbs, who fancied himself as a genius, composed a ditty and presented himself at the theater.

The song was commonplace, without rhythm or tunelessness, and the musical director put his hands to his ears as the songster shrieked it.

"What do I get for that?" said the minstrel, with an ingratiating smile, as he finished.

"I'm a musical director—not a magistrate," was the reply.—Toronto Globe.

Couldn't Deceive Her

"Mr. M'Ilheny," she gasped, as she gazed down upon him with scorn, "you are a donkey!"

Macalister M'Ilheny recoiled until he was almost sitting on the floor. "A donkey?" he murmured helplessly, as if he failed to comprehend. "A donkey? Do my ears deceive me?" She laughed with strident harshness. "Well," she responded, "I don't know whether they do or not, but I can tell you right here that they don't deceive me one particle."—Montreal Family Herald.

No Man Stands Alone

In this world a person can do nothing alone, except die; apart from that act everything that is done in the world requires the spirit of co-operation. Men say sometimes that they are self-made; but no man ever was self-made, and none ever will be, down to the last minute of time. Find a man who can truthfully say, "I never had a friend," and you will have found one who has encumbered the earth as long as he has been upon it.—James J. Davis in Moose Magazine.

Reducing?

Biddy, age seven, was much interested in her baby sister's growth. Her mother told her that she had weighed the baby that day and she weighed eleven pounds.
Biddy understood her to say seven pounds, at which she exclaimed in dismay: "Oh, the baby is ungrowing isn't she?"

Recent Weddings

SVIRSKY—SPENCER

The Rev. John Daboll of Brookline officiated at the marriage last Tuesday evening of Miss Helen Gertrude Spencer, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Spencer of 84 Walker street, Newtonville, to Mr. Leon Svirsky, son of Mrs. Marie B. Svirsky of New York City, at the home of the bride's parents. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, had as her only attendant, Miss Genevieve Griffin, a college classmate, of Winsted, Conn.

The best man was Mr. Howard W. Gourlie of Thompsonville, Conn., a college classmate of the groom. Owing to the simplicity of the wedding there was only one usher, Richard A. Spencer, the younger brother of the bride. The gown worn by the bride was of flowered net over pink flat crepe and her corsage was larkspur and pink roses. The maid of honor wore a figured chiffon and carried a bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath.

Mr. Svirsky is a graduate of the Hartford High School and of Yale College in the class of 1927 where he was a classmate of the bride's brother, Robert V. Spencer, Jr. He is on the staff of the New York World. His bride is an alumna of the Newton High School and was graduated from Wellesley College in June. She chose for her wedding march Pump and Circumstance, a favorite with Wellesley brides. Mrs. Frank E. Morris presided at the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Svirsky will be at home at 15 Crown street, Brooklyn, N. Y., after August 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Hodgins will spend their wedding trip in Europe and on their return will reside at 211 East Thirty-fifth street, New York City.

The bride is a graduate of Smith College, Class of 1924, and has since been on the staff of the Technology Review at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. ### The Best Brain A Forlorn Farm Hope Half of Dull 1930 Gone Free Your Emotions

Readers of the Spectator, intellectual British publication, select George Bernard Shaw as "possessor of the best brain in the country."

Against 214 votes for Shaw, Lloyd George gets fifty votes, an amusing revelation of brain quality among Spectator readers. But for Lloyd George, William Hohenzollern would probably be dictator of the British Empire now, and one of his sons might be living in Buckingham Palace.

Lloyd George financed the war, provided ammunition, and as Prime Minister took charge of the war. He and old Clemenceau won it, while Shaw wrote funny things about it.

Mr. Legge, of the Farm Board, says organization is the farmers' only hope. Mere organization, without application of modern industrial methods, would be a forlorn hope.

Organizing ten thousand little wheelwright shops would not produce a modern automobile industry. You need a new system of production.

Mr. Legge should investigate Russia's one-million-acre farm, for mass production, and, on his return, question closely the Montana farm expert, now on his way to advise the Russian Government.

The half year of 1930 is ended, with no conspicuous signs of industrial or other improvement.

The number of unemployed is estimated at 6,000,000, greater than in any other nation.

However, President Hoover's various commissions find bright spots, here and there. And there is comfort in knowing that when you get to the bottom of the hill, the road must go up. The extraordinary thing is that our best minds, so well supplied with solemn wisdom in prosperity, have not the vaguest idea as to what is the matter with us.

The learned Dr. W. J. Mayo, earth's greatest surgeon, able to remove anything you have, except your citizenship and your complexes, warns you that restraining your emotions is bad for your heart. Every time your mind interferes to check your instinctive impulses, the heart suffers. That will encourage modern young people, increasing their expectation of long life. When you suddenly jam on your four wheel brakes, your tires suffer. So with your heart, when you suddenly apply your will and control the emotions, which are your driving force.

Captain Saul of the Southern Cross can testify to man's progress in transportation. As navigator of the Southern Cross he flew the Atlantic in two days.

Some years ago he made his first Atlantic crossing in a square rigged sailing vessel, and was six months on the journey.

In spite of that, many still doubt that ocean air travel will ever "become practical."

Children of today will ask about "the old days, when people crossed the ocean on the water," as they now ask about stage coach days.

And those now living will cross to Europe for about $10.

Some, disturbed by depressed business, may find comfort in news that our "best" people, are happy and gay as ever.

More of them are in Europe this year than last, more of them at desirable United States resorts, especially Bar Harbor and Newport.

All this you learn from the Social Register, of New York, the real one, not the imitation registers organized "to supply exclusiveness to the masses."

Washington says Secretary Mellon will devote his vacation to teaching banking and corporation management to his son, Paul, back from a post-graduate course at Cambridge.

An attentive son can learn more from his father than from a thousand professors put together, if his father KNOWS. And Mr. Mellon does know.

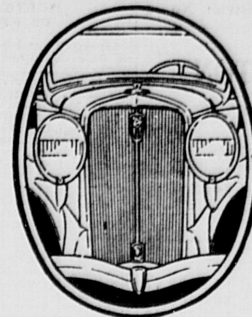

In a grave in Westminster Abbey a father and son lie side by side, Pitt, who kept Napoleon out of England, and his father, the Earl of Chatham. Pitt, a delicate boy, was taught in youth by his father, and, later, studied statesmanship at his father's dinner table, listening to Chatham and other older men. He entered the House of Commons and was Chancellor of the Exchequer at twenty-two, and Prime Minister at twenty-three.

Automobile companies report sales greatly diminished in June.

This means that many Americans are making a serious mistake. Efficiency and rapid motion go together. You wouldn't think much of a bird that decided to economize by doing without wings. Better do without something else.

An automobile, wisely bought, used and cared for, is not an extravagance for any man. It is a necessary part of modern equipment, and to do without it is the worst kind of "false economy."

free wheeling is here!

STUDEBAKER, Builder of Champions, presents improved, enlarged, more powerful editions of seasoned Eights—the world champion President, the world famous Commander—plus free wheeling.

Free wheeling is a triumph of that same Studebaker progressiveness that pioneered the popular priced Eight—seasoned it and proved it to the satisfaction of over 100,000 owners. Today the whole industry is following the Eight trend that Studebaker inaugurated three years ago.

A New Experience

Prepare to drive the most unfettered, yet most obedient car in the world—a car that literally floats along, in gear and fully controlled, yet free and silent as though there were no gears!

You shift with silence and safety from high to second, back and forth, at any speed—forty, fifty miles an hour—and never touch the clutch!

The instant you lift your foot from the throttle, no matter how swiftly you may be traveling, your engine drops to idling speed—with no forcing of the engine by car momentum—with no sensation of "piling up".

You know, of course, that Studebaker Eights hold many world records for speed and endurance and more American stock car records than all other makes combined. But the increased power of the great Studebaker Eight engines which drive these new cars is a revelation.

Save Money, Too

With free wheeling, you save 12% on gasoline, 20% on oil—and the heavier traffic the greater the saving. Carbon is reduced. The terrific reversal strains thrown on rear axle, clutch and transmission of an ordinary car are utterly unknown.

You are ready for any emergency of road or traffic on the instant. No sudden grabbing of the new Duo Servo brakes—no swerving. Instead, a smooth and reassuring drop in speed—swift as your need dictates.

Your steering gear rights itself after a turn—automatically the car swings to "straight ahead". Your car, floating at each spring-end on oil-sealed ball bearings, rides friction-free.

Enviably in Appearance

All the new delights of free wheeling are yours as the crowning achievement of Studebaker's 78 years of manufacturing integrity. They are yours in new bodies, utterly bewitching in eye appeal. Visit the nearest Studebaker salesroom. Drive one of the New Series Studebaker President or Commander Eights. Get a first hand experience with free wheeling. We promise you the thrill of your life!

Shift from high to second at Forty... Fifty miles per hour and never touch the clutch!

Saves 12% on gas, 20% on oil—even more in heavy traffic... Reduces carbon, lessens strain on engine and transmission

You don't have to touch the clutch except to start or back up

Your car momentum never forces your engine—no sensation of "piling up" when you decelerate... You literally glide along

Your car is surprisingly quiet in every speed... uncannily silent when you're free wheeling

You are safer because you have absolute control of your car... You can shift at any speed... There is less hazard of skidding!

POLICE NEWS

Philip Pintabona of 87 Underwood park, West Newton was in the Newton court on July 3rd, charged with threatening bodily harm on a neighbor. Mrs. Florence M. Curley. He was also charged with indecent speech and behavior. His case was continued to July 10.

In the Newton court on July 3rd, Bernardo Corsi of 233 Palfrey street, Watertown was fined $10 for speeding. Fred Majulfin of 197 Charles street, Waltham was also fined $10 for speeding. Malcolm Blanchard, 16, of Brookline was charged with driving without a license and driving with a muffler cut out open. He was placed on probation for 60 days.

A small monkey, the pet of F. D. Rankin of 59 Commonwealth park West, Newton Centre, escaped Sunday and proceeded to the home of P. H. Slamin at 895 Commonwealth avenue and climbed to the roof of the house. The police were notified and Motor-cycle Officers Hammill and Murphy went to capture the monkey. This was comparatively easy because the little animal had descended to the ground by the time the police arrived and was caught and taken to headquarters by the officers. After entertaining the police for a few hours he was claimed by his owner when the latter discovered the whereabouts of his pet.

Several proprietors of markets in this city appeared in the Newton court on Monday to answer charges of having displayed decaying fish for sale. The complainant was Inspector William Sullivan of the State Department of Public Health. Those fined $10 were Joseph Burg whose market is at 22 Lincoln street, Newton Highlands and Alexander Blinder who runs a market at 250 Washington street, Newton. The Economy Grocery Store of 1357 Washington street, West Newton was given a suspended fine of $25. James McElvie of 140 Auburndale avenue, West Newton was fined $100 in the Newton court on Monday when found guilty of driving while under the influence of liquor.

JUNE BUILDING REPORT

The report of the Public Buildings Department for June shows that 98 permits for work on buildings were issued during the month. Of these 30 were for single dwellings with an estimated value of $325,300; 1 for a double dwelling with an estimated value of $10,000; 16 for garages and 43 for alterations on buildings. One permit was for the new junior high school at Newton Centre, estimated to cost $500,000; another permit was for the new stadium at the high school athletic field, to cost $51,800. The estimated value of the buildings for which permits were granted during June, excluding the two being built by the city of Newton, was $482,767. Including the structures being erected by the city, the valuation of the work done on 535 permits issued for the first six months of this year is $2,840,643. For the corresponding period last year 746 permits were granted, valued at $4,397,477. In the first six months of 1928, 782 permits were granted, and the estimated valuation was $5,068,411.

ANOTHER PETITION BY KLIGMAN

Jacob Kligman of 456 Watertown street, Newtonville has been petitioning Newton Boards of Aldermen for so many years that it seems to have become a habit. After having been turned down consistently on petitions for a junk license, Kligman started several years ago to petition for a public garage and a gasoline filling station. Unsuccessful in these attempts, Kligman's son, Reuben, became a candidate last year for Alderman and conducted his campaign on the contention that favoritism was being shown in the granting of permits in this city.

Several months ago Kligman was granted his long sought permit to erect and conduct a public garage and filling station at 456 Watertown street. The garage was to occupy the space which had been used as a junk yard. At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen, Kligman again presented another new petition. Now, he does not want to build the garage. The latest petition calls for only a filling station.

Osler Merely Jocular

in Famous Suggestion

Sir William Osler was born at Bondhead, Ontario, Canada, on July 12, 1840, and died at Oxford, England, on December 29, 1919. He was educated at Trinity college, Toronto, and at McGill university, Montreal, and also studied medicine at London, Leipzig and Vienna. From 1889 to 1904 he was professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins university. It is not true that he said a man should be chloroformed at 60. In a farewell address to his students in Baltimore in February, 1905, he spoke of two fixed ideas that he had, the first being the comparative uselessness of men about 40 years of age, the second being the uselessness of men above 60 years of age and the incalculable benefit it would be if men stopped work at this age. He added, in a jocular way: "Whether Anthony Trollope's suggestion of a college and chloroform should be carried out or not I have become a little dubious, as my own time is getting so short." Much publicity was given to this remark, without it being made clear just under what circumstances he had uttered it.

Mementoes of Famous

Scotchman in Museum

James Watt, the famous mechanician, inventor and civil engineer, was born at Greenock, Scotland, in 1736, and died in Birmingham, England in 1819. It is not generally known that the contents of his garret workshop are in the Science museum at South Kensington. The garret was used by Watt in his house in Birmingham, and was shut up for thirty years after his death. Various descriptions of the opening of the garret, in 1853, are given in a pamphlet issued by the museum. Samuel Smiles, who was one of the party, recorded that "The ashes of the last fire were in the grate, the last bit of coal was in the scuttle. . . . Many objects lay about or in the drawers, indicating the pursuits which had been interrupted by death. . . . On the shelves are minerals and chemicals in pots and jars, on which the dust of nearly half a century has settled. The moist substances have long since dried up, the putty has been turned to stone and the paste to dust. On the shelf we came across a dish in which lies a bunch of withered grapes."

Mathematical Dog

The story of a retriever dog that could do mathematics was told by Dr. William Moodie, of Islington, England, to the National Council for Mental Hygiene. "His master," said Doctor Moodie, "was a mathematician, and used to take a delight in asking the dog a simple question in arithmetic. It would answer by barking the requisite number of times. The dog would tell you what was the square root of nine, what two and three made, and so on. This mathematician had no idea himself how he gave the dog the signal, and observers who watched him carefully could see no signal given. The dog gazed intently into his master's face and never failed to bark the requisite number of times."

Bird Facts Learned

Evidence that the California condor, largest of flying birds, once ranged well to the east of its present habitat in California, has been found in Conkling cavern, N. M., the celebrated bone cave where human remains were discovered associated with fossils of extinct camel, ground sloth and other strange animals. One wing bone was identified as that of a California condor by Dr. Hildegrade Howard, of the Los Angeles museum, whither the bones from the cavern have been removed. In all, the cave yielded about 100 bones of birds.

Victory

Four-year-old Dorothy is still having difficulties with the English language. The word "handkerchief" is one she constantly evades, insisting on using the shorter and much simpler word "mo."

One evening when her parents were entertaining company, Dorothy's synonym for handkerchief was the topic of discussion. Dorothy, who was well aware of this and wished to appear grown up, interrupted: "Mother, I ain't gonna say 'mo' no more; I'm gonna say 'hankerfish.'"

Not for General Public

The general public cannot draw books from the Library of Congress. This privilege is limited to congressmen, persons in public office and a certain few engaged in special research work. There is, however, a system of interlibrary loans, whereby individuals requiring a book that cannot be ordinarily secured can obtain it from the Library of Congress by arrangement with the librarian of their own public library. Such books cannot be taken to the home of the borrower, but must be consulted in the public library.

Country and Town Speech

"The speech of the old, especially the country-bred, is still full of meat, but that of the young townsman is a very thin brew, with a kind of cheap cinema slang as its chief ingredient. Lord Chesterfield, who was of the opinion that a national proverb was not becoming to the conversation of a man of breeding, may sleep peacefully in his grave."—Ernest Weekly's "Proverbs Considered" in the Atlantic Monthly

DISPUTE OVER FENCES

A neighborhood dispute at West Newton has resulted in the construction of two fences on Elm court, a narrow alley off River street. One fence, 3½ feet high and 55 feet long was erected by Mrs. Catherine Grinley of 109 River street. Another fence 5 feet high and 100 feet long has been erected by Mrs. Mary Welch of 4 Elm court. This fence parallels the Grinley fence and is only a few inches distant. Mrs. Grinley alleges the latter fence shuts out the view of her house and as a result she is unable to rent the tenement in the house. She has engaged an attorney in an endeavor to have this fence removed. Mrs. Welch contends that the high fence was necessary in order to keep the children of Mrs. Grinley and the latter's tenants off the Welch property. She asserts that Mrs. Grinley has no rights in Elm court and that the high fence has been approved by the Fence Viewers.

State Officials Cannot Remedy Charles River Nuisance

Result of Investigations Made By The State Department of Health

After a couple of weeks exhaustive investigation of the nuisance caused by extremely low water in the Charles River the officials of the Metropolitan District Commission and the State Health Department have given the information that they can do nothing. From Newton Lower Falls through Ansburghdale to the Moody street dam at Waltham, the level of the water in the river has been so lowered for a number of weeks that huge areas of mud flats have been exposed to threaten the health of several communities and ruin the most attractive section of the river for pleasure purposes.

As was stated in the GRAPHIC on June 27th the low level of the water in the river has resulted from the release of water at the Moody street dam in Waltham by those now controlling the affairs of the Boston Manufacturing Company which sometime ago ceased operating and went into the hands of receivers. Subsequently the management of the Waltham Bleachery brought legal action against the Boston Manufacturing Company on the allegation that the former corporation was not receiving daily a flowage by its plant, an amount of water stipulated in a contract with the Boston Manufacturing Company. As a result, the receivers of the latter corporation have released down the river a volume of water so large that the basin between Waltham and Newton Lower Falls is lower than at any time in the past 23 years, or since the drought of 1907. As the Boston Manufacturing Company is closed and the Bleachery is operating at only a fraction of its capacity, the amount of water going down stream from the basin is much larger than there is any need for. It has been estimated that while the bleachery is entitled to 10,000,000 gallons of water each working day, about three times this amount has been flowing by the Moody street dam.

It has been stated that the receivers of the Boston Manufacturing Company would be glad to reduce the flow of water but for the threat held out by the management of the bleachery. Chairman Keniston of the Metropolitan District Commission has been informed by Attorney General Warner that no law exists which can be used to prevent the usual and unnecessary flow of water which has made the Charles River so unsightly and so unhealthy.

According to a letter written by Dr. George H. Bigelow of the State Board of Health to the Metropolitan District Commission, several times as much water is being released by the Boston Manufacturing Company as is necessary in accordance with its contract with the Waltham Bleachery. Dr. Bigelow's letter read as follows—

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
Department of Public Health
State House, Boston, July 9, 1930.

Mr. Davis B. Keniston,
Commissioner,
Metropolitan District Commission,
Boston, Massachusetts.

Dear Sir:

In response to your request for an examination by this Department of the condition of the Charles River in Waltham above the dam at Moody street, the Department has caused this mill pond or reservoir to be examined and has also caused certain measurements to be made of the flow of the stream.

At the time of this examination the reservoir above the dam at Moody street was drawn down to a point between 2 and 2½ feet below its ordinary level, exposing large areas of flats covered by mud, thus creating a very objectionable condition from a sanitary point of view. The cause of the existing conditions is the excessive draft of water past the dam at Moody street as compared with the amount of water flowing down the river above this reservoir.

As measured during a 24-hour period on July 2 and 3 the quantity of water flowing into the reservoir at its upper end, while varying considerably from hour to hour, amounted in the 24-hour period to a total of about 14,900,000 gallons. Measurements were also made of the flow of the river just above Elm street bridge but below the dam at Moody street during the same period, the results of these measurements showing that the total quantity of water flowing at that time was about 50,000,000 gallons. During this 24 hours the surface of the water in the basin was lowered about 3 inches. Measurements of the flow of Charles River made during about the same period of 24 hours at Charles River Village showed a total flow of about 55,000,000 gallons.

Under certain old agreements 1-3 of the water of Charles River near Dedham, which is below Charles River Village, is diverted into Mother Brook which discharges into the Neponset River at Hyde Park. Also below Charles River Village large quantities of water are drawn from the river or from tributaries or lands adjacent to it by the cities and towns of Needham, Dedham, Bookline, Newton, Wellesley and Waltham. The City of Cambridge also is now taking all of the flow of Stony Brook, one of the principal tributaries of Charles River which enters the reservoir above the Moody Street dam. There are undoubtedly further losses of water by leakage into the city and town and Metropolitan

Y. M. C. A.

During the past weeks the boys at the "Y" have been kept rather busy trying to follow the activities offered. On Monday morning they gathered in the athletic field and for two hours enjoyed a series of mass games planned to satisfy the whims of every boy there. In the afternoon, the "Midgets," the younger boys baseball team, gathered for their first practice session.

Tuesday, through the courtesy of Lewandos, a group were given the opportunity to see the processes of dyeing and laundering. This proved to be of great interest to the group.

Wednesday is given over to a group of boys from churches in greater Boston to spend the day under the leadership of two of the "Y" staff. Forty-eight boys enjoyed baseball and mass games before taking advantage of the swimming pool. The swim was followed by a luncheon prepared by members of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Immediately after luncheon the boys spent a short time in singing followed by three reels of Motion Pictures and another swim before they left for their homes at 3 P. M. Later in the afternoon the reels were shown again for the members of the boys' division.

Thursday marked the first pleasure trip of the season, when eight boys under the direction of Mr. Andrews left for a trip to Nantasket Beach where they spent the day swimming and enjoying themselves.

Friday was set aside for a bicycle trip to Franklin Park, but evidently the activities of the day before had tired those who attended and the trip was abandoned due to lack of numbers but the "Midgets" had another opportunity to practice and it proved to be advantageous as they won their first game of the season against the Garden City Hobos 9 to 0.

Saturday afternoon the "Knot Hole Gang" attended the Braves Chicago baseball games and this wound up the activities of a busy week.

Of course the boys had their daily swim in the "pool" and every afternoon at 3 there appeared a long line clamoring for their keys.

During this time the employed boys were not forgotten and in addition to their swims, they took advantage of the opportunity offered by The Ward Baking Co. to visit their bakery at Cambridge.

This week the members of the "Knot Hole Gang" will have the opportunity to see a game every day and in addition plans are underway for trips to The Museum of Natural History and the Tercentenary Parade in Boston.

Over forty inmates at the Immigration Detention Station at East Boston enjoyed a splendid concert by the Newton Constabulary Band last Sunday under the auspices of the Newton Y. M. C. A.

The "Y" secures several of these Sunday afternoon concerts for the Detention station during the year.

NINETEENTH ANNIVERSARY

The American Order Sons of St. George, Kensington Lodge No. 500, celebrated the nineteenth anniversary on Monday night, July 14, at Forester's Hall, Upper Falls. A banquet was served at 6:30 p. m., following which the lodge was called for its regular business meeting.

Mr. Sampson Schuker Sr., gave a very interesting talk upon the work of the society for the past 18 years after which the guest of honor, Mr. Joseph W. Palmer was presented a Smoking set in the name of the lodge members. Mr. Palmer expects to visit England in the early fall at the close of the lodge. An illustrated lecture entitled The Story of Steel was presented by Mr. C. W. Whiting, general sales manager of the New England district from the American Steel and Wire Co.

POLICE NEWS

Mrs. Margaret Baine of 154 Langdon street, Newton, was in the Newton court last Saturday charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. Patrolman Elliot testified that on the evening of June 9 he observed an automobile operated by the woman being rapidly driven down Cabot street and narrowly missing a pole. He signalled her to stop but she continued on. Elliot obtained the registration number from the rear plate and telephoned police headquarters to ascertain who owned the car. Later in the evening he and Serg. Mahoney saw the car being driven back along Cabot street and followed it in another automobile. Serg. Mahoney testified that he found the woman being driven by the car in the garage at Langdon street under the influence of liquor and had conversation with her and her husband. Both Mr. and Mrs. Baine denied having conversed with Serg. Mahoney, as he testified they did. Attorney William Maguire of East Boston, who represented the defendant argued that Mrs. Baine thought Patrolman Elliot was merely beckoning to her to slow down and therefore she did not stop. She testified she never took a drink of intoxicating liquor. Judge Brown of East Boston, who was on the bench, found her not guilty.

John J. Finn of 10 Fiske street, Waltham was found guilty by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Wednesday of driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested on July 7 by Patrolman William Whelan, when the latter from his home on Lexington street, West Newton, observed a car being operated by the defendant in an erratic manner, Finn was fined $100.

Speeders fined in the Newton court on Thursday included Lewis Lehman, Roxbury, $10; Henry Rattigan, Riverside street, Watertown, $5; Samuel Aldershaw, Oak street, Upper Falls, $10; Allen Mills, Cambridge, $10; Paul Jaquith, Brookline, $15.

Peldo Arduino of 5 Dudley road, Newton Centre, was ordered to restrain a dog owned by him as a result of a complaint made to the police by Albert Cross of 32 Daniel street, Newton Centre. Dr. Bouteille was notified to inspect the animal.

AMERICAN WAR MOTHERS

Owing to a delay in the local chapters receiving their charters it is necessary to postpone the meeting called for Monday, July 21st, at the Hotel Statler, Boston, for the purpose of organizing a Massachusetts chapter of American War Mothers until a later date. Announcement of the meeting will be made by Mrs. Corabelle Francis, Massachusetts State organizer for the Association.

TENNIS CHAMPIONS

The final matches in the Newton Tennis for the Tercentenary prizes were completed this week.

Donald ("Don") Martin winning the Men's Singles from Arthur Noble of Newton Centre by the score of 4-6, 8-6, 9-7, 6-1.

The other two to receive silver medals as semi-finalists are Francis Broughton, Newton, and Willis Paterson of Newton Centre.

The ladies' matches were completed last week. Mrs. Marjorie McGill, Newton, took the final match from Miss K. Sprague, Newton, 6-1, 6-3.

Mrs. McGill had won from Miss Grace Thompson, Newton Centre, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4 and Miss Sprague in her semi-final match won from Miss Trowbridge, Newton, by 6-0, 3-6, 6-1.

CAMP FRANK A. DAY

The season at Camp Frank A. Day is divided in three, 3 week periods. Boys may go for three, six or nine weeks as they wish.

The following boys left Friday morning July 18th for camp: John Upham, R. H. Clapp, R. C. Clapp, E. Krosschell, H. Krosschell, J. Harding, A. Murphy, R. Ellis, G. Donaldson, W. Horton, H. Anderson, A. MacQuarrie, R. Emery, R. Bedell, R. B. Andrews, R. A. Andrews, P. Hamlin, E. Rice Jr., Charles Dunn, W. H. Fish, C. Dolan, Percy S. Lewis and Robert K. Burns.

Reports from Camp Day indicate that the big family of 113 boys are well, happy and working hard to earn the emblems which indicate growth in body, mind and spirit.

The State Board of Health analysed the drinking water and pronounced it O. K.

A new automatic pump throwing 500 gallons an hour was installed by Mr. Andrew Kasper, engineer at the "Y". This new equipment replaces the small pump installed in 1917 soon after the camp was opened when the campers numbered less than 50.

CAR DROPS INTO BROOK

A large sedan operated by Benjamin Barrett, 35, of Lane Park, Brighton, crashed through a fence on Homer street Sunday noon, went down a steep embankment and landed on its side in Cold Spring Brook, 10 feet below the street. Persons in the vicinity rushed to the place and cut open the roof of the car to extricate Barrett, who was the only occupant of the sedan. He was unconscious and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. He was found to have received only slight head injuries. Sudden illness, which overcame Barrett, caused the accident.

Business Men At Pearl Lake Have Most Successful Outing

Fine Program of Sports With Splendid Prizes and a Most Enjoyable Banquet

The annual outing of the Newton Business Associates at Lake Pearl, Wrentham, on Wednesday was the most enjoyable and successful of the 17 of these affairs which have been held. Shortly after 1 o'clock a motorcade of twenty cars under the direction of Eric Lagerblad of the Newton Garage proceeded through the business section of Newton Centre and thence through Newton Centre, Needham and Dedham and then along the Providence road to Lake Pearl.

A new and quite satisfactory departure was adopted at this year's outing. In former years those attending these affairs had dinner as soon as possible after arriving at wherever the meal was over, much of the afternoon had passed and comparatively little time remained for sports. On Wednesday box lunches were served when Lake Pearl was reached about 2 o'clock and then the remainder of the day was available for the athletic events. Nearly all of the 150 present participated in one or more of the various contests on the program, contesting for the many valuable prizes awarded. While the games were in progress, Dick Wilson of the Winn Sign Shop distributed souvenirs.

The first event on the program of sports was a 75 yard dash, uniquely conducted because of the fact that the 20 entries all ran in one heat. Seventeen of the twenty beat the gun, so Starter Harold Moore permitted them to finish the "derby." Clarence MacDavitt, the old Dartmouth sprinter won, and Jim Flynn was second. Flynn's long legs enabled him to outdistance the field in the 220 yard dash. DeGrasse was second. A few of the contestants in this race found that this distance takes violent toll on those not in proper condition. They received treatment from Dr. Michael Chirug.

The fat men's race was won by Drake, with Harold Moore taking second prize. Wales really won this race, but as he is not fat, although he weighs 200 pounds, he gracefully yielded in favor of the obese sprinters.

Eric Lagerblad, Jr., repeated his victory of last year in the shoe-tying contest, winning a valuable wrist watch. The tug-of-war was won after a severe struggle by the team captained by Watson Baker. This test of brawn was supposed to last for two minutes, but the timer's watch was slow and at least three minutes elapsed before the superior staying powers of the victors overcame advantage gained by the losers and enabled them to pull their opponents along the field. Several of the participants nearly collapsed and were given first-aid by Dr. Chirug.

The winners in the athletic events were:

200 Yard Dash—1st, Flynn; 2nd, DeGrasse.
50 Yard Dash—1st, MacDavitt; 2nd, Flynn.

Fishing—1st, Wilson.
Shoe Race—1st, Lagerblad; 2nd, Manning.

Fat Men's Race—1st, Drake; 2nd, H. Moore.

Swimming Race—1st, Champagne; 2nd, Lagerblad, Jr.

Tub Race—1st, Leonard; 2nd, Rogers.

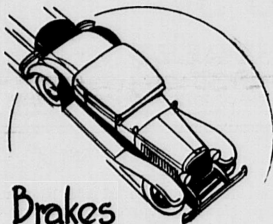

Horse Shoe Pitching—1st, Johnson and McGrath; 2nd, Delaney and Mason; 3rd, Butler and Doherty.

Nail Driving Contest—1st Team—Johnson, Delaney, McGrath, Airth.
Nail Driving Contest—2nd—White, Wales, Marshall, Gallagher.

Tug of War Team—Winners—Leonard, Bell, Baker, Wales, Drake, DeGrasse, Tappe, Hawkins, Manning, Gilfix.

The baseball game between the employees of the Newton Trust Company and a team comprised of business men and their employees, ended in a victory for the latter by a score of 21 to 5. Attorney Hugh Boyd, who pitched for the "business" men, displayed some of the speed and control which was his when he twirled for the old Saxony Worsted nine. Hugh's delivery was ably handled by Watson Baker. Brown was on the mound for the bankers and did fairly well until the fifth inning when the business men cashed in for a total of 13 hits.

Boyd and Baker, besides filling the stellar roles as battery men for the winners, each walloped four home runs. The game would have been close but for this pair. "Buck" Grant also hit a homer. The lineup:

LOSE TWO BUT WIN FIRST HALF

Upper Falls lost both of its final games in the wind-up of the first half of the Hub Two-League season on Saturday and Sunday but retained its hold on first place when the Somerville City Club, which threatened to pass the local aggregation, lost a tenning contest to Revere. By agreement the first half ended Sunday with the team having the highest percentage being recognized as first-half champion regardless of inequality in games played. Upper Falls ended with 611 and Somerville with an even 600.

Saturday the Somerville City Club trounced Upper Falls 11 to 6 at Dilboy Field collecting fourteen hits off three pitchers. Somerville began their attack on Whalen and kept it up on Whitmore, who followed, Russell later took up the burden and halted the city club attack but the handicap was too big to overcome. The victors scored three runs in the first, another in the second, six in the third and a single run in the fifth. The Upper Falls tallied its first run in the fourth, collected a trio of tallies in the sixth and a brace in the seventh. Kerrivan led the locals' offence with four hits in five times at bat. Two of his hits were for two-bases.

Sunday's game was played at Upper Falls with Hyde Park as the visiting aggregation. Upper Falls entered a formal protest as Hyde Park had previously disbanded, withdrawing from the league for the second half, and getting the team together so that the game might be played. Had Somerville won from Revere the Upper Falls team would have dropped to second place if losing to Hyde Park. As it turned out the protest was not needed as both the local team and Somerville lost and the standing remained unchanged. It took Hyde Park twelve innings to gain a 3 to 2 verdict with an erratic bounce allowing the winning run to score. Corrigan of Hyde Park pitched a good game, allowing but five scattered hits and passing five batters.

Hyde Park scored twice in the first half of the second to take the lead but Upper Falls tied it right up again in their half of the inning. Kerrivan got a life and moved along on Powers' single. When Mahoney produced a single after Bennett had moved the baserunners along on an infield rap the two Upper Falls runs were counted. Although Graham, who was on the mound for Upper Falls, was touched for twelve hits, he kept them runless until the twelfth. In this frame Keating of Hyde Park led off with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice. Ricco hit a hard grounder which took a bad bounce, hit Powers, Upper Falls third baseman, on the knee and rolled into left field and allowed Keating to score.

SPORT NOTES

Belharte Gets Second Place
Edward Belharte, former Newton high and schoolboy champion high jumper, took second place in the high jump at London, England, last Saturday for the combined Cornell-Princeton track team against Oxford-Cambridge. The American collegians won the meet, 7 to 5, taking seven of the twelve events. Belharte is a student at Cornell where he has been a member of the varsity track team the past year.

Hill and Johnson Win
Malcolm T. Hill and Henry L. Johnson, Jr., of Waban captured their second leg on the cup emblematic of the New England sectional doubles championship last Saturday at the tournament at the Agawam Hunt Club in Providence by winning their final match. The local youths won the title in 1928 and did not defend it last year. The trophy has been in competition since 1913. Hill and Johnson, who have been playing as partners for years, were too skillful for their opponents, Sydney B. Wood, Jr., and Harold Blauer of New York although the latter took the first set. The score of the match was 10-12, 8-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Cronin's Singles Helps
Bill Cronin's single in the fourth inning of the first game of the double-header at Braves Field Sunday enabled the Braves to gain a 2 to 1 verdict over the Chicago Cubs. The Boston team had scored its first run in the third. In the fourth an infield error put Cnatham on second, and out at first put him on third and Cronin's hit brought him home. In the ninth the Cubs scored a lone tally. In the second game Cronin relieved Al Speiser in the fifth inning when the latter caught a foul tip on the end of a finger. Cronin's official mid season record is 23 games, 63 times at bat, 9 runs, 20 hits, 317 average, 0 stolen bases, one sacrifice hit. He is fourth on the Braves squad.

ELIZABETH COFFIN

Miss Elizabeth Coffin died on July 14th at the Stone Institute, 277 Elliot street, Newton Upper Falls. She was second born in Auburn, New York, 89 years ago and had lived in this city for 40 years. Her funeral services, which were private, were held yesterday at the Mount Auburn Cemetery Chapel. Rev. Raymond Lang of St. John's Church, Newtonville, officiated.

KIWANIS CLUB

The weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis was held on Tuesday, July 16, 1930, at the Old Venice Restaurant, Norumbega Park. Many guests and visiting Kiwanians were present. The attendance prize was awarded to Walter Muldoon. W. Uriah Fogwell led the singing, and Jack Janse contributed two musical selections to the program. President Hernandez introduced the speaker of the day, Mr. Henry J. Lybeck, Salesmanager for the Beacon Oil Company. Mr. Lybeck gave a very interesting talk on gasoline, demonstrating the various qualities of gasoline by the use of a gasoline motor.

George A. Parker, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, is scheduled to speak before the Club on next Tuesday.

NEWTON PUGILISTS LOSE

Young Jack Fitzpatrick of Fitz's Gym, West Newton, after winning his bouts in the trials and semi-finals at the tournament in Dilboy Field, Somerville, on Tuesday night, lost the decision in the final to Frank Carter of Worcester, State 135 champion. The crowd thought the verdict unfair and booed the award.

Al Pond won his first bout, knocking out Robush of Lawrence and was beating Aronson in the semi-final of the class when he lost on a foul. As Pond's opponent was rising after having been down for a count of nine, the boy from the local gym grazed a blow off Aronson's chin and his over eagerness cost him the scrap.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

The Boston Elevated Railroad Company recently placed its shop employees on part time. These employees could well be put to work repairing the dilapidated (if creaking and vibrating are evidence) cars shifted to the Newton-Brighton division a couple of months ago from East Boston. These cars replaced far superior vehicles which were transferred from the Newton-Brighton line to East Boston.

Some of the shop employees of the Elevated might be given employment washing the windows of the cars occasionally. Under former management of the Elevated the car windows were washed regularly. Even Governor Allen deems it necessary to chide the Elevated for the dirty condition of its cars.

If you want to see—and feel a contrast in streets take a trip from Newton Corner through Wellesley and Natick to Framingham. From the bridge at Newton Lower Falls through Wellesley Hills to Wellesley, Washington street has a very good surface. True, a long section of this street is in process of reconstruction where the car tracks have been torn up. But the surface of the street, other than where the car tracks were, leaves little to be desired.

From Wellesley to Natick there is an excellent stretch of roadway, recently completed. Two lanes of concrete allow traffic to roll swiftly and comfortably along. A middle lane of tar permeated macadam is almost as excellent as the two concrete roadways. The sides of the street are of tarred macadam. From Natick to Framingham is another stretch of highway similar in construction to that between Natick and Wellesley. It is a pleasure to drive from the Lower Falls to Framingham.

But—from Newton Lower Falls easterly through this city to Newton Corner the contrast is painful—literally and figuratively. With the exceptions of a comparatively short part of this street, between Beacon street and the bridge near the Woodland Station, a section of the street which is being widened and resurfaced, and a short section of street in the West Newton business district, Washington street is no highway on which to take an automobile ride for pleasure. The street has been patched and repatched so much that persons in cars get jolted and vibrated to such a degree that those with artificial teeth must grip them together.

When Mayor Weeks announced his determination at the beginning of this year to resurface some of the highways in this city with materials used in modern highway construction, the Public Works Committee agreed that Washington street should receive prior attention. But, as it was learned that the Metropolitan Water Commission intended to have a 60 inch water main laid from Weston through Auburndale and along Washington street from West Newton to Newton Corner, it was decided not to improve Washington street between these two villages until the main will have been laid. It was later reported that the main would be laid this year. Then, the Legislature did not appropriate money for this work. If the State authorities early next year do not decide to lay this big main along Washington street, the city should not further delay the much needed improvements on this main highway. Residents of this city who must use this street daily are entitled to relief. So are outsiders who travel over this road and make justifiable adverse comments about it. The failure of Newton in past years to appropriate money to place the principal streets of this city in good condition, and to have them properly surfaced, has not added to the reputation of this city.

The City of Newton possesses one piece of property worth many millions of dollars. This property is the water reservation on the Needham side of the Charles River south and east of Kneeland Bridge. There are 655 acres of land in this tract and a large part of it consists of excellent sand and gravel deposits. Sand and gravel lands in the vicinity of Boston are becoming rapidly more valuable and the millions of tons of these building materials on the 655 acres owned by Newton are viewed with envious eyes by many persons who would like to obtain possession of them.

Newton, in former years obtained a sufficiency of water from its Needham reservation. But, as the city has rapidly grown, it has become necessary at certain seasons of the year to supplement the local supply with water from the Metropolitan Water System. For drinking purposes the water from the Newton reservation is far superior and it should be used for as many years as practicable. Whenever, in the future, the City of Newton decides to abandon the reservation in Needham as a source of water supply, citizens of this municipality should be on the alert to see that full value is received for the gravel lands along the Charles, should the city decide to sell them.

Magic Power Ascribed to Chinaman's Picture

On the doors of Chinese houses, in early summer, are pasted pictures of Chang Tao-lin, the first Taoist pope, riding on a tiger, says a writer in the New York Times. Probably there are 50,000,000 such pictures so displayed and worshipped during the year, for Chang is supposed to repress evil spirits and to ward off calamity and sickness in the hot months. On the "fifth day of the fifth moon"—usually early in June—when most of the pictures are pasted up, the children are dressed in cheap, tigerlike suits of clothes to keep off the demons, who fear tigers.

Chang Tao-lin is said to have been born on Tien Moh San (Heavenly-eye mountain) in the year 35 A. D. He was asked to be an official; but chose rather to meditate in silence and to cultivate virtue. He went to live in China's western hills and there was shown, by a book given to him from above, how to find the elixir of life, and from other ancient books how to ascend into heaven, how to fly and how to walk among the stars. With these and other magic powers he could fight demons, divide mountains and seas, and rule the winds.

Scotch Freebooter Made

Hero of Song and Story
Rob Roy (Robert McGregor or Campbell), Scotch legendary hero, was born in Buchanan parish, Scotland, 1671; died at Balquhider December 28, 1734. He was the younger son of Donald McGregor, a lieutenant colonel in the army of James II. He got his name Rob from his red hair, and adopted Campbell as his surname. After the accession of William III he obtained a commission from James II, and in 1691 made a descent on Strathgarry. In 1712 he was evicted and outlawed on a charge of embezzlement. He became a Highland freebooter, and was included in the act of attainder. Under the protection of the duke of Argyll he continued to levy blackmail on the Scottish gentry. He is the subject of a novel by Sir Walter Scott, published in 1818; of an opera by Flotow (1832) and of several plays—Washington Star.

Two Advantages

The house agent decided that he had better be quite frank with his latest clients.

"Of course," he began, "this house has one or two drawbacks which I feel I must mention. It is bounded on the north by the gas works, on the south by an India-rubber works, on the east by a vinegar factory, and in the west there is a glue-bolling establishment."

"Great Scott!" gasped the husband. "Fancy showing us such a place. What a neighborhood!"

"Quite so," replied the agent. "But there are advantages. The rent is cheap, and you can always tell which way the wind is blowing!"

Italian Language

The modern Italian language is developed from the Latin. The earliest definite traces of Italian speech may be found in a document of Monte Cassino, dated 960. Tuscany, and especially Florence, has been the classical literary language almost from the beginning of the national literature. During the first half of the Thirteenth century the mass of lyrical poetry was produced by the Sicilian school at Palermo at the court of the Emperor Frederick II. In the second half of the century the seat of lyrical poetry was transferred to Tuscany. The modern Italian literary language, however, is founded on the Florentine dialect, which was the language of Dante.

Ghostly Trophies

The Jivaran tribes, a group of Indians, living at the eastern base of the Andes in Ecuador and the adjacent parts of Peru, practice the art of shrinking human heads. These shrunken human heads, called tsantsas in the native Jivaran tongue, are often seen in museums. The head, after being taken from an enemy, is carefully skinned, sewed up in the back and then shrunk and dried by an elaborate process accompanied by much ceremony. The finished product, no larger than the head of a small monkey, preserves the human expression.

Napoleon's Josephine

Josephine was too indifferent for a mistress, too volatile for a wife; but as the companion of Napoleon she played her part well. As Mr. Wilson suggests, there was something tiny in each. There was also something enigmatical in each, so that if he often seemed indeed a Caesar, she often appeared a careless, Latin divinity. She was courageous, gentle, soothing and tender, like a great lady; she was also a sobbing, frightened creature, charged with the scents and tales of a tropic night.—London Saturday Review.

Roads of Spain

Spain is a tempting country for the motorist. There are hundreds of miles of beautiful roads rivaling any in Europe, and always new highways under construction. Over wide hot plains and difficult mountain passes and following precipitous rivers they are smooth and broad and made to last forever. What if it is necessary to pass a hay cart? It is not necessary to waken the driver from his nap, for though he occupies the middle of the road there is plenty of room to pass on either side.

"Fuss and Feathers" in Presentation at Court

In order to be presented to the Court of St. James it is necessary to be sponsored by the American ambassador or by an important English lady. The summons to appear is issued about three weeks before the day. Regulation court dress, including the prince of Wales feathers, is required. The ceremony takes place in the throne room at 9:30 o'clock. There is a red-carpeted aisle, extending across the room, in front of the throne from door to door. At the appointed time the royal family, preceded by the lord chamberlain and his officers, enter and take their places. The line of members to be presented forms outside the door and slowly files past the throne and out of the other door. As the lady is about to enter, her card is passed down the line to the lord chamberlain, who calls out her name as she stands before the king to make her curtsy. She then curtsies to the queen, and with her head turned toward the royal family makes her way slowly from the room. After the presentations are made, the king and queen rise and bow and the entire assemblage responds. Music is then played while the royal members leave the room.

Virginia Slow to Lose

Belief in Witchcraft
Virginia offers an interesting chapter in the history of witchcraft in America, writes Frederick G. Fassett in the Boston Transcript. Ordeal by water is so generally regarded as belonging to medieval times that it is surprising to read of resort to it in an American colony as late as 1706. But there was such resort in the case of Grace Sherwood, a middle-aged woman, the wife of a planter. She was tried on suspicion of being a witch.

The court adjourned while she was taken to a nearby stream and plunged into its waters. As she did not sink, the result was against her. So were certain other evidences of a kind much mentioned in witchcraft literature. She was consigned to jail, but the proceedings against her evidently were dropped. Her name subsequently appears in the record of a civil suit, and her will was probated in 1740, presumably shortly after her death.

Probably Oldest Game

We make no attempt to tell the age of Sambo's familiar appeal to the bones, "Come seben—oh, 'leben, the baby needs a new pair shoes." But in reply to a number of questions as to the world's oldest game the answer is—dice. Most authorities agree that dice-throwing is the oldest amusement in the world. The game of dice, in some form or other, has existed in every period of history. While the invention of the game is attributed to Palamedes, one of the heroes who sailed against Troy, about 1244 B. C., the use of "spotted cubes" for gambling purposes was resorted to even before that.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Making His Last Stand

The Ivory-billed woodpecker, king of its tribe, inhabiting the great cypress swamps, probably is making its last stand in Florida, says Nature Magazine. The last breeding record of this giant woodpecker was made by Dr. A. A. Allen, who found a pair nesting in central Florida in 1924. It is now against the law to kill this fine bird. The last stand of the Carolina parakeet was made in Florida. This beautiful little parrot was once abundant but was shot and trapped in such quantities and so persistently that not one has been seen for many years. The bird is now undoubtedly extinct.

Big Water Crystals Found

Water crystals estimated to date back to prehistoric times were discovered recently in the "Cave of the Sister of the Falls," in France, by archeologists who were exploring for traces of primitive man. Some of the crystals are four inches across and an inch thick, and are believed to be the largest ever found. The specimens are perfect and equal to the finest that could be produced in a chemical laboratory under perfect conditions. Remarkable constant climatic conditions in the cave made it possible for nature to produce them.

Human Contacts Needed to Develop Personality

Let us swallow this important and prickly fact. Apart from our connections with other persons, we are barely individuals; we amount, all of us, to next to nothing. It is in the living touch between us and other persons, other lives, other phenomena that we move and have, our being.

Strip us of our human contacts and of our contact with the living earth and the sun, and we are almost bladders of emptiness. Our individuality means nothing. A skylark that was alone on an island would be songless and meaningless, his individuality gone, running about like a mouse in the grass. But if there were one female with him, it would lift him singing into the air, and restore him his real individuality.

As a fixed object, even as an individuality or a personality, no human being, man or woman, amounts to much. The great I AM does not apply to human beings, so they may as well leave it alone. As soon as anybody, man or woman, becomes a great I AM, he becomes nothing. Man or woman, each is a flow, a flowing life. And without one another, we can't flow, just as a river cannot flow without banks.

A woman is one bank of the river of my life and the world is the other. Without the two shores my life would be a marsh. It is the relationship to woman and to my fellow men which makes me myself a river of life.—D. H. Lawrence in Scribner's Magazine.

Apparition Has Aroused Sleepy English Village

Residents of Porchester, a village on the shores of Porchester harbor, England, declare that they have seen a ghost in the castle and the village is now in the throes of a ghost scare. The apparition appeared in the traditional form of a tall white figure, but those who saw it were too frightened to make any investigations. Porchester castle dates back to Roman times and is world-famous for the ship models made by the French prisoners of war who were confined within its walls. Many people declare they have seen ghosts in the castle. The most famous of these apparitions is that of a sailor who is alleged to have declared that he would come back after death. It is believed to be his wrath which was seen walking quite recently. Ghosts seem to favor this corner of Hampshire. In the village of Warlington, some 15 miles from Porchester, the spirit of Margaret, countess of Salisbury, who was executed by order of Henry VIII, is often seen dressed as a nun, gliding about the lanes near the ruins of Warlington castle, which was once her home.—London Tit-Bits.

Unkind Nature

Nature has no kindness, no hospitality, during a rain. In the fiercest heat of sunny days she retains a secret mercy and welcomes the wayfarer to shady nooks of the woods whither the sun cannot penetrate. But she provides no shelter against her storms. It makes us shiver to think of those deep unbragging recesses, those overshadowing banks where we found such enjoyment during the sultry afternoons. Not a twig of foliage there but would dash a little shower into our faces. . . . In such spells of weather—and it is to be supposed such weather came—Eve's bower in Paradise must have been but a cheerless and gushy kind of shelter. . . . The idea of sleeping on a couch of wet roses!—Nathaniel Hawthorne.

Unfortunate Sea Lions

The sea lion could hold his own against his natural enemies, but his real troubles began when man discovered that he was insulated with several inches of oil-bearing blubber and that his hide made good leather. Nearly 200 years ago the slaughter began on the west coast, says Nature Magazine.

Thousands of sea lions died for the enrichment of the oil hunters, until, by the beginning of this century only a remnant of the vast herds which once roared and fought on their offshore rookeries is left to carry on the species.

Defiant in Suicide

A Chinese merchant closed his life here with a proverb—an indirect hint that he did not want his friends to dig into his motives for committing suicide. He had rooms on the third floor of the Bank of Communications, and at dawn made his way up to the flat room, climbed to the top of an ornamental stone efligy and leaped to the ground. He was dead when picked up. His last message, found in his room, quoted a famous Chinese proverb to the effect that each man should sweep the snow from his own doorstep, leaving his neighbor's affairs severely alone.

Professional Accounting

Very little is known of the origin of accounting as a profession. The first association of which there is record is the Collegio dei Raxionali, founded at Venice in 1581. Professional accountants probably existed in Milan at an early date, as the government established a scale of charges for them in 1742. The first Scotch professional accountant was George Watson, born in Edinburgh in 1845. In 1790 the British directory listed five. The first formal recognition given to accountants in the United States was in the laws of New York in April, 1890.

SWIMMING LESSONS

The swimming and diving instructions which are being featured daily at Crystal Lake, Newton Centre, by the Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, are attracting hordes of boys and girls—and some who have passed the boy and girl class—from all the Newtons.

The advantages of swimming instruction under proper auspices have been proven in the past and Newton Chapter is applying the methods already found successful in instructing the local boys and girls in the tricks of the natator.

The first daily class is from 9 to 10 in the morning and is for children four to 10 years of age who are novices. The instruction is given in the same spirit as a sugar-coated pill, in the form of a game. The youngsters form in a circle in the water, jump around, put their faces under the water, open their eyes and conclude by reaching for a stone set in the middle of the circle. The group is then divided according to the aptitude shown by the pupils and those who need special instruction are coached to overcome their weaknesses. All the other members of the class are kept busy practicing while the instructor goes among them giving each one individual attention, and they pair off to help each other.

The swimmers' class begins at the conclusion of the novice period and continues to 11 o'clock. It is for graduates of the first class, ranging to 11 years of age. They are divided off for side or crawl stroke instruction, according to age or ability. They receive their first actual instruction on dry land in arm and leg work. Then they enter the water and do there the same strokes they learned on land with special attention being paid to co-ordination between the arm stroke and the kick. They are also taught correct breathing in the water and the instructor gives individual instruction to those who need it while the class practices.

There is a short class in elementary diving given by the Chapter each day at the Lake from 11 to 11:30 for those who wish to learn diving or to correct their diving faults. More difficult "dives" are also taught to those wishing to learn them.

At 2 o'clock each afternoon a class is held for adults who wish to learn to swim or to correct their present swimming strokes. The instruction is for one half hour.

Forty children have already passed the beginner's test and 30 have successfully negotiated the swimmer's test under the chapter instructors.

William Morgan, Leonard Morgan and Walter Moore have recently passed the Red Cross test and have been enrolled as junior life savers.

College Examinations

In June, 1916, the examinations prepared by the college entrance examination board were adopted as the standard of admission for colleges.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

On Monday, July 14, the Clinico Pathological Conference was held at the hospital. This is the group formerly called the Know More Kokki.

On Tuesday evening, July 15, the Executive Committee of the Staff met at the home of the chairman, Dr. West, 800 Beacon street, Newton Centre.

On Wednesday evening, July 16, the Executive Committee of the Trustees held their regular monthly meeting at the hospital.

Miss Margaret B. Grant, Theoretical instructor, Miss Marion Cox, obstetrical supervisor, and Miss Lucia Upton, Physiotherapy technician, are away on vacation.

The daily average of patients is still running comparatively low, with 158 in the house on July 13th. Of this number 55 paid as much as cost of care, or more, 63 paid less than cost of care, and 40, including babies, were treated free of charge. 13 babies were born, 5 boys and 8 girls, including one set of twins, a boy and a girl. 138 visits were made to the out-patient department and 6 by the social worker. 3 patients were transported by the social service car. 20 accident cases were admitted to the accident ward during the past week.

Only three of the accident cases admitted were automobile accidents. Two of these were boys: one with a fractured leg, and the other with a question of a fractured skull and abrasions and lacerations of his head. The third was a man with a question of concussion. Eight patients were treated for lacerations. Three were men, one with a laceration of his wrist caused when he caught his hand in the fan of a car while working on it, one with a laceration of his scalp caused when he fell from a horse, and one with a laceration of his hand caused by broken glass. Two were boys, one with a laceration of his lower lip caused when he fell from his bicycle, and one for a laceration of his heel caused when he fell from a motorcycle. One girl was treated for a laceration on her back caused by a dogbite, and one woman was treated for a laceration of her leg caused by broken glass. Six patients were treated for fractures and dislocations: Three of them were boys, one with a fractured arm caused by a fall, one with a fractured wrist caused when he fell from a trapeze, and one for a question of a fractured pelvis caused when he fell from a tree. One man was treated for a fractured arm caused when he fell downstairs, and one for a fractured elbow also caused by a fall. One girl was treated for a fractured collarbone caused when she was struck by a swing. One woman was admitted following a fainting spell. One girl was treated for a rusty nail in her foot, and one for a foreign body in her eye.

The young people of today have only a dim idea of the conditions surrounding the liquor traffic before the 18th Amendment. We recall, under the local option law, that Newton voted dry and Boston wet. With the result that our trains and street cars carried many Newton residents from Boston to the great annoyance and disgust of other passengers. The program of the wets,—that the liquor problem be left to the states, would merely repeat the former local option situation, with the dry states flooded with liquor from the wet states, by automobile, airplane and other methods of conveyance. Do not be misled by wet propaganda of this nature. Local option did not stop liquor, and state option will work out the same way.

The candidacy of Mr. Warren L. Bishop for the Republican nomination for district attorney is heartily endorsed by the present District Attorney, Robert T. Bushnell of this city. Mr. Bishop has served with Mr. Bushnell for the past nine years and has been a factor in the notable record made by Mr. Bushnell in that office. Mr. Bushnell's endorsement should be worth thousands of votes for Mr. Bishop.

While we have some sympathy with the idea that juveniles ought not to be branded with a criminal record for mere misdemeanors, at the same time we believe that boys who burglarize houses, steal fruit or violate the automobile regulations ought to be dealt with in such a manner as to deter them from continuing these offenses against society.

Ed Howe, the famous editor of Kansas, strikes the nail on the head when he says: "I found from familiarity with it that whisky is a fool and an enemy; that there is nothing but harm in it. Whisky isn't square; I know nothing to its credit and a thousand things to its discredit."

Florida courts accept the evidence of the police officers as conclusive. Massachusetts courts might adopt the Florida method of dealing with lying defendants.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Are you one of those who has wished for years to visit Europe, but who has been deterred because of the expense of such a trip? You can satisfy your desire to see the countries from which most of the ancestors of the citizens of this country came. Your ancestors. And at a price astonishingly low. For $410 you can travel to Liverpool, London, Holland, Berlin, Munich, see the Passion Play at Oberammergau, thence to Lucerne and Paris and back to New York. You will leave Boston on the Cedric of the White Star Line on Sunday, August 31st and you arrive back at New York on the Lapland of the Red Star Line on September 28th. For $80 extra, or $490, you can add the following itinerary to your tour. Leaving Lucerne you will spend a day in Venice, then two days in Rome, thence on to Florence, Milan, Montreux and Paris, reaching New York on October 6 in the S.S. Westernland. These 30- and 33-day tours are conducted by Frederick J. Reuter of the Boston office of the White Star Line. The shore arrangements in Europe are under the guidance of Thomas Cook & Son. Reservations can be obtained from the Newton Steamship Agency, Postoffice Building, Newton, who will gladly furnish detailed information.

Despite assertions to the contrary, there is something new under the sun. Something radically and delightfully new has appeared in the manufacture of automobiles. One of the greatest steps forward in making motor vehicles even more efficient and satisfactory was announced within the past fortnight by the makers of Studebaker cars. The chief engineer of the Studebaker Company has invented an improved method in the manufacture of this famous motor vehicle which gives it what is termed by Studebaker as "free wheeling."

In the new Studebaker this improvement enables a driver to resort to the clutch only when the car is being started or backed. One can shift from second speed to high, or vice versa while going 40 to 50 miles an hour. You shift with silence, safety and precision. You lift your foot off the throttle and your car floats along in silence; your engine at idling speed. You save 12% on gasoline, 20% on oil. Carbon is reduced, terrific reversion strains are eliminated. Sudden grabbing of brakes is ended; your steering gear rights itself automatically after a turn. These claims seemed rather incredible until we took a ride in one of the new "free wheeling" Studebakers with Eric Lagerblad of the Newton Garage & Motor Company, local agents for this car. As we glided smoothly along, we realized that at last the chief disadvantage of automobiles with gear shifts has been overcome.

Thirty years ago the writer assisted in the manufacture of steam carriages. This type of vehicle was the invention of two Newton men, Freeland O. and the late Frank E. Stanley. The Stanley Steam Car was the sensation of the early days of horseless vehicles. It was so much faster and so much smoother in operation than the crude internal combustion motored cars of those days, that it enjoyed great popularity. It was the first car to climb Mount Washington; the first car to speed a mile in less than one minute. These cars were manufactured in the wooden factory buildings on Maple street at the Newton-Watertown line. In one of these buildings Sterling Elliot had made his famous hickory bicycles. In the other structure the Stanley brothers had made their well known photographic dry-plates. They sold the dry-plate business to Eastman and later concentrated on the manufacture of steam carriages.

The big advantage of the steam carriage over the gasoline motored buggies of the late 90's and early years of this century was in the smoothness of operation. By regulating the throttle one glided from 5 to 60 miles an hour, even in the early steam cars. If one travelled 25 miles an hour in the gas motored buggies, it was considered good speed. And how those old time gear shifts jerked and ground.

One inventive genius named Metz, who built cars in Waltham, thought he had overcome the unsatisfactory gear-shift obstacle by devising an automobile which used discs instead of gears. The theory of this idea was excellent. Unfortunately the discs would become glazed by constant contact and lose the ability to produce requisite friction. So, the Metz car died a natural death. As motor cars were improved mechanically, because they were easier to care for, and because they obviated the frequent necessity of replenishing water, which was one of the bugbears of steam car operators, they gradually forced the steam cars out of competition. Now, the "free wheeling" Studebakers allow motorists almost to ignore the clutch pedal. It gives gear-shift cars this designed the same ease of operation which made Stanley steamers and Metz cars free from shifting bother in the old days.

STATE OFFICIALS CAN'T REMEDY CHARLES RIVER NUISANCE

sewers laid in the Charles River valley. These examinations showed that a much larger quantity of water was being discharged from the reservoir above the Moody Street dam than was flowing into that reservoir at its upper end, and obviously this extra quantity of water was obtained by drawing down the storage in the reservoir.

The Department has also considered the copy of the agreement which you have supplied relative to the quantity of water which those in control of the Moody Street dam have agreed to allow to flow down the river. If the Department interprets this agreement correctly, it provides that the quantity of water to be let down each day in 12 hours would be about 3,700,000 gallons per day or if in 24 hours would be about 10,150,000 gallons per day. If the discharge past the Moody Street dam were limited to the latter amount the basin above Moody Street would doubtless refill after a time, the length of time depending upon the rainfall and the consequent flow of the river above the reservoir.

Respectfully,
GEORGE H. BIGELOW, M.D.,
Commissioner of Public Health.

Mayor Patrick Duane of Waltham who is particularly concerned in the river situation, because it threatens to interfere with the river project which is that city's chief tercentenary feature, is of the opinion that Waltham, Newton and Weston may resort to equity proceedings to obtain relief from the action of the corporations responsible for the creation of the nuisance at the river basin.

Hope to Find Use for Black Mamba's Poison

In the black mamba, spitting cobra of Africa, Dr. Adolph Monnelesser of New York, expects to find a cure for epilepsy and rheumatic affections.

Several years ago one of the spitting cobras was placed in the Bronx zoo. He immediately began spitting at every passerby. His aim is perfect even in the dark forest, and in the light of the reptile house he must have felt certain that he was blinding hundreds of people every day. Stimulated by his long procession of victims he spat and spat.

After a while the cobra noticed that the victims did not sink down and die, and that the venom was collecting upon the glass in front of him. Thereupon, he refused to spit, and even though zoo visitors collected in front of his cage and made faces at him, he ignored their presence and saved his venom.

The poison was removed from the glass and since has been used for experimental purposes. Additional black mambas are being imported, and experts eventually hope to prove that this deadly denizen of the jungle has his theological place and that even cobras spit together for good.

Molasses Once Thought to Have Healing Power

In England, molasses is called treacle and was once considered a medicine; the word is derived from the Greek through the Latin theriaca, meaning an antidote against the bite of poisonous animals. In old medical practice, theriaca Andromachi or Venice treacle was a compound of sixty-four drugs pulverized and reduced with honey to an electuary. It was supposed to cure venomous bites. When sugar cane began to be cultivated on a large scale, its stick product was called by the name of the drug which it resembled in consistency. By some curious reasoning, this entirely new and different substance was thought to have healing power. John Wesley, who was keenly interested in medicine, tells of putting warm treacle to the soles of his feet as a cure for erysipelas.—Good Health Magazine.

Musical Seals

Some twenty miles up the Koettlitz glacier, we were surprised to find many seals, and came to the conclusion that they swam up the subglacial stream which I named the Alph river. On one occasion I prodded one of these seals with my ice ax. After some sneezes and grumbles he proceeded to sing to me. He lay over on his side and produced a whole octave of musical notes from his chest, ranging up to a canary-like chirrup. Later I found that Doctor Wilson and Doctor Racovitz had already recorded the musical ability of Antarctic seals.—From "Antarctic Adventure and Research," by Griffith Taylor.

Reverse English

A Tyneside shipbuilder, anxious that his son should learn how to pronounce English in the beautiful way that his legal adviser, a Londoner, spoke it, apprenticed his lad to work in the lawyer's office so that he might learn English as it was then pronounced in London, smiles Dr. Frank H. Vizetelly, noted lexicographer. The son spent two years in his clerical position before the father was able to come to town on a visit. Then he called on the lawyer and asked about the boy. Much to his amazement the lawyer replied in Tyneside English, which the youngster had been able to teach him without assimilating any of the cockney dialect.

No Roof, No Rent

Yes, indeed, I arrears three months rent. If you were I should you pay and keep mouth shut, who is like d—n fool to pay the thing unsatisfactory.

Unless you patch the roof and put new paper on wall then I clear that. Later if you do not do I shall sue you damage for working hours. Many time the worked had done how-ever midnight rain, next morning all clothes wet I have start all over and waste my time for nothing.—Letter from a New Jersey Chinese laundryman to his landlord.

Efficiency

Some time ago a section foreman was severely criticized by the roadmaster for the careless handling of track material for his men.

"For instance," said he, "a few days ago one of your men was seen to thoughtlessly throw a spike into the weeds. Don't you realize they cost money?"

"I know they do," returned the foreman, "I had my men spend three days looking for that spike."—R. R. Magazine.

The Right Number

Little Alene, four years old, overheard her mother tell some one on the telephone that he had the wrong number and could get the right number by calling the operator again.

A little later Alene was heard talking over her toy telephone and saying, "This is the right number. If you want the wrong number you will have to call somebody else."

Following the sports the gathering proceeded to the dining hall at Lake Pearl Park and partook of a sumptuous repast. President Ralph Patterson of the Associates introduced Hon. Edwin O. Childs as toastmaster. The first speaker presented was Mayor Sinclair Weeks who spoke briefly. He congratulated the members of the Newton Business Associates on the large attendance at the outing and stated that men who find enjoyment in playing together, co-operate better in their business endeavors. He promised his assistance in any matters which might be referred to him by the business men of Newton Corner, including traffic problems. The Mayor had to leave early because of a meeting at City Hall.

Senator Arthur Hollis was the second speaker and reminisced on previous outings of the business men. He pledged his aid on matters of legislation affecting the interests of the business men. Attorney James P. Gallagher spoke in a humorous vein and expressed his pleasure that on one day, at least, the business men had bettered the bankers, referring to the result of the baseball game.

Harold Moore, past president of the Business Associates, and the only member who has attended all 17 outings of the organization, brought a message from John T. Burns, Sr., who could not attend because of ill health. Mr. Burns was one of the founders of the Newton Business Associates and this was the first outing he had not been present at. Resolutions of sympathy and appreciation were passed and ordered sent to Mr. Burns. The resolutions are as follows:

Whereas, the Newton Business Associates through unavoidable circumstances has this day been deprived of the presence of John T. Burns, Sr., whose contribution to its development during many past years has been of special assistance; and

Whereas, by his attendance every season without fail at its annual outing he did much to make each party a success; and

Whereas, by his gift to the organization of its immediate past President, his son, Thomas H. Burns, Sr., a loyal and diligent member, before, during and since his presidential period; now therefore be it

Resolved, that we, the members and guests of the Newton Business Associates on the occasion of this our annual outing, acknowledge our misfortune in the absence of John T. Burns; that we record our appreciation of his valuable services to our organization; that we delight in the continued reports of his ever improving health; that we look forward with unabated pleasure to his presence here next year and many years thereafter; and be it further

Resolved, that these resolutions be given for publication in our local newspapers and a copy sent to him as evidence of our deep affection for him.

CONFERENCE ON NEW CITY HALL AND WAR MEMORIAL

A conference was held at City Hall Wednesday night between Mayor Weeks, Architect Collins of the new City Hall, members of the aldermen's committee, Citizens War Memorial Committee and representatives of veteran organizations. The type of memorial and its relation to the new city capital was discussed. Julius Ramm, representing Newton Post, American Legion, and Emerson Stoddard representing the G. A. R. favored a war memorial in the form of a separate building which will afford ample provision for meetings and trophy rooms. It was the opinion of all present that the architects should be free from interference in planning the memorial and city hall so that they will have unrestrained opportunities to develop their own ideas. Mr. Collins desires three months in which to prepare plans.

The matter of including police headquarters in the new City Hall was discussed and it was the consensus of opinion of the aldermen present that police headquarters should not be in the proposed structure. At its last meeting the Board of Aldermen favored having the police headquarters wherever the new court house will be.

County officials have an option on a lot at Elm street, West Newton. Even citizens who favor keeping the court house in West Newton believe the building should be on Washington street and not hidden away on a side street.

Only two members of the Citizens Advisory Committee on the War Memorial were present, Ralph Henry and Julius Ramm. The others were not able to attend because the conference was called on a night on which they had prior engagements elsewhere.

An examination for the position of Chief of Police was held at City Hall yesterday. Those taking it were Captain Michael Hughes, Lieutenants Richard Goode, John Shaughnessy and Joseph Seaver. The successor to Ex-Chief Bernard Burke will be appointed from the three who receive the highest marks as a result of this examination.

NEWTON OFFICIALS AT CONFERENCE OF RIVER NUISANCE

A conference was held at Waltham City Hall last Monday night between Mayor Duane of that city, President Basley of the Waltham Chamber of Commerce, President Edwin O. Childs of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, Dr. F. G. Curtis of the Newton Board of Health, City Engineer William Morse, Selectman Herbert Tyler of Weston and others regarding the low level of water in the Charles River basin between Moody street, Waltham, and the Lower Falls.

Mayor Duane called attention to the century old riparian rights possessed by the Boston Manufacturing Company which must be recognized as a legal obstacle to be overcome. He said it is evident that this company is delivering to the Waltham Bleachery a much larger amount of water than the latter company requires or uses. He averred that the health of the communities along the river is more essential than riparian rights of corporations and that the nuisance created by the diversion of water must be quickly ended.

Hon. Edwin O. Childs had no solution to offer to end the difficulty but suggested that harmonious dealings with the corporations in Waltham might be attempted and if necessary legislation passed to enable the Commonwealth to present a united front.

Dr. Curtis of the Newton Board of Health expressed the opinion that the present low water condition menaces the health of persons in Newton, Waltham and Weston.

Harold Young of the Norumbega Boat House told that the low level of water in the river has decreased his business 70%. Residents of Auburndale and Waltham in sections near the river told of the offensive odors arising from the mud flats created by the lowering of the river.

This Week

by ARTHUR BRUSHANE

You Have a Rich Uncle
Conan Doyle Knows, Now
Noise, Brain Pressure
What Is Education?

Secretary Mellon, keeper of the public purse, announces a satisfactory financial year and a surplus of $184,000,000 in Uncle Sam's pocket.

Mr. Mellon reduced by $746,000,000 the public debt, which now totals sixteen billions, one hundred and eighty-five millions. Not much for such a rich country. Business might be better if bonds were not paid off so rapidly.

But Mr. Mellon probably knows best.

Sir Conan Doyle, who died recently, created Sherlock Holmes, a name that has become part of the English language, and died a believer in spiritualism.

What, if anything, does he think of spiritualism now?

Is he selecting some earth medium through whom he may tell friends on earth that he is very happy?

Does he remember this earth, or anything about it, or is all that as vague as the months spent on earth, before birth?

Mediums will get many messages, but we shall not hear from Conan Doyle!

A German scientist starts Berlin with a long-range loud-speaker that carries a great orchestra to be heard for twenty-five miles in all directions. A Chicago band could play in the Loop and be heard with painful distinctness on the north, south and west sides, and twenty-five miles out into Lake Michigan.

Think, then, as old puritans used to say when describing hell, how it will be hereafter.

Think of Gabriel's horn that will be heard 25,000 miles in all directions, around the world, bringing the dead from their graves and re-assembling the disintegrated elements into which they will have been dissolved. That will be a real loud speaker.

New York's commission on "Noise Abatement" reports that the irregular, continuous roar of a great city reduces human efficiency and tires nerves. That explains the fact that successful men nearly always come from the country. Move your children to the country if you can.

Experiments prove that workers work harder, wear themselves out more rapidly, accomplish less while exposed to sudden loud noises.

The sudden bursting of a blown up paper bag causes more pressure on the brain than nitro-glycerine, or morphine, which causes higher pressure than any other drug.

Lindbergh gives the League of Nations Transit Section detailed suggestions for aviation. Standardization of airways, uniform markings and signals, a comprehensive meteorological and radio reporting system, uniform regulations for clearing are suggested. The recommendations are sound, but the people are too busy to pay attention to recommendations from no matter how high a source.

Except in California and a few other States, we have not been able to agree on a code of automobile signals.

Doctors told Justice Hanson, in New York, that a thirteen-year-old boy, name not revealed, must die unless an operation was performed.

The mother would have no operation. Her son might be dying, but she had no right to "interfere with the Lord's plans. If He wanted to take the boy back, He had a right to him."

Justice Hanson, deciding that the Lord had no such plans, ordered an operation, in spite of the mother, and the boy will recover.

Educators between closing and opening of schools, discuss "What is education? What should it do? How can we form the young?" etc.

Educators should start with the meaning of the word "educate" and stick to that. It means "to lead out," to bring out of the youthful mind that which is in it. It does not mean to force the opinions of teachers on that youthful mind.

Dealing with raw materials, science and industry "educate" those materials, by bringing out the best that is in them.

They seek for hardness in steel, for resiliency and wear in rubber. They don't try to make rubber of steel, or steel of the rubber. But that is exactly the process applied to many young minds.

And for that reason, in reading the biographies of many successful men, you find that their first proof of real ability was their ability to evade the processes of education.

How quickly conditions change for inhabitants of this earth. Rivers, mountains and oceans exist no longer as OBSTACLES. The English Channel, once a great protection for that island "monopoly," is now a mere strip of rough water.

The British refuse to permit a tunnel under it, which shows that aviation has outgrown British common sense. Britain can't forget Napoleon, sitting on the French side, waiting for a favorable wind.

Famous Statuary Hall

Senator Morrill's Idea

Justin Smith Morrill suggested the plan of putting statues in the Capitol of prominent men from each state. The National Statuary hall, semicircular in shape and designed by Latrobe, after a Greek theater, is one of the most beautiful rooms of the Capitol. On the north side it has a colonnade of Potomac marble with white capitals, and a screen of similar columns on the south side supports a noble arch. The domed ceiling, decorated after that of the Roman Pantheon, springs 57 feet to a cupola by which the room is lighted. Above the door leading from the rotunda is Franzoni's historical clock. This room was the hall of representatives, and was the forum of debates by Webster, Clay, Adams, Calhoun and others whose names are indelibly associated with the history of congress. In 1864 at the suggestion of Senator Morrill of Vermont (then a member of the house) the room was set apart as a National Statuary hall, to which each state might send the statues of two of its distinguished citizens. Rhode Island was the first to respond, choosing Roger Williams and Nathaniel Greene.

Small Need for 'Gator

to Practice Speeding

At St. Augustine, Fla., there is perhaps the largest alligator farm in the world, having about 6,000 alligators of all sizes. A party was being shown around by a negro and they came at last to an alligator that weighed 1,200 pounds and was 800 years old. This 'gator was taking life easy and while we stood there, perhaps 15 minutes, he did not show by any outward signs that he was even alive. One of the party mentioned this to the guide, and that it must be nice to be an alligator, and he would not mind being one himself if all they had to do was to eat and sleep. On further reflection he asked the negro just what the alligators did do anyway, and the negro replied: "Well, suh, scientists done figger out that these 'gators done live to be 'bout 1,800 years old and I done guess them animals jes' figger that what little they got to do they done got plenty time to do it in."

At Least That

The traveler looked at the long list of calls and the numerous trains he had to catch during the week's trip. "I don't mind getting up early," he said, "but you've not even left time for meals."

"You can eat on the trains," replied the manager. "You can't waste time with all those calls to make."

The traveler departed and was again on the mat when the week was over.

"Well," said the manager, "how many orders?"

The traveler hesitated for a moment and then said cheerfully:

"Oh, I haven't got any orders, sir, but I caught all those bloodin' trains!"—Stratford Beacon Herald.

English Bible

Consider the great historical fact that, for three centuries, this book has been woven into the life of all that is best and noblest in English history; that it is written in the noblest and purest English and abounds in exquisite beauties of mere literary form; and, finally, that it forbids the veriest hind, who never left his village, to be ignorant of the existence of other countries and other civilizations and of a great past, stretching back to the furthest limits of the oldest nations of the world. By the study of what other book could children be so much humanized?—Thomas Huxley.

Presidential Expenses

In the days when Lincoln was President no traveling expenses were provided for by congress. About $2,000 a year was appropriated and known as a contingent fund. From this bills for stationery, printing, etc., were paid. So it is easily seen that little was left for traveling. Usually there were no traveling expenses for the President, as he traveled complementarily. The act of March 4, 1907, provided for an annual appropriation of $25,000 for traveling expenses for the President. This was the first actual appropriation for the purpose. This was in the administration of Theodore Roosevelt.

Temperature Variations

It is a fact that the sun is nearer the earth in winter than in summer in the northern hemisphere, but the difference between the summer and winter temperatures at a given place does not depend upon this fact, as may be seen from the fact that while it is winter in the northern hemisphere it is summer in the southern. The difference of temperatures is due to the different angles at which the sun's rays strike the earth's surface at the place in summer and in winter.

Beethoven Died Poor

How many people know that Beethoven actually died £100 in debt to the Philharmonic society, who had sent him the money on his death-bed, in the hope that they would be able to play his Tenth symphony? He acknowledged the advance by telling them that his new symphony was lying in his desk "completely sketched." But the work was never destined to be finished. It was only eight days later that Beethoven died.

Common pleas shall not follow the king, but shall be held in a fixed place. 3. Assizes to be held locally four times each year. 4. Fines shall not be excessive. 5. Local courts not to be ousted unreasonably of their jurisdiction. 6. Restrictions against long imprisonment without bail before trial. 7. A bailiff shall not bring a man to trial unless he can produce credible witnesses in support of the prosecution. 8. No person shall be punished except after judgment by his equals or according to the law. 9. Justice not to be sold, denied or betrayed. 10. Freedom of entering and leaving the realm except during the time of war. 11. Justices to be learned in the law. 12. No taxation except the three feudal aids already established shall be taken unless with the consent of the Commune Concilium. Magna Charta, originally the Great Charter of the liberties of England, was signed and sealed by King John at Runnymede, June 15, 1215. It was several times confirmed by his successors.

Rattler Has No Chance

With Little Mongoose

What is perhaps the best-known enemy of poisonous snakes is that furry, weasel-like creature, the mongoose. It is really an ichneumon, and there are several varieties, one found in the south of Spain, another in Egypt, and a third in India. It is easily tamed and will live in temperate as well as in hot climates. It kills and eats cobras, karatis and all kinds of snakes, and has lately been imported into the United States. In the Southwest rattlesnakes often take refuge in old gold and silver mines, and are a great danger to miners.

It is now usual, when an old mine is to be reopened, first to let down a mongoose or two into the shaft and leave them there for a couple of days before the men go down. By that time any rattlesnakes which happened to be in the depths have been killed and eaten.

Alphabet's History

The English alphabet came directly from the Latin. The Romans borrowed it from the Greeks; the Greeks from the Phoenicians. It is not known whence the Phoenicians obtained their alphabet. It has been suggested that the 22 characters were adopted from the hieroglyphics of Egypt, the cuneiform characters of Babylon, or the symbols used by the Hittites or Creteans. A theory widely accepted today is that the Phoenicians, being great traders and therefore familiar with the various systems of writing, used by the nations dwelling around the Mediterranean, chose from them such symbols as they needed and thus compiled their own alphabet.

Nova Scotia in Scotland

There is, it is said, a small area on Edinburgh castle near the entrance of the castle that is legally Nova Scotia under a law that has never been repealed, as told by H. V. Morton in his "In Search of Scotland." The explanation is that during the reign of Charles I this small area was declared Nova Scotian territory in order that newly made Nova Scotian barons might "take seizen" of their lands without crossing the Atlantic to do so. It is an interesting fact, therefore, that this piece of wall and pavement in the heart of Edinburgh is legally in Canada.

Principle Long Accepted

Gresham's law is a principle in finance and political economy, formulated about the middle of the sixteenth century by Sir Thomas Gresham, founder of the London Royal Exchange. The principle is: "Bad money drives out good money from circulation. The good coin (full weight and standard in purity) will be hoarded and the worn and thin, or light, coins will be used. Good money will also be used for export to other countries, where it will obtain more in exchange, while the light coins will be used at home, thus depreciating the national currency."

The Easiest Way

Too many people are absolutely indifferent to work. They take no interest in doing it exactly right, in doing it quickly, or getting it out on time. Life to them is just one long drawn-out dream of "getting by" in the easiest way, and with as little exertion as possible, of either mind or body. Their idea seems to be "To Let George Do It." Again, there are others, splendid examples of those who know what to do, and have the capacity and willingness to do their part. All such are great factors and forces in making a business go and grow.—New Albany Tribune.

Too Small

Little Virginia had a habit of saying that she "smelled" any particular thing she happened to desire. One day she went to visit her grandmother and learned there was candy in the house. So she said: "Grandma, I smell candy."

Grandmother produced a piece, but its size did not please Virginia. "Well, Grandma," she said sorrowfully, "I wouldn't have thought I could smell such a little piece as this."

POLICE NEWS

Monday night Patrolman Gaquin and Walked discovered seven bicycles in a shed at the rear of Edinboro street, Newtonville. The bicycles had all been stolen and two boys, one 16 and the other 9 were apprehended in connection with the thefts. The pair had built the little shed in which the bicycles were found, and had dismantled and then reassembled several of the bicycles to prevent them being identified. Two of the wheels were claimed by their owners. The boys had dug a small cellar under the shed and had hidden some of their loot in it. They will appear today in the juvenile session of the Newton court.

Paul Savini of 109 Hinsdale road, West Roxbury was fined $100 in the Newton court on Wednesday by Judge Bacon for driving while under the influence of liquor. Officers Burke and Feeley testified that on June 29 they caught Savini after they had noticed him driving zig-zag on Dedham street, Oak Hill and after he had forced another car off the street. Savini's defense was that the street had many ruts in it and he was driving crookedly to avoid them.

Probation Officer M. J. Enegess and family are spending the month at Old Orchard, Maine.

David Murdock, 17, of Empire street, Allston, and his brother, John Murdock, 24, of the same address each was fined $5 in the Newton court on Wednesday for speeding. Patrolman Joseph Kelly testified that a car driven by the younger Murdock, on the license of his brother, who accompanied him, was driven so fast by a street intersection in Nantum, that a woman was forced to jump out of its path to avoid being hit. Others fined for speeding were—Joseph McCarthy, 1407A Washington street, West Newton, $10; Renaldo Santucci, 418 Langley road, Newton Centre, $10; William Kelly, Northboro, $10; William Holm, Dorchester avenue, South Boston, $5.

The Newton police baseball team met its first defeat in the police league on Tuesday when it was defeated by the Watertown police by a score of 4 to 3. The game was played at Victory Field, Watertown.

MINORITY IN 1844 PICKED "TRIANGLE" FOR TOWN HALL SITE

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic: "Tis said that 'history repeats itself.' This statement gains affirmation if one compares happenings in our city with the trend of affairs in the old town a century ago. Newton has been stirred up the past few years, about a future city hall, matters coming to a head with the decision to erect the building upon the 'triangle site' in Ward six. The publicity of the past week regarding the building of a court house—and where—may be adjudged as supplementary to the city hall location.

Going back one hundred years, in the history of the city and town, or better to 1807, it will be found that the town fathers were concerned with political questions and town divisions not unknown today. Discussions were engendered along these lines for some thirty years, not always resulting in harmony. Dr. Smith's history of Newton, Chap. 37, Page 483, sketches very interestingly the various times from 1807 to 1844, a reading of which in this year, when most of the time-out doubt, be enjoyed by those who would gain a working perspective of what it is all about today—the impending city hall migration.

Briefly Newton of old was vexed by its size and the little or no concern, one outlying district had in the affairs of people living at the other extreme end of the town. The record has it that Newton Centre or the First Parish had the greater portion of the population outside of the thriving industrial communities of the Upper and Lower Falls. With the coming of the railroad to the north side numerically the West Parish began to expand and the added number of voters lent weight to the demand for greater recognition in town affairs. From early times town meetings had been held in the First Parish most of the time in the vestry or some part of the old First Church. This in our time would seem to be a hint of politics in the church, but in those days the town was not blessed with a hall. In 1830 there appears to have been a separation of church and state as 'the proprietors of the First Parish meeting-house objected to having the town meetings held there.' Then arose the mooted query, where build the town hall? The war was on for fair, talk of making two towns grew so serious that a bill to that effect occupied some of the attention of the General Court. Meanwhile for years the town hall site provoked acrimonious debate and set one district against another. And with time West Newton waxed greater, Newton Centre was 'it' till 1832, although several meetings by then had been held in the Baptist meeting house in Newton Centre and the West Parish meeting house in West Newton. So affairs developed as recorded on page 487 of the history, the town hall (no-of-war, West Parish vs. East Parish. In 1838, a slice of the south side territory was set off to Roxbury followed by further consideration of a division of the town.

Not till 1848-9 was the town hall site clinched. "The old Second Congregational meeting-house at West Newton was purchased by the town for $1800 and fitted up for a town hall." And with changes and enlargement upon occasion the one-time church does service today as the Garden City's City Hall. The growth of the city, present and future, and municipal affairs, suggest that nearly 90 years ago some of the town fathers visioned the 'city beautiful' that was to be. On page 491 to Dr. Smith states: "At a town meeting held March 25, 1844, majority and minority reports were presented to the town by a committee previously chosen. The majority report recommended the erection of a town-house at West Newton for the whole town, 'as likely to secure the greatest good to the greatest number.' The minority report recommended the erection of a town-house in the geographical center of the town, near the junction of the present road, so called, with Homer street."

And so it seems "the stone which the builders rejected has become the head of the corner," by reason of action taken by the Boards of Aldermen of 1927 and 1930.

THE MOTHERS' REST

Last year, 121 mothers and 210 children were given a two weeks' vacation away from home burdens and heat at the Mothers' Rest on Oak Hill. This year the list was filled before the Rest was opened and there is a waiting list.

Any doubt as to the worth while work is this work is dispelled by a visit to the Rest some morning or afternoon. The shining faces and happy antics of the children show how much they love it and it is such a boon to the tired mothers.

This very helpful charity is made possible each year by the membership dues of about 1200 men and women, augmented by one large subscription event during the winter. It is the ultimate goal of the officers of the Rest to have a sufficiently large membership so that it will not be so necessary for the annual drive for funds.

With this in view it is hoped that many people who have not already done so will send a check of at least two dollars to the Treasurer, Mrs. Geo. F. Richardson, Jr., 50 Marshall Street, Newton Centre, payable to Mothers' Rest Association.

Please don't postpone it until tomorrow—send a check today.

NO TRACE OF MISSING YOUTH

Albert Sirois of 425 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville, who disappeared on June 29 while at Lynn Beach has not been found. It was supposed that the young man was drowned while attempting the long swim from the beach to Egg Rock off Nahant. He mentioned his intention of trying this swim to a life guard at the beach and was advised not to attempt this hazardous feat. His clothing was found later in one of the dressing rooms at the State Bathhouse at Lynn Beach. He was employed as manager of a chain store in Newtonville.

TIGER, TIGER—

A powerful Tiger, an uncured Tiger, a Tiger subtle and pervasive. A Tiger whose power was unquestioned, had he not dominated mankind from early history? Had he ever been conquered? Had he ever been even chained? Mrs. Morrow pictures the demon of strong drink as it swayed our English speaking people one hundred years ago. But the purpose to overcome great powers for evil was strong in our forebears one hundred years ago.

At that time another Tiger, not so dangerous, as he only menaced the bodies, the freedom of man as related to other men. He was also unconquered although his territory was being continually restricted, and he had reason to fear final destruction, he was named Slavery, now he is gone from the earth! If he exists, it is as an outlaw in caves among the beasts. And he owed part of his defeat to a woman who wrote Uncle Tom's Cabin. Slavery passed away over 65 years ago. But the Tiger of the burning thirst is burning bright even yet, but his passing is very clear to the wide-eyed vision of the hosts who are upon his trail today.

And how does the conflict stand as compared with a century back? And who have inflicted upon the Tiger those staggering blows?

The terrible life history of John Gough's incessant conflict with that demon who destroys the body and soul of man was the result of the attitude of that time towards the drink habit. Temperance was little but a name, as liquor drinking was an accepted part of social and family custom, a sign of good cheer. Prohibition a word almost unheard. The mother of John Gough was remarkable for her charm, strong character, wisdom and spiritual vision, his father held a position of honor in the British Army. The son was no child of the slums, he had his first temptation as a child, drink was everywhere, the boy was thrown upon his own resources and came to America in his early teens, and succumbed to the tremendous power of the drink habit, as wherever he went he was exposed to its temptation, had he lived protected by the law, history would never have been written and he would never have been one of the causes of the 18th Amendment!

For he himself endowed with unusual mental grasp, personal magnetism and influence could hardly have been a prey of the beast if protected by the law as now from constant and open temptations. The youth who now chooses the path of intemperance must pay the price as a law-breaker, risking lasting disgrace and a ruined career. High places of human usefulness and efficiency are held far from any who by drink have weakened mind, body or will power.

Also the great industrial companies of the present debar all who indulge in liquor any positions in which safety for property and life must be reasonably assured.

Mrs. Morrow places woman's great crusade against the liquor traffic as one of the outstanding causes of its present dishonorable condition. Thus the past and present activity of the majority of women in the movement give a confident conviction that nothing except execution of the Tiger can follow his imprisonment. The last ten years have witnessed an amazing change in the atmosphere of most of our city streets with one exception, they are pervaded by a sense of safety from violence and a feeling of security from types of lawlessness too common in the past. Danger may be there but far from the open and its prey is usually of those who court it.

The greatest peril to personal safety is still drunkenness, by machine unknown to our ancestors. Our streets are full of peril from drunken, law breaking drivers of automobiles by whom thousands of our people are recklessly run down through a criminal speed limit or lack of limit, whether on country streets or city avenues. And now in spite of our wonderful progress in physical and mental well being through the 18th amendment, and our danger from acute perils yet to be faced—a cry is heard through the land to unchain the Tiger! Impossible—from whom? Not from the followers of the Tiger, for they are his greatest menace, but from good and wise people, and on two points.

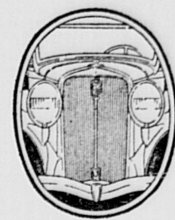

First the law not being enforced sufficiently must be repealed, as it increases lawlessness, and injures the morale of the people! That plea would abolish all law, for human nature ever struggles against restraint and restraint that antagonizes this hitherto conquering Tiger must conquer his power of destruction. The other plea is more subtle and may arise from a misapplication of the term, "Prohibition" to the amendment for the amendment is a call to Liberty and should be so heralded. Let the word Prohibition be applied to license to break all law through the power of this Tiger and the 18th Amendment be named as the Advance Call to Life Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness—as it really is through the destruction of the Tiger. Another confusion of ideas exists through a misunderstanding of religious freedom and moral responsibility. Man is allowed religious freedom because religion means individual relationship between man and God, and naturally is not another man's concern. But all good government is founded upon that moral responsibility of man to man for the good of body, mind and spirit of all men in their relationship to each other, to take away that sense of responsibility from national government would destroy the very foundations of the constitution which exists for law, liberty and the pursuit of happiness for the government and Good will and the essence of all life whether religious towards God, or exercised by man for man through government. Let us not be so blinded as to unchain the Tiger but let us uphold the 18th Amendment. The Advance call to Liberty.

Trace English Surnames

to Medieval Pageants

There are some names which might well puzzle the antiquarian. Take Whalebelly as an example. There are folk with this strange name in Norfolk. Whence came it?

The answer is: From the medieval pageants which were played all over Europe at one time, and of which the Passion play at Oberammergau is an almost unique survival. Whalebelly probably immortalized the performance of some forgotten actor who took the part, during the eight days' pageant held at Smithfield, of the whale which swallowed Jonah!

Other surnames which probably originated from these religious plays are Farrow (Pharaoh) and Asplin (Ab-salmon). Mildmay is another name with a religious origin. It is a corruption of the Virgin Mary. "Mild" was the recognized character of Mary, hence the formation of the modern well-known surname.

Here is an extract from "Stowe's Survey of London," a very famous old book. "The third lane out of Tower St. is called Mincheon lane, so called of tenements there, something pertaining to the Minchins of St. Helen's, Bishopsgate St."

Minchen comes from the German Monch, or Manchin, meaning monk or nun. Thus, Minchin lane, as it is now called, derives from the former residence of nuns there. It also gives us the modern surnames Minchin, Mincher, Minch and Mince.—London Mail.

"Grapevine" Method of Spreading News in City

In the neighborhood stores of the city there is an underground system of communications that rivals the drum signals of the African jungles. News is spread here as rapidly as was the coming of the British when Paul Revere made his famous ride. A jeweler is robbed, and in no time all the shopkeepers of the neighborhood know all about it. They know the details better, perhaps, than does the victim himself.

The butcher, whose store is next to the robbed jewelry store, runs half a block to tell his friend the delicatessen proprietor. The latter dashes along to pass the news to the tobacco shopkeeper. And so it goes. But when three or more gather to discuss it, words of wisdom issue forth. How to catch the robber, how to avoid being robbed, where the jeweler failed to safeguard his goods—nothing escapes attention. Most agree that the robbed one had too much money lying around and all agree they would not do so themselves.—New York Times.

The Flanders Chain

The "Flanders chain of good luck" seems to exist in Scotland in a number of copies, and it appeals to some kind of superstition. I see that a copy, emanating from Rumania, is described as containing about eighty names, mostly foreign, on a type-written carbon copy of foolscap, well filled with the names and the appeal. The receiver is asked to make nine copies and send them to friends, which would be not an indirect way of turning friends into enemies. And the further this document goes the longer it grows. This is a pretty good guarantee of its early demise, especially as there are no money prizes.—Weekly Scotsman.

Famous Beauty Is Hibiscus

It has been written of one of Florida's wild flowers that it "is probably the most gorgeous of all the plants indigenous to the United States." This superlative praise was given to a tall hibiscus that opens crimson flowers five to eight inches across, says Nature Magazine. Like several other species of wild hibiscus, this crimson-flowered one blooms in the borders of swamps in summer, at a time when low grounds in many places are gay with the southern red lily, whose upright solitary flower, of red and yellow spotted with purple, tops a stem set with many narrow erect leaves.

Preparing for Emergencies

Pat called upon his friend Mike, and found him sitting in his shed with the much-mended inner tube of his bicycle wheel over his knee.

"Puncture, Mike?" he asked sympathetically.

"Then why are you covering the tube with all those patches?" inquired Pat wonderingly.

His Punishment

An Irish fireman, rescuing a woman at a blaze, lost his hold near the bottom of the ladder and landed heavily with the woman on top of him. A doctor, hastily summoned, pronounced him sound, though badly bruised.

"You are a brave man," said the doctor.

"Brave, maybe, but no gentleman," replied the Irishman, rubbing his injuries, "for I'd have let the lady go first."

Master Mind

Executive ability implies something more than giving orders. It demands a thorough knowledge of what is being ordered. The real executive is one who is the absolute master of every little thing entering into his completed job.—Grit.

Newtonville Boy Nearly Drowned

Wilfred Babin, 15, of 146 Edinboro street, Newtonville, was saved from drowning in the Charles River at Forest Grove, Waltham, on Wednesday by Lifeguard Arthur Ledger who dove into the water after young Babin had gone down three times, and recovered the boy. The boy had jumped off the diving board and came up and went down so rapidly that he had disappeared before Ledger had time to rescue him. It is supposed Babin hit his head when he dove. Lifeguard McLeade revived Babin after a long application of the prone treatment. The boy was then taken to the Waltham Hospital.

George M. Cox Dies; Was Gas Co. Treas.

Funeral At St. Bernard's Church
Attended by Large Number

George M. Cox of 153 River street, West Newton, died on Saturday, July 19. He was born in Waltham in 1866 and the following year his parents moved to the house in West Newton where Mr. Cox resided the remainder of his life. He graduated from Newton High School in 1884 and in 1902 became associated with the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway as bookkeeper and advanced until he became general manager and vice-president of the company in 1914. In 1909 Mr. Cox was elected a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen from Ward 3 and continued in this office for six years. Ten years ago he became associated with the Boston Consolidated Gas Company as assistant-treasurer (Continued on Page 4)

Police News Truck Drivers Fined

Protests On Speedy Driving Show
Brakes in Poor Condition

An automobile owned by Cesidio Simonelli of 64 Broadway, Newtonville, was reported as having been stolen Wednesday night while parked in front of its owner's home. A small child, the daughter of Nelson Peabody of 1670 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton, became locked in the bathroom of the house on Thursday morning and an appeal was sent to police headquarters to have the child freed. Patrolman James Goddard responded and climbed to the temporary prison of the little girl by means of a ladder, and released her. Nineteen truck drivers were fined in the Newton court yesterday by Judge Bacon when found guilty of driving trucks equipped with defective brakes. These trucks are part of the big (Continued on Page 5)

Summer Sports In Full Swing—Boys

Tent No. 1 whose leader is John Boormeester of Dartmouth College is pioneering on the new land purchased last winter by money raised in the 50th. Anniversary campaign. This group of seven boys under the direction of their leader have cleared away the under brush, built tent platforms and erected their own tent, the first one on the new land. These boys will report on the desirability of this new land for camping purposes, they will know about mosquitoes if any, they will report on the temperature, the prevailing winds and any other conditions favorable or unfavorable to camping. Next week another group will move over to the new land and if the reports are favorable it is quite possible (Continued on Page 10)

Waltham Mayor Makes Threat

May Institute Suit To End Nuisance
At Charles River

With Waltham's big tercentenary event due in a couple of weeks and its success jeopardized by the low level of water in the Charles River, Mayor Patrick Duane of that city has politely intimated to Attorney Sherman Whipple who represents one of the corporations blamed for the present condition of the Charles between Waltham and Newton Lower Falls, that unless the situation is immediately remedied, he will institute equity proceedings. Waltham has been planning for months to have an elaborate pageant on the river on the evening of August 12. In past years the Watch City conducted river pageants which won much praise and as its tercentenary feature it determined to renew the river spectacle. But, because of the legal controversy between the Waltham Bleachery and the receivers of the Boston Manufacturing Company, so much water is being allowed to pass over the Moody street dam, or through the sluiceway nearby, that there is not enough water at present in the basin at Waltham to float even a diminutive raft and the floats in the proposed pageant will have to "float" on automobile trucks rather than on the Charles River unless the level of the stream is raised to its normal height. Not alone is the proposed Waltham pageant in jeopardy, but the business of canoe livery at Norumbega and Riverside has been ruined for this season, residents along the river must gaze on unsightly mud-flats instead of a quiet flowing stream and the odors emanating from the freshly exposed flats cause those living in the district bordering the basin to worry about malaria and other diseases. It is probable that unless some relief is afforded within the near future by co-operation from the Waltham corporations held responsible for the river nuisance, residents of Auburndale and West Newton will demand that the City Government of Newton and the Legislators of this district will aid Mayor Duane in the endeavor to restore the river level to its ordinary elevation.

Two-Alarm Fire At Newton Highlands

at Highland Mills

A stubborn fire which broke out in the Highlands Mills off Needham street, Newton Highlands about 6.15 last evening destroyed the large hay shed, valued at about $7000 and practically destroyed about $12,000 of hay and grain. Two alarms were sounded from Box 651, the first coming in at 6.18 and the second at 6.22. Most of the apparatus in the city responded and the firemen had a couple of hours trying work, first facing the stifling smoke in the battle to prevent the flames from reaching the large elevator and then pulling out heavy smoldering bales of hay. The mill buildings were erected about 30 years ago by the late H. W. Crowell and in recent years have been conducted by C. Fred Spring and Marshall Spring; Charles A. Barrows having been manager for many years. The fire was supposed to have been started by a short circuit in the wiring which was caused by a short circuit in a transformer box nearby on Needham street.

Newton Library Well Patronized New Branches Stimulate Interest

Residents Of This City Continue To Read, Despite Allurements
Of Radio and Movies

That this city ranks high as an intellectual centre is proved by the annual report of the Newton Free Library, distributed this week.

According to the report of Mrs. Virginia M. Hutchinson, chairman of the trustees, the young folks of Newton, and the older folks, are still obtaining enjoyment from the reading of books, despite competition from movies, radio and automobiles. The report of Librarian Julius Lucht shows the extension of library facilities in this city through the erection of new branch buildings made possible by public spirited citizens. The reports follow:

The Trustees of the Newton Free Library present herewith their annual report for the year 1929.

Our library statistics for the past year prove again that in spite of the time given to the radio, motion pictures, and motor cars, our citizens have not lost the habit of reading. Newton has the largest per capita circulation of books of any city of its size in the state and with few exceptions in the country.

An added source of satisfaction is the large proportion of that circulation in children's books. Contributing causes to this interest are an excellent children's librarian, the co-operation of the schools, and the delightful story-telling of Mr. and Mrs. Cronan. Mr. Cronan's vivid presentation of a story like "Treasure Island" can hardly fail to start a boy in search of that perennially thrilling tale of adventure, and then in search of other books, and thus perhaps give him one of the best assets of life—a love of reading. Our trust funds make possible this story-telling, but they are not adequate without additional sums from the different communities. We appreciate the gifts from some of the Women's Clubs for this purpose, and suggest it as one of the best of causes to educational committees in other clubs.

The fund started in 1924 by a gift of $500.00 from Mr. Frank H. Howes, then President of the Board, for a duplicate pay collection of books produced last year an income of $3,249.75. Mr. Howes made the gift with no fixed stipulation for its use, so that a part of that income we have used as we do the income from other trust funds—for story-telling, pictures, and books which we could not purchase out of city funds.

Our new branch buildings continue to be a source of pride and satisfaction. The friends of Mrs. Elery Peabody have given to the West Newton Branch as a memorial to her four very handsome bronze lanterns. Mrs. Peabody was among the pioneers in Newton in the work of interesting a community in a branch library building, and in face of all the difficulties that always confront a pioneer, she saw the work through. It is very fitting that a suitable memorial to her should be in that fine building.

The Garden Club of Newton Centre made the very gracious gift to the Newton Centre Branch of a garden and its maintenance. In memory of Mrs. Eliza Frances Sylvester, her daughters gave a charming sun dial for the center of the garden. The con-

On December 31, 1929, we had a stock on hand of 140,267 accessioned volumes. There were catalogued during the year 10,077 volumes, and we withdrew 6,440. About one-sixth of our total collection is classified as juvenile.

Last year we reported the total of registered borrowers as 22,158; the number is now 22,414, an increase of 256. Since, in a considerable number of families, one card serves for several borrowers, the proportion of Newton people using the library is probably far above one-third of the population. Juvenile cardholders, that is, children up to the tenth grade in school, number 6,430.

After the very large increase of over $3,000 in circulation in 1928, we could hardly expect a large gain this year. In 1928, the number of books issued for home use was 641,211; in 1929 it was 647,441, a gain of a little less than one per cent. Our per capita circulation for a population of 60,000 was 10.8. Of the total circulation, 54 per cent were novels for adults.

On July 1, soon after the completion of the new building at the Newton Hospital, we began book service to the patients. The Hospital provided us with the latest model of hospital book truck, and with a room for our book collection. Miss Spector has given two afternoons each week to this work, and 3,333 volumes have been circulated at the bedside of the patients in these six months. This is an average of 64 for each afternoon. Both patients and hospital staff are very grateful for this service.

CITY EMPLOYEES LOCAL NO. 175

At a very large meeting of the Newton City employees Local No. 175 held in Bay State Hall, Friday evening, July 18, fourteen new members were initiated being a fine addition to the already large membership. Several new applications were read and it is expected that at the first meeting in August there will be a still larger initiation. Representative John J. Tuohig of South Boston was the principal speaker and gave a review of the good work done legislatively by the Federation of State, City and Town employees especially work of the Newton local. His talk was interesting and instructive. The National President John C. Murch of Cambridge also spoke.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

A large truck owned by Treseca Brothers of Newton Centre and operated by Joseph Spezzano of 97 Florence street, Newton Centre, collided last Thursday with a sedan driven by Louise Barnes of North Stoughton, badly damaging the car. The accident occurred on Washington street near the incline from Lewis terrace.

SPECIAL MEETING OF ALDERMEN

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be held next Monday night, July 28th, to make certain necessary appropriations. The amount of these appropriations will have bearing on the tax rate which will be announced by the end of this month. It is hoped that the rate will not exceed that of last year.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Local Players in Longwood Tourney

Several local players participated in the Longwood Tennis tournaments last week. Malcolm and Hill and Henry L. Johnson, Jr., Waban cousins, who have been playing doubles for years, survived the longest. In the doubles tourney they reached the semi-final round without much difficulty but there they were eliminated by Clifford Sutter and Maurice Bayon, in a five-set struggle, 6-3, 2-6, 5-7, 6-1, 6-1. In singles Johnson, who won the New England intercollegiate title this spring, reached the quarter finals where he was put out by W. Barry Wood, star Harvard athlete. Hill was eliminated in the previous round by Ed. Jacobs of Baltimore. Arthur Noble had the misfortune to draw Sidney B. Wood, Jr., one of the finalists, as his first-round opponent. Francis Broughton, another local entry, lost to Richard Murphy, one of the four semifinalists, in the opening round.

Local Golfers Share Spotlight
Fred Wright of the Albemarle Golf Club and Bill Blaney of Brae Burn, were the finalists in the State amateur golf championships at Salem last Saturday. Wright, for the third successive year, and the fifth time in the past decade took the title with a margin of 7 up and 5 to play over Blaney. Many other well known local golfers participated in the tourney.

RED CROSS LIFE SAVING

For the week ending July 19th, the following have passed their Junior Life Saving tests under the instruction of the Red Cross instructors at Crystal Lake: William Morgan, Leonard Morgan, Walter Moore, Walter Johnson, Yvonne Berge, Barbara Wilson, Alice Waters, and Claudia Bassett.

Up to July 17th, 51 boys and girls have passed their Beginners' tests and 33 their Swimmers' tests, these tests being conducted also, of course, at Crystal Lake. With the new bath house completed and open, the work of the Playground officials, and of the Life Saving instructors is now becoming systematized so that this really worth while form of outdoor exercise and pleasure, as well as helpfulness for others, is well under way. One of the noticeable features this year about the work at Crystal Lake is the increased interest on the part of the boys and girls to learn to swim and all the assistants at the lake are being kept busy with this work.

The Red Cross cordially invites any of its supporters to visit the lake during the period of instruction and by their presence encourage the work of the instructors.

ROTARY CLUB

The wide spread influence of Rotary was noticeable on Monday at the weekly luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club held at the Woodland Golf Club, when visitors from far distant California and Ontario and more local points were present.

It was also manifested in the speaker of the day, Rev. Thurston R. Hinkle, principal of the Iolani school at Honolulu. Mr. Hinkle gave a most interesting sketch of the history as well as present day conditions in Hawaii.

KIWANIS CLUB

The regular weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club was held on Tuesday, July 22, at the Old Venice Restaurant in Norumbega Park. A large group of visiting Kiwanians were present among who were the president of the newly organized Needham Club, the president of the Somerville Club and District Trustee Magrange from Racine, Wisconsin. The attendance prize was won by Matt Calhoun.

The singing was under the direction of W. U. Fogwill who presented Joe Hickey as a soloist. Mr. Hickey sang the Stein Song as only Rudy Vallee could play it. Past President Walter Whalin introduced the speaker of the day, Registrar of Motor Vehicles George A. Parker who gave a very interesting talk on the inner workings of his office. Mr. Parker gave many interesting humorous instances of people coming to him seeking low numbered registration plates.

A former United States Senator and at present a candidate for the Republican Nomination for that office is scheduled to speak at the club next Tuesday.

NEWTON FIREMEN ASSIST AT SPECTACULAR WALTHAM BLAZE

A fire which destroyed the old Davis & Farnum foundry in the Bleachery district at Waltham early Thursday morning brought five pieces of apparatus from this city to assist the Waltham firemen in preventing what might have developed into a very costly conflagration. The foundry has not been operated for five years and the blaze was thought to be of incendiary origin. The fire was discovered shortly after 2 o'clock by a watchman in the Noyes-Buick storehouse nearby. The Noyes Company, Buick distributors for New England had hundreds of new cars stored in the former Metz factory buildings, one end of which adjoins the site of the foundry.

Hose 8 of Nonantum and Engine 1 of Newton went to the fire at 2:18 when some person pulled an alarm from the box at the Aetna Mills in Bemis. Shortly afterwards an unauthorized alarm was pulled from Box 281 on North street and this brought Engines 2 and 4 and Ladder 1 to the fire which was not far removed from the North street box. Apparatus also came from Watertown, Belmont and Lexington and the combined forces confined the blaze to the tinder like old foundry structures, except that one end of a frame building occupied by the Noyes Company became ignited and a few freight cars on a spur track were scorched. The loss is estimated at about $50,000.

Tolerance Test

The acid test of a people's tolerance is its reaction to an old-fashioned umbrella in a crowded street on a wet and gusty day.—Detroit Free Press.

There's No Place Like It

Where you can cut the head lettuce with a knife and eat an orange without a spoon, that's home—my boy that's home.—Hartford City News.

Bomb-Proof Auto

The most costly and luxurious automobile ever brought to China was built in the United States for the president of the Nanking government. The whole of the metal work on the body of the limousine, and even the hood, is of half-inch thick navy steel plate, which is designed to shed the bullets or bombs of would-be assassins. Two extra seats project from the back of the car, built high enough to permit the occupants to see forward over the hood. These will be occupied by special guards with machine guns. The running boards are unusually long, for guards to stand, each with a revolver in hand.

Lump of Luck

One day, in the spring of 1903, two navvies quarreled while at work on a rough railway track made for hauling lumber. High words led to blows and one man flung an axe at the other. It missed him but struck a boulder, splitting it in two and showering up in its heart a mass of glittering whiteness. It was a lump of almost pure silver—and the miracle silver city, Cobalt, in Northern Ontario, came into existence.

Penalty for Fighting

Stags, moose, caribou, and elk often fight so furiously that their horns are hopelessly interlocked and the animals starve or die of exhaustion.—Country Home.

SPORT NOTES

Cronin Still Hitting

Although Bill Cronin's hitting average dropped last week the West Newton youth who is making good as a catcher on the Boston Braves boosted it to .292 on Sunday. He caught the second game of the double header, the Braves winning 13 to 1, and got three hits out of five times up. One was good for two bases. He drove in two runs and scored twice himself. He also made his first error in 88 chances in the twenty-nine games he has been in.

Wilson Wins Walk

Edgar G. Wilson of Newton, representing the B. A. A., won the three-mile walk at the annual N. E. A. A. U. track and field championships at Quincy last Sunday. He also won a place on the team to be sent to the National A. A. U. championships at Pittsburgh next month. Wilson defeated Harry L. Clark of the West End K. of C. 1929 champion. The latter started at a fast pace but could not hold it. Wilson caught him at the half-way mark, took the lead and was never threatened. His time was 23 minutes, 6 1/5 seconds, but two seconds slower than the record made by Clark on the same track last year. Wallace Fullerton, a former Newton High track captain and schoolboy star, placed third in the 220 yard low hurdles.

FIRE RECORD

Two still alarms were received Tuesday evening. One at 9:20 was for a slight fire in the house at 19 Clinton street, owned and occupied by Patrick Costigan. The second alarm at 10:45 was for a slight blaze in the house at 205 Watertown street, Nonantum. Hose 8 responded to both of these calls.

CRYSTAL LAKE BATHHOUSE OPENED

The new bathhouse at Crystal Lake, Newton Highlands, was opened last Saturday. According to the regulations passed by the City Government to govern the use of this bathhouse, residents of this city are supposed to obtain permits which allow them the use of the new structure and its facilities. Following a conference between the Mayor and the Playground Department, it was decided not to attempt to issue permits while the unusual hot spell was on, due to the great number of applicants. Thousands of persons have thronged the lake every day and evening, many of these being non-residents from outside the city.

MAN FALLS OFF POLE

William Muse, 42, of Knollin street, Malden, a limeman employed by George W. Ellis of Boston, was overcome by the heat Saturday while engaged in removing wires from one of the abandoned poles of the Middlesex & Boston Company on Commonwealth avenue near Centre street, Newton Centre. He fell about 25 feet to the ground and was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance. He was injured internally.

This Week

by ARTHUR BRISBANE

Affection, Then Science.
Warnings Against Reds.
Sarnoff Sees Ahead.
Racketeer Thoroughness.

Dr. Frankel, learned Metropolitan Life expert, says the philosophic mind rules the child best.

Between the ages of three and fifteen, according to Dr. Frankel, each child goes through all the various stages through which the human race as a whole has passed, from the Stone Age to the present day.

"The philosophic mind," knowing that a young child is a young barbarian, and cannot be anything else, does not foolishly expect too much, and force the child to be a hypocrite.

However, one thing is more important in the bringing up of children than the philosophic mind, or anything else, and that is affection, and especially the love of a mother.

No science can take the place of that.

It is to the mind's expansion and healthy growth what food is to the body. There is no substitute.

Mr. Elihu Root, very able man, advocates a special national police to keep track of "reds," Communists, that by secret means, according to Mr. Root, "aim at the destruction of our Government."

The Government should keep itself informed concerning the activities of all secret societies, no matter what their character. The less secrecy in a republic, the better.

And while a special national police might discourage activities of "reds," prosperity would discourage them more.

What quinine is to malaria, prosperity is to Communism. When men have something to divide, they lose their interest in dividing.

Bobby Jones has taught an anti-gambling lesson to Lloyd's, the great British insurance company.

At the beginning of this golf season Lloyd's, which takes all kinds of wagers, bet 50 to 1 that Bobby Jones would not win the four great golf championships in succession.

Now he has won three of them, and those that bet against him seeking to insure themselves against loss, request Lloyd's to bet that Jones will not win his fourth match.

Lloyd's says "No, it will cost you one thousand pounds to get a thousand pounds insurance against Jones' victory," which means that the victory is considered certain.

Professor Passey, British, of Leeds University, discovers that mustard gas prevents cancer. It is hailed as "the first discovery of a true anti-carcinogenic agent."

Mice, used in the experiment, may save the lives of many humans.

David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America, like all successful men, has imagination as well as executive capacity.

He believes that television, providing "a theatre for every home, although the stage may be only a cabinet, and a curtain the screen, is, I believe, the distinct promise of the new era of electrical entertainment."

Mr. Sarnoff sees in the latest gift of science to the human race the promise of "a new culture." 10,000,000 homes in the United States now "draw nightly upon the programmes of the air for the family entertainment."

Mr. Sarnoff, young and remarkably able, believes that this generation will see the greatest actors, orators, clergymen and singers moving and hear their voices in their homes. That is modern magic.

According to science, we all came from the ocean. The little germ of earth life first started safe in the salt sea. It developed. Some enterprising sea-dweller crawled or was washed ashore. Then earth life began, and that developed, through evolution. Some ran, some hopped, some climbed. Some burrowed in the ground. Some flew, and became birds. They stopped thinking then because flying made them safe, and thinking became unnecessary.

The weakest of them, with small teeth, useless nails, not much strength and little speed had to use their brains. That's how we arrived. Scientists tell you that.

And to this day human beings, and many other animals, tend to go back to the sea at intervals.

The ocean attracts them. Some want to be buried in it, many are unhappy unless they are afloat on it. Others want their bodies burned and ashes scattered on the salt waters.

When you contemplate the work of modern gangs, you find that you are dealing with efficiency and thoroughness.

Twenty firms in New York's dress industry tell the police that they have paid at the rate of two million dollars a year to racketeer-gangsters.

It is no exaggeration to say that gangsters, racketeers and bootleggers in this country collect an annual revenue greater than that of the national Government, which, as you know, collects many billions. That may have something to do with "hard times." Too many kinds of taxation—national, State, municipal and racketeer.

Tobacco Once Banned

by Church and State

The infatuation of the first European tobacco smokers for the outlandish weed was regarded as a mania, if not something worse, says a writer in Good Health Magazine. It is on record that the relatives of Catharine de Medici ascribed her fondness for the fumes of the transatlantic weed to a penchant for magic and poison-mongery. Sultan Amurah IV refused the terms of a speculator who offered an enormous sum for the privilege of selling tobacco in the harbors of Asia Minor, and for half a century the Turkish officers enforced the law which sentenced a smoker to having his pipe thrust crosswise through his nose, probably as an emblematic punishment for his sins in offending the noses of his fellow men. In Novgorod, Russia, as late as 1623, a party of smokers were caught in flagrante, and by order of the magistrate were forced to swallow a bagful of the weed, after having their pipes broken over their heads. Pope Innocent XI refused to sanction the promotion of any priest who had acquired the filthy habit, which King James I, in his "Counterblast to Tobacco," describes as "a custom loathsome to the eye, hateful to the nose, harmful to the brain, dangerous to the lungs, and in its black, stinking fumes nearest resembling the horrible Stygian smoke of the pit that is bottomless."

Unique Church Used by

Benedictines as Shrine

When one thinks of a famous church one naturally thinks of one great in age, great in architecture or great in its historic associations. One finds none of these characteristics in the little church on the Kentucky side of the Ohio river, and so, perhaps, one can hardly refer to it in the same manner one refers to Westminster, Cologne, Notre Dame or Santa Sophia. It may not be a famous church, but it is at least unique, for it is the smallest church in the world, capable of accommodating but three or four worshippers, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. The small brick structure was built in 1890 by some brothers of the Benedictine order, who used it as a shrine during the years they were engaged there in the making of sacramental wine. During the years of its use it contained an altar, the usual church candles, a crucifix and pews for the accommodation of three persons. But it is no longer used as a church, though still owned by St. Joseph's parish of Covington. The interesting structure the smallest church in the world, is on the Highland pike, two miles south of Covington.

Safeguard Against Poison

Bottles of poison may be made less dangerous for householders by having pins stuck into their corks as a warning device, suggests the national safety council in Chicago. Although many druggists now sell poisonous substances in bottles distinguishable either by peculiar shape or sharp points, nevertheless the average home has various deadly chemical compounds such as rat poisons and disinfectants which are kept unmarked in the pantry or bathroom, says Popular Science Monthly. Many cases of fatal poisoning occur each year, the council states, because of carelessness in handling drugs in the home.

If the corks of all poison bottles were studded with good-sized pins they probably would make the user examine the bottle before sampling the contents.

America's Gift to Victoria

H. M. S. Resolute, forming part of the expedition sent in search of Sir John Franklin in 1852, was abandoned in latitude 74 degrees 41 minutes north, longitude 101 degrees 22 minutes west, on the 15th of May, 1854, says an article in Pathfinder Magazine. She was discovered and extricated in September, 1855, in latitude 67 degrees north by Captain Ruddington, of the United States whaler, George Henry. The ship was purchased, fitted out and sent to England as a gift to her majesty Queen Victoria, by the President and people of the United States, as a token of good will and friendship.

"Valentine Scrip"

The Land Office says that a number of years ago Thomas B. Valentine was given title to some land, which for one reason or another he did not take up. The government then issued to him scrip, which was to be used for land in some other section in the country, and this came to be known as "Valentine scrip." Each certificate was for a 40 acre tract of land, and the scrip was assignable by Valentine. This was perhaps the only scrip which may be used on unsurveyed land, and for that reason was very desirable.

Making Plants Luminous

It is stated that a German gardener has discovered a plan for injecting phosphorus into plants, thus making them luminous at night. The experiment was demonstrated at the Berlin flower show, when a large number of cacti, of all shapes and sizes were inoculated, and that, as the luminous quality concentrates in the spines, they appeared to be dotted with brilliant points of light that radiate in the darkness like glow worms.

RELIABILITY ECONOMY GOOD PERFORMANCE

THE NEW FORD TUDOR SEDAN

YOU are buying proved performance when you buy a Ford. You know it has been built for many thousands of miles of satisfactory, economical service.

Letters from users in every part of the world show the value of the sound design of the car, good materials and accuracy in manufacturing. You sense a feeling of sincere pride in the oft-repeated phrase—"Let me tell you what my new Ford did."

Further tribute to the sturdiness, reliability and general all-round performance of the new Ford is shown in the repeated and growing purchases by government bureaus, by police departments, and by large industrial companies which keep careful day-by-day cost records. In most cases, the new Ford has been chosen only after exhaustive tests covering speed and power, safety, comfort, ease of control, oil and gas consumption, low yearly depreciation, and low cost of up-keep.

They have found, as you will find, that the Ford embodies every feature you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

His Daddy Different

Charlie, age four, whose father is a druggist, was visiting an uncle who lived in the country. One evening he went with him to do the milking. After watching the proceedings awhile, the little fellow said: "My father doesn't pump cows."

Happy Days!

A woman writer remarks that when men marry they are usually in a daze. Maybe that is what they call happy days. A carping critic retorts that the girl herself is usually in trance formation.

"Spying" Defined

The principal characteristic of the offense of spying is a clandestine dissimulation of the true object sought, which object is an endeavor to obtain information with the intention of communicating it to the hostile party.

The naval observatory says that the tail of a comet is composed of matter ejected by the comet under the influence of the radiation of the sun and, of course, more abundantly the nearer the comet gets to the sun.

We trust the younger generation of voters will not get the impression that prohibition is an unusual method of handling the liquor problem. Far from it. The attempt to regulate and control the use of intoxicating liquors is a progressive growth, the better element placing new restrictions as the older ones become obsolete. We can remember the days when high license fees were imposed in an attempt to control the traffic. It is true that this method reduced the so-called "Kitchen barrooms" as the licensees aided the police in this direction in order to have all the business themselves. Then came local option, whereby each community voted each year whether licenses should be granted or not. Newton, we recall, with one or two exceptions consistently voted "NO," but with Boston always voting "YES," it was fairly easy to obtain intoxicating liquor. In every method in the past, the liquor interests have always evaded the restrictions imposed by law, selling to minors, selling after closing hours, selling on Sundays, selling to persons already drunk and flooding dry territory with intoxicants of every name and nature. It is this condition which makes every person cognizant with the situation, dread the idea of any return to former methods. National prohibition is a growth of fifty year's struggle with vicious interests and there must not be any retreat from our present stand against the saloon and all its sponsors.

We hope that those Republicans who voted for Senator Walsh two years ago are satisfied with his vote against the London Naval Treaty.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY WELL PATRONIZED

The interest in our collection of mounted pictures is growing rapidly. There were added 1,174 pieces, making a total of 19,170. The number of pictures lent increased from 7,641 to 10,365. We have outgrown our filing cases, and five new cases are needed for proper rearrangement and for the growth of the next few years. More lantern slides have been lent, and our lantern also is in constant demand. There has also been a larger demand, from boys and girls, for the stereograph views. For most of the year the full time of one assistant is now needed to care for our "art department."

The new floor of book stacks at the Main Library was finished in January, after which the entire book collection had to be rearranged. The books on the two main floors open to the public are now arranged much more logically than formerly, and all overcrowding is done away with, much to the satisfaction of all users. The painting of the delivery and catalog rooms completes the painting on the main floor. Considerable work still remains to be done on the ground floor, —children's room, school department, and Jewett Hall, which we hope the Building Department will be able to undertake in 1930.

At Newtonville, the City generously gave us permission to rent the store adjoining our branch, thus doubling our floor space. Much work had to be done to make the new quarters fit for library work, and the enlarged library was not ready for use until the last week of the year. The shelf space is increased considerably and the seating capacity doubled. The large south window of the new part furnishes daylight and air which we missed in the old store. The space given over to the children is also a great asset.

We lost this year two good library assistants, both of whom had been on the staff for four years. Miriam Putnam, head of the branch department, accepted a responsible position with the Bookshop for Boys and Girls in Boston, and Dalma Mihalyi was forced to resign because of illness. Their positions were filled by promotion from the regular staff, and in turn several part-time helpers were promoted to full time assistants. Several transfers were also made from branch to branch, or from the Main Library to a branch, and in all of these various shiftings an excellent spirit of co-operation was shown.

Ours is a library on wheels. Our trucks transported 40,610 volumes from the Main Library to the nine branches, and 37,618 volumes were returned from the branches. On the house-to-house delivery at Chestnut Hill and Oak Hill, 28,384 books were delivered to borrowers and returned again to us. A little more than 11,000 books were hauled to schools and back again, about 3,500 books were delivered to our Waltham binder and returned, and more than 7,000 new purchases were brought from our Boston jobber. This makes a total of about 150,000 volumes transported, which is a larger number than our total accessions.

Our readers are more and more asking us to reserve for them books that are in circulation. We filed 26,393 such reserves in 1929, 4,613 at the main library and 21,780 at the branches.

I am very grateful to you for your encouragement in our effort to make the library of large usefulness to the community we serve.

Respectfully submitted,
JULIUS LUCHT,
Librarian.

Her funeral service was held yesterday afternoon at her late home and the remains were taken to Bangor, Maine for interment.

Get Rich Quick

He who wishes to become rich wishes to become so immediately.—Juvenal.

Use of Ducking Stool

Common in Old Times

The ducking stool was never in the New England colonies very common. It was used more extensively in the Southern colonies, especially Virginia. But wherever it was used it was reserved for one purpose; to reprove scolding women. In New England there were not many places where the ducking stool was especially favored, though it may be that the magistrate who ordered a woman ducked, "when the weather became more reasonable," may have given a hint as to the reason.

There is a record of a woman who was unfortunately drowned while being ducked. The ordinary practice in ducking was to submerge the duckee for about a half minute. She was then brought to the surface for air and asked if she repented; if she began again where she was when she was interrupted, she was dropped into the pond again, and this process was kept up until she promised to be good.

Frequently it was surprising how much water was necessary to quench the fire of feminine tempers. The woman who was drowned had been ducked several times and finally her unaccountable silence inspired the duckers to investigate, whereupon she was found to be dead. This was considered to be unfortunate but her own fault.—Boston Herald.

Claim Definite Proof

of Mother Earth's Age

Halley, of comet fame, tried to find out the earth's age by calculating the time it took the rains and rivers to wash the salts from the lands into the oceans. Geologists likewise calculated the time it took for rivers to deposit their deltas, for the Niagara to gouge out its gorge and for the geological strata to be laid down. But all such methods were defective. Like hour-glasses, neither the rivers nor the sands ran uniformly.

In uranium physicists claim to have at last found a reliable self-recording clock, says the Los Angeles Times. Disintegrating, it gives off gases and the final residue is lead, the rate of disintegration being definitely known. After three billion years an ounce of uranium would not weigh an ounce; nearly one-third of an ounce would be represented by lead. As uranium is always found associated with .306 per cent of its own weight in lead, it is easy to calculate that some three billion years have elapsed since the first lead was formed.

Registering Trade Marks

Trade marks were first registered under laws of the United States in 1870, under the act of July 8, 1870. During 1870 there were 121 registrations under that law, the first thereof (No. 1) under date of October 25, 1870, by Averill Chemical Paint company of New York. Prior to the enactment of this law protection was sought to be secured in a few instances through taking out patents for designs for trade marks. The act of July 8, 1870, within a few years was declared void by the United States Supreme court (trade mark cases) as unconstitutional. The subsequent act of March 3, 1881, was superseded by the act of February 20, 1905, which was supplemented by the acts of May 4, 1906, and March 19, 1920, all of these three now in force.

Another Record

There was a tremendous crash. Farmer Jones, who was working in one of his cowsheds, rushed out into the farmyard, and, looking up into a nearby tree, he saw a small airplane lodged in the topmost branches.

"What do you think you're doing?" he asked the airman, who had, fortunately, escaped injury and was in the act of climbing down the tree.

"I was trying to create a new air record," returned the other sadly.

"And you've succeeded," exclaimed the farmer. "You're about the first chap who has climbed down a tree without first climbing up."

Thunderstorms and Buds

There is a common belief that a loud thunderstorm will cause the young buds on trees to grow so rapidly that the difference in the rate of growth is noticeable even to the casual observer. Scientists do not believe that the noise of loud thunder has any particular influence on the rate of growth either in the plants or the buds. Thunderstorms are usually accompanied by rain, and if the buds come out rapidly after a thunderstorm it is due to the shower which accompanies the storm rather than the thunder.

Famous English Pottery

The pottery made at Barnstable, England, is known as Barum ware. The first productions were small jugs which came under the notice of a London firm and which helped develop the business. In 1885, Queen Victoria purchased some of this ware. The designs consisted mainly of foliated and bird ornament, of conventional scrolls, flowers, fishes, etc. Originally the colors were only white and red, but later rich combinations of yellow, blue, green and others were used. The pottery is of ordinary earthenware.

Colonial Paper Money

Massachusetts began to issue paper money in 1690; South Carolina, 1702; Connecticut, 1709; New York, 1709; New Jersey, 1709; Rhode Island, 1710; New Hampshire, 1709-10; North Carolina, 1712-13; Pennsylvania, 1739; Virginia, 1755, and Georgia, 1755.

Americans as a Nation

Laughs and Talkers?

The American laugh is most impressive. Laughing is a very important emotional expression and one learns a lot about character through careful observation of the way people laugh. Carl G. Jung, writes in the Forum.

There are some folk who suffer from a crippled laughter. It is just painful to see them laugh, and the sound of that shrill, evil, compressed rattle almost makes you sick. America as a nation can laugh. This means a lot; it means that there is still childlikeness, a soundness of emotion, an immediate rapport with fellow beings.

This laughter goes hand in hand with a remarkable vivacity and great ease of expression. Americans are great talkers. Gossip even extends into monstrously big newspapers, so that the talking goes on even when you are reading.

The style of "good" American writing is a talking style. When it is not too flat, it is just as refreshing and exhilarating to us Europeans as your laughter. But often, alas, it is just chattering—the noise of the big ant heap.

Cynicism Confuted by

Man's Belief and Hopes

It seems the fashion now to find a cynical motive at the root of every good deed, to reduce all nobler emotions and impulses to some unsavory form of sex complex. I have even heard those who are proud of their "sophistication" explain mother love as a form of sex gratification! These things are the fashion now. But there are no fashions in human beings. Beneath the changing mannerisms and garments on the different generations, men and women are what they always have been. They want the same things. They believe in the same things.

They believe that virtue is always rewarded and evil is always punished. Hokus? Yes, but they are wiser than the critics. They believe these things because these things are true. Goodness may not be rewarded by money, evil may not be punished by hanging. But there are rewards and punishments that cannot be seen by the naked eye.—Cecil B. De Mille in Motion Picture Classic.

Faith in a Few Things Best

Channing said truly, "No one is so tempted to believe too little as the person who began by believing too much." Or, rather, too many things, trying to see in detail the fashion of things to be, making an Atlas of Eternity. In reaction against what it deems the over-belief of other days, our generation has fallen into an underbelief, far below what is its right. If our fathers asked how good is the most that we can mean by the word "God," their sons ask how real is the least we can mean by it. What we need is not faith in more things, but more faith in a few profound things which make us men, whereas men in all ages have derived inward sustaining hope. For we are moved most deeply not by many things we try to believe, but by the few things we cannot persuade ourselves to disbelieve.—The Churchman.

The Bachelor's Pie

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the food expert, ended a eulogy of rhubarb with an anecdote.

"There was a bachelor mason in my native Kent," he said, "who used to cook his own food, and one day he came to work with a pie over two feet long fastened to the top of his lunch basket.

"What have you got there, Joe?" the boss asked him.

"A pie. What do you think?" said Joe.

"But look at the length of it," said the boss.

Fleeting Youth

George Edwards—old London Galety "gav'nor"—was a great believer in youth and good looks in his actresses, and he gave particular care to the selection of the "six little wives" in "San Toy," and, after the piece had run for some months, he was found at the back of the dress circle inspecting the stage critically through his opera glasses.

"Look at those girls," he groaned. "What is the matter?" asked his fidus Achates.

"Can't you see how old they're getting?"—Kansas City Star.

Citrus

One evening Mr. Brown was seated in the living room reading the paper when his little son John, age five, approached him, and asked:

"Papa, what is a lemon?"

"Why, a lemon is a citrus fruit. It's something that causes a bitter taste in your mouth," his father replied.

"Well, papa, if mother gives me that bad medicine tonight, will she be a lemon," Johnny inquired.

Same Term Applied

A golfing husband was entertaining a friend. They were left alone talking for some time after dinner. Then the wife entered the dining room to hear her husband pass some remark about "a hole in one."

"My goodness," she said. "Are you still talking about golf?"

"No, dear," said her husband, with a smile, "we're talking about socks."

"Run-Off" After Rainfall Affects Water Power

In the study of the matter of rainfall, it has been gradually realized that the "run-off" calls for just as much investigation as the precipitation. In fact, it has been found that the "run-off" is even more variable than the rainfall. The "run-off" is that part of rainfall which finds its way to the streams and is available for generating hydroelectric power. This "run-off" is not a fixed percentage. When the ground is very dry it absorbs all the rainfall and there is no "run-off." When the earth is saturated practically every drop of rainfall runs off. Thus, when a severe drought strikes an area usually well watered, the drop in "run-off" is much more pronounced than the shrinkage in precipitation. All of this has been known in a general way, but it has taken a prolonged dry spell to make it really appreciated, and water power plants that were planned from rainfall records without proper allowance for the still greater fluctuations in "run-off" have suffered.

The recognition of this relationship will undoubtedly save the industry many millions of dollars in unprofitable investments and will safeguard the consumer because of greater reserves that will be provided hereafter.

Wright Brothers Showed Genius in Early Years

According to the first biography of the inventors, "The Wright Brothers: Fathers of Flight," by John R. McMahon, they showed their inventive minds at an early age. When Orville was ten and Wilbur fourteen they constructed a wood-turning lathe out of lumber from the wood pile, parts from an old buggy and marbles for ball bearings. Its power plant was a foot treadle long enough to accommodate the feet of six boys. When Orville was seventeen and Wilbur twenty-one they built a printing press with a second-hand tombstone as the flat bed. Their first revolutionary discovery was made from a cardboard box from which Wilbur had just sold a bicycle inner tube. Orville had previously concluded that lateral balance would be necessary to successful flight. As his brother twisted the sides of the box he evolved the very principle they had been seeking. This became the warp which, in its present form of aileron, is essential to the sidewise balance of airplanes.

Insect Resembles Leaf

The walking leaf, an insect species the female in which has disguised herself to resemble vegetative life probably more cleverly than any other, comes originally from the island of Ceylon, but has been raised in Europe, whence eggs have been imported to America. When the young emerge from the eggs they are very active and a bright red in color, says Nature Magazine. They do much walking about, but do not begin to eat until they are about one week old. A week later they have begun to turn brown and by the time a fortnight has passed the females are green, which color they maintain until they perish. The older and larger they get—and they grow to be four inches long—the more they resemble a leaf. In their native country they feed on tea leaves and leaves of certain species of lemon trees.

Planned Great Memorial

Nearly 80 years ago a Santo Dominican, Don Antonio Delmonte y Telada, conceived the idea of a fitting memorial to Columbus. His proposal was: "Let us erect in the most visible and notable place in America, in a central point and where it may be visited by travelers as they approach her shores, the statue that his greatness and remembrance demand. Let this statue be a colossus like that of Rhodes, and let it be designed by the best sculptor available and with funds raised by popular subscription in all the cities of Europe and America, and let this statue have its arms extended and pointing to one and the other of the American continents."

Prickings of Conscience

The first contribution to the national conscience fund was made in 1811. Money received for this fund is not carried on the books of the Treasury department as such, but is listed as miscellaneous receipts. The amounts sent in range from two cents for a person who failed to put a stamp on a letter when mailed, to several thousand dollars from persons who smuggled goods into the United States without paying import duty. Usually the sums sent are small. The total amount sent in now amounts to about $578,000.

A Prompt Suggestion

"What can I do," roared the fiery orator during a demonstration, "when I see my country going to ruin, when I see our oppressors' hands at our throats, strangling us, and the black clouds of hopelessness and despair gathering on the horizon to obliterate the golden sun of prosperity? What, I ask you, What can I do?" "Sit down!" shouted the audience. —Toronto Globe.

feet which has been carrying gravel along narrow streets in Oak Hill from adjoining pits. Residents of Brookline and Vine streets have been protesting at the speed at which these big trucks were operated and as a result Serg. Cullen of the Newton police and Jeremiah Leary of the Registry of Motor Vehicles stopped a number of the trucks a couple of weeks ago and tested the brakes. Both these officers testified in court against the defendants. All the drivers pleaded guilty except James Barr of 306 Langley road, Newton Centre, who was represented by counsel and who showed a card to prove that when he had his brakes tested some days subsequent to their examination by the police, the equipment was found in good condition, according to the second test. He was found guilty and his case placed on file. Most of the other drivers were fined $10 each and three paid $5 each. Included among those fined were the following Newton residents: Domenic Gentile, 19 Gasbarri avenue, Newton Centre; Robert Groth, 167 Warren street, Newton Centre; Joseph Spizzano, 97 Florence street, Newton Centre; Joseph Cucci, 384 Langley road, Newton Centre.

George McLaughlin of 30 Hale street, Newton Upper Falls, was fined $100 in the Newton court Monday by Judge Bacon for driving while under the influence of liquor. The same day in court Arthur Connelly of 232 Derby street was charged with going away after an accident without revealing his identity. His case was continued to July 25.

Joseph Rembis of Methuen was arrested Saturday afternoon by Patrolmen Cummi and Dwyer charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. He will be tried July 30.

Sidney Morgan of Everett, a private detective, was fined $100 in the Newton court on Wednesday for driving while under the influence of liquor and $10 for using profanity. He appealed. Morgan was arrested on July 12 by Patrolmen Halloran and Marden. Halloran testified that he had been notified to go to a house on Fairview street after a neighbor had complained of noise there and that Morgan came to the door and slammed it in his face after announcing that he was a detective. The policeman testified that when the gathering at the house broke up about 2 o'clock in the morning he observed Morgan driving away in a car and stopped him. According to the officer's testimony Morgan was under the influence of liquor and used much profanity when placed under arrest. Patrolman Marden substantiated Halloran's testimony, as did Patrolmen Barr and Stevens who were on the police wagon.

Six autoists were fined $5 each in the Newton court last Friday for not slowing down while passing intersecting streets. The six were—Harold Hart, Leighton road, Wellesley; Norman Hovey, Wellesley; Adolph Gahn, Wellesley; James Davidson, Pine Plain road, Wellesley; Clyde Kelley, Brook street, Wellesley; Clayton Gwynn, Framingham. Joseph Comeau of Central street, Roslindale, was fined $10 for speeding. Eleven motorists were fined $5 each for not stopping before entering Washington street.

A young colts owned by Harold DeWolfe of 15 Dalby street was interned in a cell at Newton police headquarters last because he had been complained of by James Burns who resides at 15 Dalby street. Burns was bitten by the dog and Dr. Doyle of Natick, substitute for Dr. Boutelle was notified to inspect the animal.

Monday morning a phone call was received at Police Headquarters that some boys were appropriating automobile parts from the rear of the Liberty Motor Mart, Washington street, West Newton. Patrolman Hammill hastened to the scene and found three youths dissembling an old car and placing the parts in a small wagon to which was hitched a small horse. Hammill placed the junking crew under arrest and had the leader of the group, Pasquale Sarni, 17, of Everett avenue, Chelsea, drive the diminutive horse and wagon to police headquarters where Sarni and his two companions, one a Chelsea boy of 16 and the other a 15 year old Everett boy were booked for larceny. The horse and team belonged to Sarni's father, according to the boy's story and the trio had driven all the way from Chelsea to wealthy Newton to pick up a small load of junk. They apparently made no effort to appropriate junk with stealth as they were taking the old car parts in broad daylight right behind the garage. They are to appear in the Newton court today.

Old Trail Still Used
The Grand Portage originally was a nine-mile trail that ran west from Grand Portage, Minn., to the Pigeon river, in the east tip of the Arrowhead country. It was built by fur traders in 1783 and was the first white man's road in the state. Its outline can still be traced today and part of it is in use.

MR. COLBY EXONERATED

Mr. Herbert W. Colby of Newton Highlands will have the sympathy of his many friends on his misfortune to be involved in a fatal automobile accident. The accident took place last week Thursday on the Daniel Webster highway a short distance from Manchester, N. H. Mr. Colby was driving his car when a machine in front came to a sudden stop in the middle of the road without giving any signal. As Mr. Colby passed this car, a woman stepped directly in the path of his car and he did not have time to stop. The woman, Mrs. Josephine Grenier, aged 77 years, was taken to the hospital where she died that evening. The state police investigated the accident and completely exonerated Mr. Colby from any blame in the unfortunate affair.

EMBLEM CLUB GIVES OUTING TO CHILDREN

Fifty young children of this city had a happy day Wednesday at Nantasket through the generosity of the Emblem Club of Newton. The joyful youngsters departed at 9:45 a. m. from the Elks Home in a special bus which was followed to Nantasket by cars containing a committee of ten comprised of the "Big Sister Committee" of the Newton Emblem Club. This committee furnished each of the children with a lunch and the youngsters were afforded the little ones to enjoy some of the amusements at the beach. Mrs. George Brophy of Abundale was chairman of the committee in charge of this affair.

LIGHTNING HITS NONANTUM HOUSE

The lightning storm on Monday evening did considerable damage to trees and wires in this city. One bolt hit the new house at 118 Chapel street, Nonantum, owned and occupied by Louis Zazzera. Hose 8 responded to a still alarm and little damage was done to the building.

DOG BITES NONANTUM MAN

Louis DeGorio of 3 Emerald street, Nonantum, was attacked by a dog on Wednesday night and bitten. The dog is the property of C. J. Spaine of 12 Green street. It is ordered restrained and Dr. Boutelle notified to examine it.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT STAFF ATTENDS OUTING

Among those who attended the annual outing of the Massachusetts Association of Boards of Health at the Hood Farm, Bedford, were Dr. Francis G. Curtis, Dr. Fred M. Lowe, Irving House and Miss Myra Doherty. Dr. Curtis won the golf putting contest and Mr. House took first prize in the pipe contest.

Eye to Eye

A gentleman never dodges; his eyes look straight forward, and he assures the other party, first of all, that he has been met.—Emerson.

Tropical Animals That

Once Lived in Britain

There are many mammals in our zoological gardens which we look upon as strange beasts and associate with tropical countries, or places quite as remote. But many of these great creatures were at one time roaming over the forests, mountains, and plains of Britain, for in those far-off days our country was joined to Europe, so that many animals in their treks found shelter here.

At one time the hippopotamus was fairly common in and on the borders of our rivers. This huge creature was to be found on most of the English and many of the Welsh rivers south of Lancashire and Durham. In that distant age, known as the Pleistocene epoch, before the glacial episodes, the hippopotamus traveled north as far as Yorkshire, and this animal was identical with the African species of the present day.

In the earlier Pliocene epoch a gigantic swine, as large as the tapir, reached England, and it may have lingered on to the time when man first took up his abode here, but with this exception the wild boar is the only wild pig that we know to have frequented this country. The latter remained in the great forests to the end of the Seventeenth century, the last recorded specimen being killed in Staffordshire in 1683.—London Tit-Bits.

Salt Important Part

in Rites of Sacrifice

The first accredited mention of salt appears in the first books of Moses, where it is referred to as an essential part in many of the sacrifices of the Jews. The most familiar Bible reference to salt is in Genesis ix, 26, in which Lot's wife was turned into a pillar of that valuable commodity—probably to the great enjoyment of the goats, sheep and cattle of that district.

The next most familiar Bible reference to salt is that in Matthew v, 13—"If the salt has lost his savor, wherewith shall it be salted?" Other references in the New Testament are Mark ix, 49-50, and Colossians iv, 6. Homer, 800 years before Christ, speaks of salt in the Greek sacrificial rites; no sacrifice was complete without it. Herodotus, who was born in 484 B. C., says the Egyptians ate salted food, including raw fish that was first steeped in brine and then sun-dried. They must have been exactly like the Gloucester salt fish of today, or the Provincetown scull-joes. The Egyptians also ate raw duck and quail, salted in similar fashion.—Boston Globe.

Colonial Architecture

When speaking of Colonial buildings, none should be included of a date later than 1776. In New England most of the buildings of Colonial times were of wood and were built by carpenters who were also shipbuilders. These artisans developed a style that had a flavor of its own, and differed in many respects as to detail from that done in New York, where the settlers had a Dutch background, which was again different from the English background of New England. The Colonial style of Pennsylvania is characterized by sturdiness and solidity. Most of the buildings were of brick or stone and the detail was not so delicate as that of New England.

Buffalo Bill Preferred

Warren accompanied his parents on a visit to his grandmother's house. After dinner he wished to go outside and play with Shep, a big dog belonging to the family next door. However, when his grandmother asked whether he would like her to tell him some stories, he eagerly agreed.

"Now," said his grandmother, "do you want me to tell you about Little Red Riding Hood or Cinderella or the Gingerbread Man?"

Warren moved uneasily in his chair and then replied: "Well, grandma, if you don't know any stories about Buffalo Bill, I think I'd rather play with Shep."

Historic American Flag

The flag which floated over Fort Melleny in 1814 and inspired Francis Scott Key to write "The Star Spangled Banner," is in the National museum in Washington. It was preserved by Col. George Armstrong, the commander of the fort during the bombardment, and was bequeathed to his daughter, Georgianna, and presented by her son, Eben Appleton, to the museum. The flag at present is about 28 by 34 feet in size, and in accordance with the regulation design of the United States flag during the War of 1812-14 has 15 stars and 15 stripes.

Bible and the Ballot Box

An amusing election incident is reported from Gahlong, in Czechoslovakia there is compulsory voting. The drawback is that it deprives citizens of the opportunity of expressing by abstention their indifference to the candidates. One voter, however, wrote across his paper: "Isaiah xlii, 24." The authorities consulted a Bible and read: "Behold, ye are of nothing, and your work of nought; an abomination is he that chooses you."

Discouraged

Martha Anne, a first grade pupil, came home from school a little tired and vexed. Things had not gone to suit her, for this is what she told her mother:

"Well, if I had my life to live over I certainly wouldn't go to school."

Language Changes Made

Over "Precise" Protests

Until about the middle of the Nineteenth century it was usual in pronouncing the word humble to refrain from sounding the h. Generally the word was preceded by an instead of by a. The changing to sounding the h came gradually as a matter of usage, as many changes in language come. In the end usage must be followed, though precise speakers resist it for a time. Even in fairly recent years a few persons persisted in pronouncing humble without the h. The variation you have observed on this point between an early and a later edition of Webster's dictionary is accounted for by acceptance of the change by the later editors. The gradual alteration in usage concerning the word humble was a subject of protest as long ago as 1853, when a correspondent of the periodical "Notes and Queries" illustrated his contention that the h should be silent by giving a list of what he stated to be the derivations of words in which the h should be silent. The words were heir, honest, honor, hour, humble and humor.

Of Course Henry Had

Sent That Letter, but—

He kicked off his wet shoes, slid his tired feet into a pair of carpet slippers, lit his pipe, sat down in the easy chair with a sigh of relief, and declared that 20,000 wild horses couldn't make him stir from the house until the following morning.

"Henry," said his wife, "you posted that letter I gave you this morning, I suppose?"

"I did, my love," he answered, unblushingly.

"I asked mother to postpone her visit for a while," his wife continued, "you see—"

Henry did so. His wife saw, too, what she saw was the tired man jump from his chair, kick off his slippers, put on his shoes, and slip out into the murky street. And when five minutes later, Henry came back with the tale that he had been to see how the thermometer outside the post office stood, she smiled.

Spanish Homes

Of all the Mediterranean styles of architecture in use today, there is probably none more popular or better known, especially for residential purposes, than the Spanish with its life and color.

The Spanish, having apparently been a home-loving race, developed their residential architecture to a higher degree than any other type of building. Where the Greek masterpieces are found in religious buildings, as is the case in most historical styles, the Spanish seem to have studied architecture from a livable point of view. Their principal contribution being residential, the Spanish house was designed for its owner's comfort in every way possible.

Stone Newspapers

Newspapers in the form of large stone tablets have been discovered during excavations at Ostia, in Italy. One is said to record the death of Pompey in 49 B. C., and the will of Julius Caesar with his bequests to the people of Rome. Because of his dispatches from the war in Gaul, Caesar is often called the father of journalism, but it seems that Cicero, born in 106 B. C., has a greater claim to his distinction. Cicero used to post in the galleries of his villa at Tusculum a record or journal of the passing events of note, with a list of births, deaths, and marriages. From a letter of Cicero's it is known that he used a system of abbreviated writing.

"Underground Railway"

The name of the system used to help slaves to freedom, the "Underground Railway" arose from the exaggerated use of railway terms in reference to the conduct of the system. Levi Coffin and Robert Purvis were the presidents of the road. Various routes were known as lines, stopping places were called stations, those who aided the system were called conductors, and the slaves were referred to as packages or freight. The system reached from Kentucky and Virginia across Ohio, and from Maryland across Pennsylvania and New York or New England.

"Old Nick" in Ireland

Because Ireland is the island of the saints, the Irish are not afraid of the devil, though he has left his mark in many parts of the Emerald Isle. In beautiful Wicklow is the Devil's Glen, cut out by the angry slashing of Old Nick's tail when he failed to lure a fair maiden from her convent. In Tipperary is the Devil's Bit—a huge bite taken out of the mountain range and spat down to the plain below, where it still stands as the Rock of Cashel. Then, of course, in Kilmarney is the Devil's Punch Bowl—but all it contains in these days is pure water.

Ancient Counterfeiters

Money forging was a flourishing business among the ancient Romans, judging from finds at Treves, Prussia, of tools and matrices for the coining of denarii. Excavations brought to light a great many matrices and castings made of bronze which were used to manufacture these silver coins. Proof that these implements, dating back to between 260 and 300 A. D., were tools of money forgers, is established by the fact that there was then no official mint at Treves.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Ellihu Root wants the United States to organize Federal police to combat communism. A better way for the United States to combat communism would be to devise ways and means to give employment to the millions who need work and cannot obtain it.

Recently a number of houses in this city were broken into by a boy who was apprehended and sent to a correctional institution. The names of the owners of these houses and the locations were not given to the press. The press was also supposed to keep very mum regarding the thefts by boys of a dozen, or more bicycles. The police have been instructed by persons active in correctional work not to give any information to the press regarding crimes committed by juveniles under 17 years of age.

Heretofore, the papers have co-operated to a large degree in refraining from publishing the names of juvenile offenders, unless juveniles became repeated offenders or the offences were of such a nature that publicity was warranted. Efforts made by persons philanthropically inclined to shield youthful offenders from publicity are commendable, unless the juveniles persist in disregarding laws. But, when the "soft pedal" stuff expands to include not only the names of young culprits, but also any mention of the misdemeanors or crimes they may commit, it would seem that clemency becomes confused with coddling. If a dozen, or more boys have their bicycles stolen, they are entitled to some public information when such loot is recovered. If many houses in a community have been burglarized and people become naturally nervous and apprehensive, publicity that the burglary campaign has been solved is desirable, even if the names of the burglars are kept secret.

Probation work to assist youngsters from being plunged into careers of crime is commendable. But complete "hush-hush" concerning all transgressions by juveniles will not tend to lessen crime. The records of many of our hardened young criminals in late years, young men and youths who ended up by becoming murderers, showed that they had been the recipients (or victims) of too much mercy. Certain types of humans, both young and old, appreciate kindness and profit by it. Extending kindness to others encourages them in perversity. Pitiless publicity is to be condemned. So is any attempt to prevent all publicity, especially when a reasonable amount of it undoubtedly acts upon the great majority of persons as a deterrent against infringing on the rights of others.

There are two distinct nuisances in Waltham. One of recent origin, the other existent for years. The first is—the low level of water in the Charles River. The second is—the extremely noisy fire alarm signal. Not only does this big horn awaken Waltham residents at all hours of the night with disagreeable frequency, but it also spoils the sleep of residents of the north side of Newton. It is a relic of the days of volunteer fire departments and ought to be discontinued. Perhaps if it were stopped there would be fewer false alarms in Waltham.

The late George M. Cox was a distinct asset to this city during his almost life-long residence here. He served capably and intelligently in helping develop this community. For many years he was the principal factor in the operation of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway, in the days before automobiles were common and when a large percentage of residents of this city had to depend on electric cars. Mr. Cox worked hard to provide good transportation facilities for the people of Newton, and he was fair and square to his subordinates. During his six years service as a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen he established a reputation for courage and honesty. Straightforward and frank, a hater of sham and insincerity, he will be missed by his many friends and admirers.

The "human form divine" is now known to be far from divine. So many human forms are exposed as bathers ride or walk along our streets clad in abbreviated bathing suits, that persons have to witness so many specimens of masculine and feminine "beauty" that it is now fully realized there are comparatively few who rival Venus and Apollo.

Realizing that Crystal Lake is a still body of water it is well that the bathhouse is finished and that persons bathing in this lake will take shower baths before entering the pond. Because of the thousands who bathe in a comparatively small area of still water, the danger of diseases being communicated certainly is within the realm of probabilities.

Frank W. Chase, principal of the Bigelow School has gone to his summer home at Belfast, Maine, after having returned from an automobile trip of 3500 miles which took him to Kansas City, Missouri and the Ozarks. Mr. Chase reports that the weather in the Middle West was even more dry than that which New England experienced lately.

NEWTON GIRL SAVES BOY

Miss Jean Frost of West Newton recently won distinction in the saving of a three year old boy at Plymouth, Mass. The youngster had been playing with a group of children on the sand and, losing interest in their play, wandered out into the water beyond his depth. The girl was attracted by his cries and jumped in after him. The child is the son of a Philadelphia family, the name of which has not been revealed. Jean is the sixteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic A. Frost of West Newton and a senior in the Newton High School.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

Beneath her magic canopy, Gypsy Josephine, children's entertainer, will present a spectacular and mystifying novelty program featuring the wonderful new "black light" or near ultra-violet ray, at the Children's Museum of Boston, Olmstead Park, Jamaica Plain, on Sunday, July 27, at 3:30. Admission is free.

Rarely has so unique an entertainment been offered the young patrons of the Children's Museum. The hall will be dark, as for a motion picture show. Out of the darkness, at the press of a button, strange objects will glow in all colors of the rainbow. We shall see a little girl in a whitish dress which has been especially painted with ultra-violet paint, become a beautiful little fairy with shimmering wings, straight from Fairyland. A Bogey Man will appear, dance grotesquely and disappear in the darkness again. Little Miss Muffet, sitting quite alone on her tuffet, will find a big green spider beside her when the magic light is turned on. A pirate ship will suddenly loom on the horizon of an ordinary sea picture.

About 350-400 children a day are visiting the Museum in groups from play groups, vacation schools, settlement houses, etc. Each group receives a special tour about the Museum, with stories about the exhibits, and a motion picture travel talk some time during the day.

The Museum is open daily all summer, from 9 to 5; Sundays 1:30 to 5. Admission is free.

SAVED FROM ASPHYXIA

Monday morning as Frank Barnes of 171 Felton street, Waltham, was proceeding to his work he travelled through Blake street, a narrow lane which runs from Cabot street, Newtonville, to Mill street. At the gravel pit on Blake street Barnes discovered a closed car containing an unconscious man. A tube had been attached to the exhaust of the car and carried through the cowl ventilator and the carbon-monoxide fumes had apparently been entering the car.

Barnes notified the police and the ambulance hastened the occupant of the car to the Newton Hospital where his name was placed on the danger list. He was identified as Charles E. Prowtown of 71 Westchester road, Newton, a salesman. Prowtown is married and has several children.

The Children will soon cry for lighter underwear. Try the Factory Store of Dalby on Morse Street for savings on samples and irregulars in Kiddeys Union Suits.—Advertisement.

that the Junior Camp and some of the new buildings will be located on this land.

A new Basket Ball court has been built by the campers. It was necessary to cut down only one tree in the process. This was used to make standards to hold the baskets at either end. The boys have rolled and filled in the court and aided by the recent rains the surface should soon be ready for playing.

At the chapel service last Sunday,
Mr. Clyde G. Hess, Camp Director, was the speaker. Mr. Charles D. Kepner, Chairman of the Camp Committee offered the prayer. Two boys played a duet on their flutes and a trio in which Dr. H. P. Freeman took the solo part added greatly to the attractiveness of this worship service held in the out door chapel.

Books for the library have been received from Mrs. W. H. Barker and Mrs. C. B. Cotting. A motion picture entertainment was provided by Mr.
Ralph L. Blake of Watertown, while
Mr. Charles E. Dolan of Newton presented the camp with a new flag.
Dad's week will be held Aug. 1 to 5th. This will give the dads and their boys an opportunity to work and play together. What better way of getting acquainted could there be arranged?

Y. M. C. A. BOYS' DIVISION

Monday morning the members of the Midgits baseball team received instructions in batting from Ray Clarke, Bill Lamsed and W. Cranow of the Junior Baseball team. This proved to be of value to the team for on Tuesday morning they met and defeated the Morse Street Tigers 8-4.
On Tuesday afternoon a group of the boys visited the plant of the Boston Woven Hose and Rubber Co. at Cambridge and spent a very interesting two hours learning how rubber matting, tape, hose and belting are made.

Tuesday evening marked a banner date for the employed boys for in addition to their swim there was movies from seven o'clock until the time for their keys to be given out.

Wednesday morning again brought a group of Greater Boston Boys to enjoy the privileges of the Newton
"Y" from 10 A. M. until 3 P. M. In addition to their movies they were given samples of Baker's Chocolates and Life Savers supplied through the courtesy of their producers.

The movies and candy were also on hand for the members of the Boys' Division immediately after their daily swim.

Thursday morning the Midgits again practised and in the afternoon a group of mass games were put on for the boys.

Friday marked the first bicycle trip of the season and for tomorrow, Saturday, there is another baseball game for the Midgits with the Burr Midgits.

The weekly program keeps the boys busy every day and plans are now under way for trips to Provincetown and Plymouth as well as to the various museums and points of interest in and around Boston.

Find Structure Erected by Babylonian Monarch

A temple built by Nebuchadnezzar in approximately 600 B. C. has been discovered in Ur of the Chaldees by excavation of what appeared to be an insignificant mound. C. Leonard Woolley, director of the joint archaeological expedition maintained at Ur by the University of Pennsylvania and the British museum, reported that the temple is in the best state of preservation of any ever found in Mesopotamia.
The structure, which was added to and restored by Nabonidus, 50 years after it was built, lies in the inner corner of the northern harbor at Ur and was concealed by a mound whose excavation the expedition undertook "for topographical reasons." "What makes the building in every way remarkable is its condition," Woolley declared.
"The walls stand without exception to a height of nearly 20 feet and even the whitewash on them remains in good condition. In all Iraq there is no other temple so well preserved. We have not attempted to clear the outside of the temple, but once inside one obtains an astonishing effect of completeness. This is the only place in Iraq where one can stand in a Babylonian temple and forget for a moment that it is a ruin."

First Canadian Post Office

A historic tablet, in Halifax, commemorates the following: "In 1755 a line of packets was placed on the route between Falmouth and New York. This was part of a general scheme for closer and more regular communication between the colonies and the mother country. These packets called at Halifax. In that year and in Montreal was established the first post office in the Dominion of Canada as now constituted."

Our Debt to the Indian

People fail to realize how great an influence the red men have had on our present thought, religion, and language. Every town, county, and state is filled with Indian names. Our school books are full of Indian proverbs and our very characters are modified and often molded by our contact with the red men of the wilderness. There is scarcely a doubt that the dignity, reserve, and stately mien for which George Washington was famous were derived from his experience and training in the councils of the Indians. Every cigarette smoker of today is but making a white man's vice of a religious ceremony of the red men. Snowshoes, birch-bark canoes from which our canyons are modeled, the game of lacrosse, and the sign language, are examples of the inventions of our Indians.—Dan Beard in Boys' Life.

Cowboys' Gorgeous Attire

The Hungarian cowboy presents an appearance entirely unlike the typical cowboy of the American continent.
He wears laces and embroidery and a skirt rich with decorations. In his hat he has a bright feather. His coat or jacket is filled with gay embroidery and has large flowing sleeves of lace.
The skirt reaches to his ankles and is likewise richly worked in fanciful design. Below it, however, he wears trousers and shoes of sturdy manufacture. This garb is a traditional one which has been worn for centuries and the men are very proud of their appearance. This is their holiday dress and is modified to a considerable extent for everyday purposes.

"Big Money" Common

Some of the coins in use in the South Sea Islands, we read, weigh as much as half a pound each. It is almost impossible to avoid earning big money there.—London Humorist.

Saved "Bonny Prince"

Flora MacDonald was a Scottish woman of the MacDonald clan, born 1720, died 1790. Like others of her clan, she was a supporter of Prince Charles. After the battle of Culloden, 1746, in which the Scottish troops were defeated, Charles was obliged to flee and took refuge at Benbecula, where Flora lived. She disguised the prince as a maid servant to herself, and traveled on horseback and passed through many dangers, finally reaching the island of Skye in safety, from which the prince made his escape.
Flora was tried and imprisoned for assisting him in his escape, but was finally released in 1747. In 1750 she married Allen MacDonald, a kinsman, and came to America, 1774.
She died in 1790, and the Flora Mac-Donald college was organized as a memorial in 1836.

Beautiful Danish Girls

Every one is interested in the various types of girlhood found in the different countries of Europe from the light-hearted Parisian to the shy Swedish maiden. The girl you meet on her bicycle in the streets of Copenhagen and the lass you see in the country dressed in her colorful Hedebo costume, differ widely in temperament and looks. It is the latter girl, however, whom the tourist will remember longest because they combine in their faces and equipment that rare combination of simple beauty and good training for housewifery. If beauty contests were held in Denmark there would not be enough prizes to go around, yet every beauty knows how to cook, mend and run a farm.—Ex-
